DISPUTE BLOCKS ERP APPROVAL

Reds Inch Way Into U.S. Area

Maps Touch Off More Disputes

BERLIN —(AP)— The Russians tried vainly yesterday to inch onto American soil in Berlin.

They even brought along their own maps of the quartered city in an effort to redraw the boundary lines by a matter of inches. Like everything else in the east-west dispute, their maps disagreed with the American maps.

The arguments involved only one yard of territory in one case and a matter of inches in another, but it made Germans living nearby restive and nervous.

Russians maintaining the blockade of western Berlin tried to arrest several Germans filling in a ditch. American police arrived and argued with the Russians. Both pulled out maps. The American map showed the Germans were one yard inside the U. S. sector. The Russian map disagreed. The Germans dropped their ditch-filling task and there the matter stood without further trouble.

MATTER OF INCHES

Meanwhile, in another border area, Soviet sector police tried to seize a German truck loaded with tires and invaded a warehouse where it was loaded. The Germans summoned American military police and then a Russian officer joined in.

The dispute involved inches of soil. The road the Russian blockaders were patrolling was in the Russian sector, but the warehouse and the sidewalk, by American reckoning, were in U. S. territory.

Again, the argument was a standoff.

Both cases were referred to higher levels.

American public safety officials did not look on the incidents lightly, though the land involved is small.

"There are hundreds of little points to argue about if their maps disagree with ours," said one American officer, who asked not to be quoted by name. "And there are thousands of Germans right on these borders who would have to worry all the time whose one they were in. It's a pretty good war of nerves against the Germans."

Chief Gets New Trial

HARLAN, Ky. —(AP)— Evarts Police Chief Isachar Combs and Evarts policeman Lewis Deaton, under conviction of manslaughter with a recommended 10-year sentence each, were granted a new trial yesterday.

Special Judge B. B. Snyder granted the new trials and set their bonds at $15,000 each.

At the same time, Judge Snyder warned both men to stay away from Evarts and leave the collection of evidence to their attorneys. He said he would call the case May 2 for setting a date for the new trial.

Combs and Deaton were convicted of manslaughter in connection with the fatal shooting of Bryan Middletown, Evarts cafe owner, last Dec. 17.

Judge Snyder also said the Louisville Courier-Journal was in contempt of court for an editorial it published about the trial and suggested that commonwealth's attorney Daniel Boone Smith file such a contempt motion. Smith said he would comply.

One of the grounds for allowing the new trial, Judge Snyder said, was the report that members of the trial jury read an account of the trial in the Harlan Daily Enterprise.

Ashland To Skip Primary

By VIRGINIA LEED
N-J State Correspondent

ASHLAND—There will be no primary election in Ashland in May since no contests developed at the Saturday night deadline for filing of petitions by candidates for nomination for city offices.

Unless some additional candidates circulate petitions prior to the November election, the election will be a walkaway for nearly all those who have filed. The only offices for which there are contests at present are the post of director of law and two council seats.

Under Ashland's special charter form of non-partisan government, two candidates may be nominated for each office in the primary. In cases of competition by more than two candidates, the two receiving the highest vote totals oppose each other in the fall regardless of political party affiliation.

MAYOR UNOPPOSED

Mayor Louis E. Mansfield is without opposition for renomination for mayor, the office he has held for one term. Tom V. Withers is the lone candidate for nomination as director of finance, in which he is serving his first full term.

Frederick Johnson and Paul Chorpening, two of Ashland's newest attorneys, seek the office of director of law, now held by Attorney C. S. Huffman who is not seeking renomination.

All present council members have filed for renomination with Thomas F. Walker, a newcomer, filing for the second ward council position vacated by the recent death of Councilman Harold Rader.

Seeking the same office is Richard Taxton, former city councilman, who was appointed to fill the vacancy after Mr. Rader's death.

A two-man race is also on for the fourth ward council seat between Howard A. Saner (incumbent) and O. H. Parkinson.

Other council candidates, all incumbents, are Chester Willis, councilman-at-large; David Lutz, first ward; and Howard F. Barnhill, third ward.

300 Termed Delinquent

Nearly 300 personal property-holders were listed as delinquent yesterday by County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe because they failed to file returns by the Friday night deadline.

Wolfe said 5,000 tax forms were mailed by his office, but only about 4,700 have come back. There is a 10 per cent penalty for failing to file on time.

Taxpayers have until April 10 to pay their first-half personal tax.

Personal tax is payable on office and factory equipment, inventories, and other personal property.

Caution Urged By Fire Chief

Fire Chief L. J. Steele repeated his warning about grass fires Saturday as trucks from Central station were called to extinguish a grass fire at 5:45 p. m. yesterday, just outside the city limits on Park avenue west.

The fire department will burn off any vacant lot in the city limits free of charge, the chief said, as he warned against individuals attempting to do the job themselves.

Each spring the department makes a number of fire runs caused by grass fires, the chief stated. When a person attempts to burn off a lot there is a danger the fire may get out of control and cause property damage or possible injury.

Eleven Draw Fines After Gaming Raid

ALLIANCE — (AP) — Eleven persons were fined from $10 to $200 on gambling charges yesterday following a raid on a poolroom.

It was the first official evidence of gambling since a rigid law enforcement program was ordered a month ago.

KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Jack Poldruki, 41, a bakery driver-salesman, was killed yesterday in a three-car collision.

BIG, ISN'T IT?—Dean Rabal thinks the largest kite entered in the Mansfield Kite Carnival yesterday is 'pretty big.' In looking it over, he discovered the kite was nearly two feet taller than himself. Dean is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rabal, 268 Myers avenue. The kite was built by George Siciliano and Bill Jamison.

Registration Deadline Set

Primary Election Activity Light

Monday is the last day to register or transfer for the May primaries.

County election board officials said yesterday the board office in the courthouse would close as usual at 4 p. m., unless there is a last-minute jam.

Registrations have been light, board officials said, only five persons visiting the office Saturday and three Friday.

The light registration is due primarily to the fact that most Mansfielders are registered since they voted in the general election last November, officials said.

Only Mansfield and Madison township residents are required to register. New voters and persons who have failed to vote at the last two general elections must register. Changes of address since the last election must be reported to the election board.

Rep. White Out of Jail

SPOKANE, Wash. —(AP)—Compton I. White, a 71-year-old congressman from Idaho, was released from the city jail yesterday after he paid a fine of $100 and $4.70 court costs.

He was convicted in police court on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The charge arose from an argument over a parking ticket placed on White's car.

His court appearance ended an 18-hour stay in the jail. For 10 of the hours he could have been free on bond but refused to leave.

Weatherman Fails Contestants

Breezes Too Mild, Kites 'Grounded'

There just wasn't enough wind yesterday for boys who fly kites.

The "calm" nearly ruined the kite carnival at Liberty park where about 20 boys competed for prizes.

The bigger kites wouldn't leave the ground, and the boys wished in vain for a few brisk breezes, even if they were blasts from the cold north.

Contestants tested their kites at the Liberty park baseball diamond. The contest was sponsored by the City Recreation department and the YMCA.

Due to the wind, or rather the lack of it, the altitude, messenger, and most unique kite parts of the contest were postponed until Easter vacation, Ralph Juniper, chief judge for the kite festival, said.

Juniper, mathmatics teacher at Senior high agreed with the other two judges, Stanley Kamen of the recreational department, and John Fike, of the YMCA, there should be a better day for the contest during Easter vacation and the date would be announced later.

Since many of the boys and girls don't get their kites built in time, the judges said more boys would have a chance to enter the later contest.

Prizes of sporting equipment, pocket knives and watches were awarded, however, in three of the contest qualifications.

The carnival was divided into two age groups: class A for 13-to-16 year-old boys and girls, and class B for those 12 and under.

Bill Jamison won first prize in the 100 yard dash in class A, and Kenneth Bogner placed first in class B. The largest kite at the field in class A won Paul Light a prize, and Paul Hurlburt came through to win the award in class B.

Bill Jamison's kite won him another prize in the smallest kite group as did the kite of Kenneth Bogner.

Girl Missing At Ashland

An extensive search has been launched by Ashland officials for the missing key witness in a rape and incest trial, Ashland county Sheriff M. F. Rickenbrod revealed last night.

The witness, 14-year-old Sylvia Benepe, is believed to be "out of the city," Sheriff Rickenbrod said.

The young girl was the complaining witness against her father, John Benepe, who is now under indictment on three charges of incest and rape.

The child was last seen near the Arthur street school at about noon Friday, at which time some of the children reported seeing her walk away with an unidentified woman.

Police Chief Harry L. Smith asserted last night that officers are checking on a blue car seen near the school at the time of the girl's disappearance.

Street Job To Cost $67,400

Council Gets Repair Program

An ambitious street resurfacing program that will cost an estimated $67,400 will be considered by city council at its meeting Wednesday night.

Six city streets are included in the program that will cost the city $33,782 and the property owners on these streets an additional $33,618.

Cost of five of the street resurfacing projects will be divided equally between the city and the property owners, with the city assuming the cost at intersections and alleys. Property owners' share of the cost will be assessed on a footage basis.

Included will be the resurfacing of Bowman street from West Fifth street to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and from the Erie railroad to Springmill street. This project would cost the city $6,000 and property owners $5,300.

CITY PAYS $8,400

South Adams street, from East First street to Diamond street would be resurfaced at a cost of $6,000 to property owners. The city's share would be $8,400.

The city will assume only the cost at intersections and two per cent of the remaining cost for the proposed paving of Shady Lane from Park avenue west to the south end of the street.

Council will consider the resurfacing of State street at a cost to the city of $2,382. The property owners' share would be $2,218.

Resurfacing of Taylor road from Arlington avenue to Millsboro road will be considered. This project would cost the city $4,200 and property owners $4,200.

The largest of the proposed projects is resurfacing of West Sixth street from Mulberry to Sycamore street at a cost to the city of $13,200. The property owners' share would be $9,200.

Conference Scheduled

City Manager Backers to Meet

The first step in the formation of a permanent organization to sponsor a council-manager city government for Mansfield will take place at a meeting scheduled at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Chamber of Commerce assembly room in the Farmers Bank building.

Notices of the meeting have been sent to nearly 100 persons who have already expressed active interest in the movement and the group has been ask to bring others who are interested in the plan.

Tuesday's meeting is open to all Mansfielders J. C. Gorman and James L. Young, temporary co-chairmen of the organization, announced.

Thorough discussion of the council-manager form of municipal government, reports on the extent of the movement nationally, and the necessary steps for bringing the issue before Mansfield voters, will be included on Tuesday's program.

An active sponsoring committee of at least 100 persons representative of all phases of living in Mansfield is the immediate objective of the movement's organizers.

Plans for a large public meeting, with an address by a recognized authority on the council-manager government, will also be discussed.

'Atomic Pig' Retires From Public Life

WASHINGTON —(AP)— First they lock you in a washroom. Then they throw an atom bomb at you. Then the ship sinks. And now they're going to put you in the zoo.

It shouldn't happen to a pig. But it did.

The navy has announced that "Pig No. 311"—survivor of the Bikini A-bomb experiments—is being turned over to the National Zoological park.

Pact Envoys Formally OK Treaty

Reject Charges Made By Moscow

12 Atlantic pact foreign ministers rejected outright yesterday Soviet Russia's charge the treaty is aggressive in intent and directed against the Soviet Union.

In their first formal meeting, they also unanimously approved without change the text of the treaty to be signed here Monday.

A statement adopted by the group as its first action said that the treaty text refutes the charge Moscow made Friday. The western representatives said that complaint from Russia included "misrepresentation."

"The text makes clear the completely defensive nature of this pact, its conformity with both the spirit and letter of the charter of the United Nations, and also the fact that the pact is not directed against any nation or group of nations, but only against armed aggression," the statement concluded.

In their meeting today, the foreign ministers of Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, Iceland, Italy, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, the United Kingdom and the U. S. secretary of state also took two other actions. An official communique reported them as follows:

1. They "formally approved" the text of the 20-year treaty. It would pledge the United States and each of the other powers to join in resisting an attack against any of the 12 nations.

2. They decided that an Atlantic council provided for in the treaty should be "composed of foreign ministers or other representatives of governments."

They agreed it should meet as soon as the treaty goes into effect and should then set up a defense committee.

The top diplomats of the western world thus got off to a quick start on creating the peace machinery for the alliance.

Calls OSR Inmates 'Too Wild'

An 18-year-old youth who claims his "past experiences" have convinced him there are too many "kids with a wild attitude" in reformatories is due to join those already at OSR this week.

The "expert", James A. Patrick of Dayton, has been sentenced to one to 20 years for auto theft and 10 to 25 years on an armed robbery charge.

Common Pleas Judge Calvin Crawford of Dayton failed to see the light and sentenced Patrick to the reformatory.

The youth had requested that he be sent to the penitentiary.

War Refugees Sail In April

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The International Refugee organization has announced that 10 ships bringing 8,500 displaced persons to the United States are scheduled to leave Germany during April.

The first four vessels will dock at Boston, the remainder at New York.

Training Pays

NEW YORK —(AP)— As a paratrooper, Louis Alonzo learned how to land when dropping violently. Discovering the hallway and stairs swept by flames, the 27-year-old veteran took his family to a rear window, where he jumped 45 feet to the ground. Mrs. Alonzo then threw down their 10-months-old baby girl and their four-year-old son. Alonzo caught them without mishap.

Chinese Aid Sets Off Row

British Admit Selling Jets

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A dispute over aiding China, coupled with a shortage of senators on a spring Saturday afternoon, forced the Senate to postpone its final decision on the European Aid bill until next week.

Earlier, the senators were told that Great Britain shipped some jet airplane engines to Russia after the war, but stopped deliveries late in 1947. That information, from Secretary of Defense Johnson, was read to the Senate as it debated the $5,580,000,000 authorization bill with only a few members on hand.

The squabble over China was set off by Senator Knowland (R-Calif). He wanted to authorize the President to use an estimated $54,000,000 unspent balance of China aid funds to help areas of China so far not overrun by the communists.

Senator Elbert Thomas (D-Utah), a former Mormon missionary in the Orient, objected strongly. Adoption of Knowland's plan, he said, would be "an open invitation to mob violence on the part of the hungry Chinese—it might stir up and re-open all the kinds of disorders we're trying to avoid."

He asked Knowland to consider the position of an aid official in China with tons of food which were to be denied nearby starving persons because they were in an area designated communist dominated.

"This would cause the worst kind of disorder we've seen," Thomas said.

CONNALLY ANGERED

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Foreign Relations committee also questioned Knowland's proposal. When Knowland said that this country's tactics in China are giving the communists a chance to put China's millions behind the iron curtain, Connally shouted:

"Every time you hear a bush rattle, there's a communist behind it!"

Knowland replied, with heat, that he was representing California, which is vitally interested in what happens in China.

The objections by Thomas and Connally blocked action on the proposal before Monday, when the Senate resumes the debate after a week-end recess. A stack of two dozen amendments awaited action.

On the showdown, it appeared highly likely that the administration will get the entire $5,580,000,000 authorization it asked. Two attempts to slash it were beaten Friday night.

Angry Man Kills Three

DETROIT —(AP)— Detroit Police Inspector Thomas Wysocki said last night that a mother and her two children were shot to death late yesterday by her father.

He identified the victims as Mrs. Ruth Einstandig, 31, and her children, Marc, 8, and Marcia, 3.

Wysocki said that after the shooting the assailant, whom he identified as Isaac Lublin, 65, went to another residence a mile away and shot William Crane, 23, before firing a bullet into his own head.

Both Lublin and Crane were reported in serious condition at Receiving hospital.

Wysocki said the shooting "apparently culminated a long family quarrel."

Newton F. Einstandig, husband of the slain woman, drove up to his home a couple of minutes after the shooting. A terror-stricken maid ran out of the house and told him of the affray.

Farmers Unearth Grisly Remains

FERRARA, Italy —(AP)— Farmers plowing in a field near here yesterday uncovered graves containing 22 human skulls which showed signs of having been severed from the bodies.

Investigators said the heads had been buried during the last war or immediately afterward. The investigation is continuing.

4,426 Got Work Through Employment Service In 1948

City's OES Office Ranks Third In Job Placements

The Mansfield branch of the Ohio Employment service ranked third in the state of Ohio for jobs filled in 1948 in the classification of small employment offices.

The number of jobs filled by the Mansfield office in 1948 was released Saturday in the annual report of the Ohio State Employment service.

The classification of "small" employment offices includes all Ohio offices with the exception of the eight largest cities in the state.

The Mansfield office placed 4,426 persons last year and was surpassed only by Lorain and Elyria with 7,614 and 5,065 jobs filled, respectively. The only other employment office in the 4,000 class was Springfield with 4,111 job placements.

The monthly report, also released today, showed that of the offices in the state filling over 100 jobs in the first two months of 1948, 87 per cent of them had decreases in employing persons for January and February of this year.

High on the list in this group was Bucyrus, which placed only a third of the people in January and February of this year that it did a year ago.

Mansfield's employment office placed 45 per cent less people the first two months of this year than it did last year.

C. W. Handley, manager of the Mansfield employment office, reports job-seekers are still increasing in Mansfield.

From the 600 applying for jobs in Mansfield in September 1948, the list of jobless has increased to over 2,000 today, Handley said.

Jobs available in Mansfield have shrunk from 100 last week to only fifty today, Handley said.

He explained the drop from 100 to 50 jobs does not give a clear picture of the employment situation, since more than 50 jobs were filled and more keep coming in as the others are filled.

Annual Joint Meeting Held By Societies

The annual joint meeting of the St. Paul's women's missionary society was held at St. Paul's Lutheran church.

A covered dish dinner was served and the meeting was called to order by Mrs. Edward Pankow. Rev. John G. Gensel was the guest speaker, using the topic "Puerto Rico". He also spoke on the book, "On Our Own Doorstep".

On Wednesday evening another covered dish dinner was served at the regular meeting of the St. Paul's women's missionary society. Mrs. R. H. Elsasser and Mrs. William Ferguson were the hostesses. Easter appointments were used for the dinner.

Mrs. William Bolley led the devotions, assisted by Mrs. Henry Fischer. The topic, "Lutheran Missions in the Southwest Pacific" was presented on the death of a faithful member, Mrs. Susan Mutz.

The next meeting will be held April 27 with Mrs. David Fetter and Mrs. Thomas Wachtel serving as hostess. Mrs. Ernest Thomas will lead devotions and Mrs. Don Borchardt will present the topic.

Esther Bible Club Entertains Two

The Esther Bible Club met at the home of Mrs. Essie Bell, 26½ South Diamond Street, Thursday for regular session. Mrs. J. H. Stottler conducted the business session and Mrs. M. R. Hopper led devotions.

Mrs. D. W. Cummins was in charge of the lesson. Two guests, Mrs. Ward Barett and Mrs. Clyde Baker, were in attendance. The next meetin will be held April 14 at the home of Mrs. Clark Loos, 124 Boughton avenue.

TO BE WED — Mr. and Mrs. Paul Janes, 348 Wayne street, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Joanne, to Anthony Fanello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fanelle, Lucas. Miss Janes is a graduate of Madison high school and an employe in the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company office. Mr. Fanello attended Lucas schools and is the Madison school bus operator. No date has been chosen by the couple for the nuptials.

WEDS COLUMBUS MAN—Miss Mary Mihailoff and Donald William Krichbaum were married March 6 in a formal double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell at the First English Lutheran church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mihailoff, 401 Michigan avenue. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Krichbaum of Columbus. Miss Goldie Mihailoff, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and Edward Marshall, a close friend of the couple served as best man. The couple is at home with the bride's parents, 401 Michigan avenue, following a honeymoon in Washington, D. C.

BERMUDA—Enchanting Island For Your Vacation This Year

(Editor's note:—With Mansfielders much in evidence at various vacation spots, the society department has become envious and decided to try to make everyone else as interested in travel. This is the first in a series of "places to go.")

By ANN SCHOENMAN

ALL THIS ADO ABOUT BERMUDA—Its's a long time since we have seen such goings-on in travel circles—Such a hustle and bustle and to-do now. And most of the traveling is directly traceable to one spot: Bermuda.

Many travelers go to Bermuda to marvel at the brilliant floral displays which can be seen almost everywhere. The air is heavy with their various fragrances.

The hibiscus rose-red, yellow apricot and pink, bloom the year round. The Bougainvillea dazzles in its scarlet or royal purple most of the year. And the Bermuda morning glory, of the deepest blue, blooms as it pleases.

In the summer, the night-blooming cereus bursts into beauty, its creamy white blossoms filling the air with a delicate scent.

A brisk wind, whitecaps on the water, sails pulling—Bermuda sailing is unequalled. Fishing is listed as one of the top vacation favorites on this small island.

Another tops for visitors is golf. It's golf the way you've dreamed of. A cool salt water breeze floats over the golf course overlooking the sea, while you're trying for that hole-in-one.

A forty hour cruise between New York and Bermuda is offered. You have sun decks, tiled swimming pools, verandah cafes and lively programs of sports, dancing and entertainment.

On the other hand you can fly down to the island in 3 hours. This way you won't miss a moment of bicycling and beaches. You can leave New York at the end of a working day and be in Bermuda in time for dinner . . . can fly back home the evening of the last day, with your sunburn intact for display at the office next morning.

The Princess hotel in Bermuda, for the first time in its history, will remain open throughout the year. For several years before the war, summer visitors went to the island in such numbers that the July, August and September total was greater than any other three-month period.

Breezes sweep the island throughout the summer months and the average temperatures in the upper 70's appeal to summer vacationists who wish to escape the heat of the cities to enjoy outdoor sports. The Princess hotel has a large, salt-water swimming pool, fast clay tennis courts and water skiing from its own dock. Outdoor dancing on a newly-constructed outdoor terrazzo floor will be an added night-time attraction.

The St. George, atop Rose Hill, overlooks the quaint 17th century village of St. George.

This hotel is a complete resort-estate. You can play golf on the magnificent 9 - hole course, take a dip in the indoor pool or swim at the hotel-owned St. Catherine's Beach, fish, sail, cycle, ride . . . or just relax on the beach or take carriage drives.

A perfect setting for your Bermuda vacation is the distinguished hotel Bermudiana overlooking the picturesque Hamilton Harbour. It is just a few minutes' walk from the port town of Hamilton, famous for its historic government buildings and Front street shops. The Bermudiana is known as the jewel of Bermuda.

When you start on those glorious vacation days, don't forget your camera for capturing hours you'll always want to remember.

Agent Calls For Farm Clean-Up

McGrew Asks Rural 'Housecleaning'

April is the month for a clean-up of homes and farm buildings, and County Agent C. N. McGrew yesterday urged farmers to participate in the 1949 Spring Clean-up drive.

Quoting from figures supplied by the National Fire Protection association, McGrew said losses from fire in the United States last year exceeded $711,000,000, the highest in history.

Records show that 90 per cent of all farm fires could be prevented, the association reported.

The annual drive is held to encourage farmers to correct fire hazards that have accumulated during the winter. The campaign has the support of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and county extension services.

Recommended is the cleaning of homes and farm buildings thoroughly, inspecting all buildings and farm equipment and making replacements and repairs where necessary for fire safety.

The farm agent recommended getting rid of accumulations of debris and eliminating hazards such as dirty chimneys which shower sparks on roofs. That danger is increased if the roofing is not fire-resistant, he said.

4 Building Permits OK

Four building permits, representing $9,100 in construction, were issued at the city building yesterday.

The largest was issued to Edward Schmitt, 1165 Lexington avenue, for a five-room frame residence with garage at 1097 Sunset boulevard. Estimated cost of the building is $7,500.

Lyle Shade, 460 Howard Street, will construct a $600 cement block garage on his property.

Carl Gatton, 194 Bowland road will remodel a residence at 34 Muth road. He estimated the cost at $400.

Another dwelling will be erected at 414 Lawnsdale avenue by H. J. Lee, 523 Woodland avenue. Estimated cost of the four-room frame house for which there will be no water or sewer connections is $600.

Soap and Water Wash Brightens Furniture Finish

One of the easiest of the recommended ways to clean wooden furniture is to use soap and water. This treatment removes grime not affected by regular dusting and polishing, and vitually all wood responds with a brighter look if washed properly.

It is important to use a very mild soap and to work quickly so that water is not absorbed by the wood or its glued joints.

Fill one pail with arm, soapy water and the other with clear, rinse water.

Then dip a soft cloth into the suds and wash a small area of the furniture at a time. Rinse the spot with a cloth wrung out of the clear water. Rub the spot dry with a soft cloth. Repeat this process, starting just within the old cleaning area each time, until the entire piece is washed, rinsed and dried.

After all the funiture is washed and allowed to dry completely apply furniture polish or wax according to the manufacturer's instructions.

HOME DEVELOPMENT

As huge home developments of hundreds of houses each go up in and near large cities, prospective home-buyers should investigate the accessibility of schools to such areas. In many communities building programs of school authorities have lagged far behind the rapid growth of home developments.

Two-Bedroom Brick House Conserves Backyard Space

By DEAN H. ROBINSON

This is a lovely two bedroom brick home that has created an unusual amount of favorable comment wherever it has been built. It is designed to be placed near the front of a lot, for those who like a large backyard, which can be landscaped and arranged for the greatest amount of outdoor living.

You enter into the living room, and while there is no vestibule, you do have a closet to the left for the storage of coats and umbrellas. Immediately upon entering you are struck with the spacious look of the living-dining area which shows a modern open planning influence.

The large fireplace has a tile hearth with book cases on both sides.

The dining area can be separated from the living area by modern folding doors which can be closed into a recess in each wall and be entirely out of sight, or extended completely to separate these two areas, or left part way open to provide a pleasant decorative touch.

You will note that you can enter directly from the garage into the kitchen, which keeps a great deal of dirt from being brought into the living room and is the other reason beside economy why the front entrance vestibule has been eliminated. There is also room at the end of the garage for a closet.

The kitchen is very modern and compactly designed with the idea in mind of saving as many steps as possible for the busy housewife. Directly over the sink is a large picture window with room on the sill for potted plants. The range and refrigerator are directly opposite the sink and the other work surfaces.

Leading directly into the kitchen is a service door from which, if you turn right, you would go immediately into the utility room where there is a furnace, hot water heater, laundry tubs and plenty of room for sorting counters, washing machine, drier and mangle. You can, if you choose, go directly from the utility room into the living area or into the kitchen which would save steps when answering the doorbell.

The two bedrooms are exceptionally well planned. One of them has three windows looking out in three directions, and the other one has two windows so that there is lots of cross ventilation in both rooms. Each room has a large wardrobe closet with sliding doors which eliminates the space ordinarily occupied by the swing of the hinged door. Furniture can be placed almost any way in these two rooms. There is a large linen storage closet opposite the bathroom entrance. The bathroom can be entered from either bedroom or directly from the living room.

Complete building plans and specifications are available for $5.00 per set, and there is the "Book of Small Home Designs" showing pictures and floor plans of the first 26 homes in this series, together with 54 pages of valuable building information covering many subjects such as how to finance, a discussion of all kinds of heating systems, how to install septic tanks, closets, basement vs. no basement and many other important and interesting subjects. The plan book sells for $1.00. The building plans and the plan book may be obtained by sending check or money order to the Scale Model Home Planning Co., 819 Lafayette Building, Detroit, Michigan. Be sure to specify design number when ordering building plans.

TIP FOR YOUR GARDEN

Before the sap starts running, prune all trees and shrubs. In prunning be careful not to remove branches which bear flower or fruit buds.

Economy Hit By Obstacles

CHICAGO — Builders attempting to erect low cost homes face at least four tough obstacles, reports Arvid C. Petersen, Detroit, nationally known home builder.

Writing in Practical Builder, authoritative trade journal, Petersen says builders who want to go into the low priced field face these handicaps:

1. Many community zoning laws rule out small homes with a modest, but adequate floor area, in favor of larger residences.

2. Most residential building codes are written and enforced along specification lines. They specify what materials may be used. Codes are not based on the "performance" of materials. As a result, says Petersen, most homes are erected along construction lines which go far beyond normal requirements necessary to insure safety and durability. This means added cost without added value or utility.

3. Stable financing for low cost housing is difficult to obtain from lending institutions, even though such loans are usually liquidated in a shorter period than other types of investment loans.

4. Federal insurance of mortgage loans constitutes another barrier, he added. FHA land requirements and insistence on aesthetic construction trimmings are effective barriers to volume building of houses at the lowest possible consumer cost.

RUTHLESS AND ROOFLESS

In parts of China, it is permissible for creditors to carry away the roof of a man's house if he fails to pay his debts.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—What kind of electrical circuits should be installed for kitchen and laundry appliances?

A—There should be circuits of 12-gauge wire exclusively for equipment such as the refrigerator, toaster and washing machine. They should be protected by 20-ampere fuses or circuit breakers.

Q—How does storm sash save money?

A—Mainly by reducing the heat-loss which is high when single panes of glass are used. The increased insulation efficiency cuts heating costs.

Q—The paint on radiators sometimes blisters badly. Why is that?

A—It might be because there was heat in the radiator when it was painted. The radiator must be cold and flat oil paint or radiator enamel should be used.

HALTS STREAKS

Streaks on walls around warm air registers usually means the face-plate of the register does not fit tight against the wall. This can be remedied by cutting a gasket from cardboard, cork or other gasket material and placing it between wall and register to make a dust-proof joint.

LONG LASTING — Built by express order of George Washington, Portland Head Light stands on a cliff on the edge of the sea near Portland, Maine, overlooking the scenic panorama of 365 islands in Casco Bay. Because President Washington's colonial government had little money, he specified that rubblestone gathered from nearby fields and the beach was to be used in construction, but the original masonry still is intact. The keeper's house and other auxiliary buildings are of wooden construction with asphalt roof shingles, chosen to minimize the danger of fire and of the storms which sweep the exposed headland. Construction of the lighthouse was completed in 1790 and the light was lighted first in 1791. Ships 30 miles at sea have reported sighting the beam.

NOTE TO HUSBANDS

The average housewife washes approximately six tons of dishes every year.

Atomic Age Pioneers Can Go Prospecting

NEW YORK—(AP)—Got any prospecting blood in your veins? Like to find a fortune in the ground? Yearn to go down in history as a pioneer '49er of the Atomic Age?

Then scout around and find yourself a strike of at least 20 tons of good-grade uranium ore.

If you do, grateful Uncle Sam will send you a check for $10,000 for your contribution to national security—and pay you many times that amount for the ore itself.

Aside from a grubstake, what you'll need most for this prospecting job is a Geiger-Mueller counter (cost: $100 up), and plenty of energy and patience.

The Geiger counter is for detecting radioactive minerals, chief of which is uranium. Photographic film can be used for the same purpose, and there is a bead test employing ultraviolet light which almost invariably shows up uranium if it's there in the rock. But most modern prospectors use Geiger counters.

If you find a deposit of ore that makes the counter's dial swing, the atomic energy commission will be happy to look over a 10-pound specimen to see if you've hit the jackpot.

But don't get the idea it's going to be easy. Since the commission first put up that $10,000 prize and guaranteed high prices for uranium ore last April, hundreds of prospectors have been shipping samples to the raw materials laboratories at Grand Junction, Colo., and New York for analysis.

In fact, right now when deep snowdrifts cover many of the most promising areas of the west, the specimens are still pouring into the New York lab at the rate of 11 a day. Geologists there are about a month behind under this load. And the work will become even more overwhelming when spring comes and the warm weather prospectors start out with their hammers and Geiger counters through the flowery canyons.

FOUND ALL OVER

Mrs. Muriel Mathez, chief mineralogist here, says the specimens come from all over this dcountry, from Mexico and Alaska—even occasionally from a uranium-minded soldier somewhere in Asia.

Every sample, even if it's obviously nothing more than a hunk of lava, is acknowledged at once by mail. Then when the geologists and chemists get to it on the waiting list, the sample is analyzed.

First they take its radioactivity pulse with an intricate laboratory version of the Geiger counter, studded with flashing lights, dials and stop-watches. If the mineral's "Beta count" is too low, the technicians usually classify the specimen carefully and send the results back to the prospector so he'll know what it was he found, even if it wasn't uranium.

But if the radiometric report looks promising, the sample gets a thorough analysis that may involve polarizing microscopes, magnetic separators, X-rays, fluorescent tests under ultraviolet lamps—or even a machine called a "super-panner." It does in a hurry just what the oldtime prospector did so laborously a century ago when he panned gold in a creekbottom.

If the sample indicates a high enough concentration of uranium, in a mineral combination which would permit efficient refining, Mrs. Mathez immediately notifies the prospector and asks for more information about the size of the deposit.

Then the raw materials staff studies confidential geological survey reports and maps of the deposit area for more information on mining prospects. And frequently, field specialists are dispatched to the region to verify the prospector's findings and give him technical help.

So if you're going uranium prospecting, you can count on lots of competition. But the race is wide open. And even if you don't win the $10,000 bonus for discovering a brand-new deposit, you may find enough ore to sell at a substantial profit.

The Atomic Energy commission plans to publish a prospectors' guide within the next few weeks to aid uranium seekers.

Reaps Wealth Selling Lowly Cactus Plant

EDINBURG, TEX. — (AP) — Charles M. Fitzpatrick has reaped a fortune selling Texas cactus, scorned by Texans, to the world.

He even peddles it to Arizona, a state with enough cactus to puncture every living thing on earth.

A 44-year-old ex-Georgian, former traveling salesman, Fitzpatrick wholesales and retails four million plants a year. On a dull day, he ships 5,000. Nine million spiny plants thrive in luxury on 11 acres at the rear of his 23-room brick home in the Rio Grande Valley, six miles north of Edinburg. He'll soon have 20 more cactus-covered acres.

Cactus is the scourge of southwestern and western ranges. It steals water, keeps grass from growing. But Fitzpatrick a hefty, long-faced six-footer sells a million plants a year to a concern in Phoeniz, Ariz. Another million go to a firm in Grand Rapids, Mich.

New Yorkers fairly cry for cactus. The Brazilian and Siamese governments are regular customers and the U. S. department of agriculture recently bought 1,000 assorted plants for the botanical gardens in Washington, D. C.

Orders flow in from Newfoundland, Australia, Africa, Portugal, Japan, China, Peru and they flood in from England.

But Fitzpatrick's biggest market is the United States - - - except Texas.

"I don't even try to sell to Texans," he said. "They hate cactus. Most Texans have fallen off a horse into the prickly pear variety."

Job Center Gets Busier

NEW YORK — (AP) — The first thing you notice at Manhattan's employment center, reputedly the world's largest is the great number of people looking for jobs.

The next thing you notice is the variety of both people and jobs, or what novelists used to call the great cross-sectional picture.

People of all shades and tongue crowd slowly along the smoke-filled corridors of the five-story building, which houses nearly 60 different employment agencies. Since it has been called the "largest center for skilled and unskilled personnel in the world," it should be a good economic barometer.

"Job applicants," says Murray Greenberg, director of one of the largest agencies, "have more than doubled in the last four months. I would say unemployment now is the greatest it's been since 1940."

The center was started in 1942 by a group of widely scattered agencies which thought that both they and job hunters could do better if concentrated in one building. Since then, Greenberg estimates, the agencies have placed between 300,000 and 700,000 people in jobs, exclusive of "many thousands of extras"—the part-time workers.

The range has been wide, extending from waitresses who went to work for $10 a week, plus tips, to factory supervisors who got $25 000 a year, plus bonuses.

Two Children Die In Flaming House

CHICAGO — (INS) — Two children were burned to death early today and five other persons injured in a fire which swept through the fourth floor of a Chicago tenement house across the street from a fire station.

Trapped in their bedroom William Harris jr, 10, and his brother, Henderson Harris, 6, died despite efforts of their father to break through the flames to save them.

SPRING IS HERE

This is the season of the year when so many people are looking around for a home of their choice. "Please ask yourself this question? "Is our home too small for the family, or would it be to my benefit to sell my large home and purchase a smaller one." Is your answer Yes to the above question? Well, if it is why not call my office and make an appointment personally with me to discuss your real estate problem. No one is ever under any obligation to buy or sell their home unless they so desire to do so. Remember our slogan ASK THE PEOPLE WE HAVE SERVED.

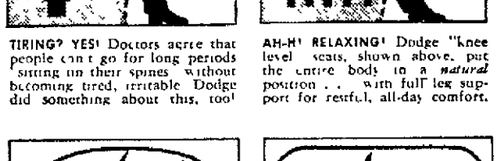
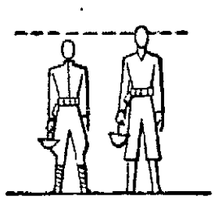
DODGE INTRODUCES NEW KIND OF CAR
BUILT FOR TODAY'S BIGGER TALLER AMERICANS

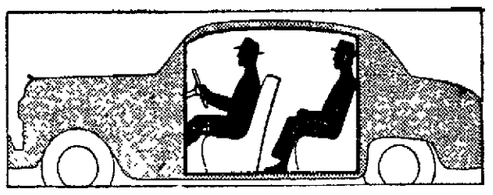
Daring New Dodge establishes new trend . . . provides more head room, elbow room and leg room, at the same time decreasing outside dimensions. Extreme lines, uncomfortable seats and cramped interiors have no place in Dodge thinking.



"BODY-CRAMPING ROOF LINES MUST GO," said Dodge! Army physical exams revealed that our wartime generation was bigger, taller and more active A car with more interior space—not less—is the goal Dodge engineers achieved.



Army statistics revealed that the G.I.'s of World War II averaged 1½" taller than the Doughboys of World War I. The same statistics showed they were also heavier and more active.

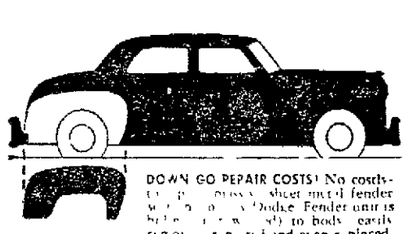


DODGE STARTED WITH A SPACIOUS INTERIOR—and practically built the rest of the car around it! Here is room to "roam around in — plenty of room to let the human body take positions that are natural and therefore comfortable.

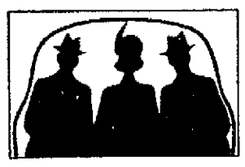
DODGE SAID "NO" TO THIS .. repairing dented or torn fenders is sure to be costly when fenders are formed right into great masses of sheet metal Now look below and see why Dodge owners don't have this worry

TIRING? YES! Doctors agree that people can't go for long periods sitting on their spines without becoming tired, irritable Dodge did something about this, too!

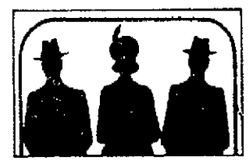
AH-H! RELAXING! Dodge "knee level" seats, shown above, put the entire body in a natural position . . with full leg support for restful, all-day comfort.



DOWN GO REPAIR COSTS! No costly [illegible] sheet metal fender [illegible] Dodge Fender unit is [illegible] to body easily removed and replaced at reasonable cost



"'NECK-CRICKING' CONTOURS ARE ALREADY OLD-FASHIONED," says Dodge. How can today's bigger, taller Americans be comfortable in a car where it's even hard to lean back or sit up straight?



DODGE ROOMINESS IS ROOM ALL AROUND The new Dodge, shorter, narrower and lower, gives you more elbow room . . leg room head room than today's bigger Americans will WELCOME!

LOWER ON THE OUTSIDE Higher on the Inside • SHORTER ON THE OUTSIDE . . Longer on the Inside
NARROWER ON THE OUTSIDE . . . Wider on the Inside

SEE HOW DODGE DOES IT!

Gold Shares Move Higher On Market

Stocks Show Upward Trend

NEW YORK—(AP)—Gold shares took the play in Saturday's market.

Some of the golds hit new 1949 highs in comparatively active trading. Elsewhere the tendency was upward but there was no drive behind the buying. Gains ranged to around a point.

Business generally followed the usual slow Saturday pattern, with turnover at the rate of about 300,000 shares for the two hours.

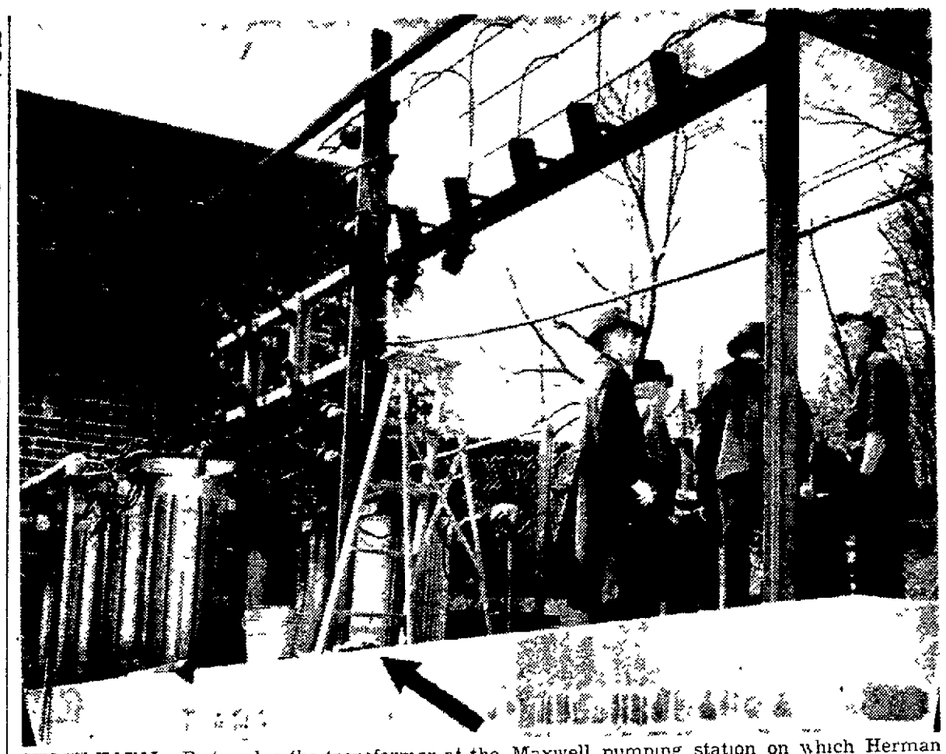
Golds were also in demand in the curb, with higher prices paid for Giant Yellowstone gold mines, Goldfield Consolidated mines, Hollinger Consolidated gold, Lake Shore mines, and Wright-Hargreaves.

CHICAGO—(AP)—Grains got off to a slow start but finished with a strong tone on the board of trade Saturday. A good amount of short covering came into the market in the last 30 minutes Action of cotton at New York, where prices advanced, had some influence in creating a buying atmosphere here.

Fear Girl Drowned After Lover's Row

KANAUGA —(AP)— An 18-year-old girl was believed drowned yesterday when she jumped 102 feet into the Ohio river from the Pt. Pleasant, W. Va.-Kanauga bridge, West Virginia state police reported.

State Police Sgt. D. C Wilsong identified the girl as Miss Alice Pullins, of Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., and said his investigation indicated the girl jumped after a lover's quarrel.



SHOCK FATAL—Pictured is the transformer at the Maxwell pumping station on which Herman R Wolf, 55, of 124 Wood street, was standing when he suffered a fatal electrical charge The lower arrow points to some of Wolf's clothing and a ladder he used to mount the transformer Water Works Superintendent O C Kalbfliesch, John Leibfritz, employe who discovered Wolf's body, and several other city officials are shown discussing the tragedy.

Coal Miners Idle For Mitchell Day

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— Most of the nation's 400,000 soft coal miners were idle yesterday, enjoying a long week-end stretched by their annual holiday Friday, John Mitchell Day.

In the anthracite fields, however miners were busy for the first Saturday in several years. The recent two-week shutdown provided the extra work Hard coal miners honor the late union leader with a holiday in the fall.

RECOGNITION GRANTED

MANILA — (INS) — The Philippine government extended full recognition today to the government of Israel

Urge Curbs On Lending

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Hoover commission Friday asked Congress to put the government out of the money-lending business and eliminate 30 federal agencies by merger or liquidation

The group's report on "federal business enterprises" was so snarled by dissenting opinions that one subject—public power—it could offer no recommendation which had majority support.

But a majority urged the Reconstruction Finance corporation, the big source of Federal credit in war and depression, be reorganized into a mere guarantor of private bank loans.

"Waste and favoritism" and "even corruption" are invited when the government makes direct loans to firms and individuals in the housing, farm and industrial fields, said the members led by chairman Herbert Hoover.

Picks Wrong Judge

CHICAGO — (UP) — Bernard Fogel went to the wrong judge for an O. K. to reduce his alimony payments. The judge had Fogel's case at hand He sentenced Fogel to the county jail after finding that his alimony was short $230.

Reveal Dangerous Feed On Market

CHARLESTON, W. VA. — (AP) L. E. Bopst, secretary treasurer of the Association of American Feed Control officials, yesterday advised the state agriculture department to warn feed inspectors to be on the lookout for a ground charcoal chicken feed which reportedly has caused heavy losses in poultry flocks

Bopst said the feed is manufactured by a Columbus, O, firm.

Canvass Planned

BUCYRUS — A house-to-house canvass will be conducted here next week by members of the Seventh Day Adventist church Pastor S A Yakuh said the goal is $1,800 which will be contributed to the church national fund for medical, educational and missionary projects

Woods Acts Swiftly to Set Up Rent Eviction Regulations

New Rules Laid Down For Ousters

Take Precedence Over Local Law

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The federal rent administrator yesterday set up new nation-wide eviction regulatons. At the same time he removed the price ceilings from 36,500 dwelling units in four states.

These were the first in a series of actions slated by Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods under the new "home rule" rent control act which runs through June 30, 1950.

Woods acted swiftly on the eviction matter because such controls were not given him in the old law which placed this power in the hands of local authorities.

The new rules, which take precedence over local orders, set forth the steps landlords must take to qualify for the ouster action, and the safeguards to protect tenants against unwarranted eviction.

The eviction regulations provide two different methods of handling such cases; one is by court action and the other is a certificate plan requiring approval by an area rent office.

Under the first method the landlord must give written notice to the tenant and the area rent office, stating the reasons for eviction and the date the renter is required to move out. These are the acceptable grounds for court action and the waiting period:

1. Non-payment of rent — not less than three days.
2. Violation of "substantial obligation of tenancy," such as conducting a business in part of the premises contrary to the rental contract—not less than 10 days.
3. Nuisance or illegal or immoral use—not less than 10 days.
4. Refusing access to landlord to inspect premises or to show it to a prospective buyer—one month's notice.
5. If tenant sublets the dwelling unit and lease expires or is otherwise terminated—not less than two months.

6. If a state or political subdivision acquires the housing accommodations to make a public improvement, but wishes to rent them temporarily pending construction of new project, the notice period is not less than two months.

7. If tenant occupies part of company housing development customarily limited to employes, but no longer works for the company, the notice period is not less than two months.

Hair Curler Turned Into Hair Raiser

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—A permanent wave machine sent two women to the hospital yesterday.

Mrs. Virginia Allen, 44, the beauty operator, and her customer, Mrs. Ruth Ponte, 52, were knocked unconscious as curlers were being removed from Mrs. Ponte's hair.

Patrolman H. L. Tillman attributed the accident to a short circuit. He said Mrs. Allen suddenly screamed and collapsed, and Mrs. Ponte pitched face forward onto the floor Another operator cut off the machine.

A fire department rescue squad revived the women.

'Red' Bride Denied Visa

Ex-Professor Hits Regulations Snag

LONDON—(AP)—A U. S. navy veteran demanded last night that his English communist bride be admitted to the United States.

The State department has said "no."

He challenged the State department's right to refuse a visa for his wife, the former Mary Yeates, 30. He said it is true that she is a member of the British communist party.

"But I claim there is a reasonable doubt whether the communist party in England advocates the overthrow of the United States government," Wolfard added.

Wolfard married his brown-haired, dark-eyed bride here last New Year's eve.

He threw up his job as associate professor of economics at the University of Utah, Salt Lake City, to come to England for the wedding after the State department denied Mary a visa to go to America under the G. I. Brides law.

Bicycle, Jacket Reported Stolen

Two school thefts at Mansfield schools were reported to police yesterday. Delmar Miller told officers that his blue Hawthorn bicycle was stolen from its parking place at Johnny Appleseed Junior High school on Friday.

A jacket belonging to Malcolm Umbarger, 239 West Fifth street, was yesterday reported stolen from his locker at Senior High school on March 29.

Chance 'Buddy', Cash Disappear

Grank Queen, Bellevue, R. D. 4, reported to police yesterday that a man whom he met early Saturday morning had stolen $141 from him as he slept in the Newman hotel.

Queen told police he had been drinking and the stranger, who registered as Clyde Miller, had taken him to the hotel. When Queen awoke later the man and the money were gone.

PLAYHOUSE BURNS

Crew from fire stations Nos. 2 and 4 were called at 11:35 a. m. yesterday to 510 Van Buren avenue, where an old shed used by youngsters for a playhouse was on fire. There was no other damage.

Tea, says the National Geographic Society, is the world's third most popular drink, ranking behind water and milk.

Artillery Show, Open House Top Army Day Observance

Mansfield will observe Army day Wednesday with an artillery display at Central park and open house at other Army unit headquarters in the city.

Theme of this year's day of recognition for the U. S. Army is "The United States Army—Part of the Team"—for Security."

Using this slogan, the Army is stressing the further cooperation of its branch of the military services with the other armed forces.

Central park will have two pieces of artillery guarding its west side, provided by the Mansfield unit of the Army Organized Reserve.

Capt. R. M. Flynn, unit instructor of the Mansfield Army Reserve group, said Army men would be assigned to the "big guns" to demonstrate and explain their functions.

Capt. Charles A. Boughton, commander of Mansfield's Ohio National Guard Company F, said the Guard's Armory on Ashland road would be open all day Wednesday for inspection by Mansfielders.

Free Army movies will be shown at the Madison theater April 13 from 2 to 11 p. m. (one week after Army day) by the Army Reserve. These movies will be actual World War II combat pictures showing Army units, including the Air Force, in battle.

Defense Chief Bans 9 Groups

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Defense Secretary Johnson last night followed up his assertion that "there are too damn many committees" by abolishing nine armed force committees. He said they were "useless."

The new defense chief made the comment at a recent press conference in telling about the existence of approximately 800 boards and committees in the military establishment. Johnson said he had discovered that some temporary committees he had set up when he was assistant secretary of the army a decade ago still exist.

The nine committees and boards he ordered scrapped were found either to have completed their jobs or to be duplicating functions performed by other groups, he said.

Driver Involved In 3-Car Wreck

Thomas Fitzpatrick, 21, of 298 West Fifth street, received a slight bruise on the forehead when his car was involved with two others in an accident at the Springmill and Harker streets intersection at 2:20 p. m. yesterday.

He was treated and released at General hospital. Police filed charges against him for unsafe operation of his auto. He was cited to appear in traffic court on April 6.

Ike's Health Said Better

KEY WEST, Fla. —(AP)— Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower continues to improve and is taking mild exercise, his aides have reported.

The General is recuperating from a stomach inflammation. He came here from Washington March 28 by invitation of President Truman to rest on the naval station grounds where Mr. Truman usually vacations.

No date has been set for Eisenhower's conference with the joint chiefs of staff of which he is chairman. Defense Secretary Louis Johnson said at Washington he would accompany the military chiefs to Key West when they confer with Eisenhower.

Lodge Officers Take Posts

Installation of officers for Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Mansfield Lodge 19, was held Friday evening at the lodge hall here. James Sellars, Mansfield, district representative of the lodge, conducted the installation ceremonies.

Installed were: Howard Shadel, noble guard; S. J. Shadel, vice grand; John Wood, recording secretary; T. A. Klein, financial secretary; James Sellars, treasurer; Earl Weaver, warden; Wilbur Hamilton, conductor; W. L. Baughman, chaplain; Gerald Higgins, inside guardian; H. L. Jenkins, outside guardian.

Initiatory degree for a class of candidates will be held at 7:30 p. m., Friday, April 8, at the lodge.

71 Register Bicycles

Seventy-one bicycles were registered by the police department yesterday, Identification Officer Paul Martin said.

Martin reported yesterday's total brings the number of bikes registered in Mansfield to 1,743. Those previously licensed were registered late last year.

The tags are good for the life of the bicycle, Martin said. It is not necessary to re-register. A 25-cent re-registration fee will be made in the event of a change of ownership, however.

Bicycle owners living south of Park avenue east and east of Main street are scheduled for registration next Saturday. In the event of rain the registration will be postponed one week, Martin said.

Blind Man Held In Wife's Death

CLEVELAND —(AP)—A 61-year-old blind man, Edgar Bibbs, was charged with first degree murder yesterday in the fatal stabbing of his wife Beatrice, 62.

The arresting officers reported he fired two wild shots at her from a revolver, then grappled with her and stabbed her with a pocket knife. Detective Harrison Harney said the man told him his wife had been "running around with other men."

TB Association Will Bring Mobile X-Ray Unit to Area

The Richland County Tuberculosis association will bring a mobile x-ray unit to the Mansfield area April 11 to April 16.

The association urges all residents of the area to take advantage of this opportunity to have a free chest x-ray taken. By means of x-rays it is possible to detect and find tuberculosis when it is in the early stages and before the patient has a chance to spread the disease.

Hours for the free x-ray schedule are 8:30 a. m. to noon, and 1 to 5 p. m. during the six days the unit will be in the area.

The unit will be at the Ohio Seamless Tube company in Shelby, April 11; at the Shelby Air Depot, April 12; at Shelby high school, April 13; at Moorheads garage in Mansfield, for the general public, April 14; at Humphryes Manufacturing and the Barnes Manufacturing companies in Mansfield, April 15, and at Moorheads garage, for all food and restaurant workers and the general public, April 16.

Admiral Radford Up for New Post

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman yesterday nominated Vice-Adm. Arthur W. Radford as commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet and high commissioner of the Pacific islands.

If confirmed by the Senate, Radford will succeed Adm. DeWitt Clinton Ramsey, who is retiring on May 1.

New Peace Treaty To Be Ratified

RHODES —(AP)— Authoritative informants here said yesterday the governments of Israel and Trans-Jordan have approved an armistice agreement and that it probably will be signed today.

The agreement was drafted here during negotiations which began here March 1. The negotiators approved the draft last Tuesday and took it to Tel Aviv and Amman for concurrence.

2 Theories Advanced In Death Case

Accident Cause Still Mystery

City officials and co-workers late Saturday advanced two theories in the death of Herman R. Wolf, 55, city electrical worker, who was killed by a 4,400-volt charge of electricity at the Maxwell pumping station at Alta.

Although the exact manner in which the fatal accident occurred remains a mystery, the two possibilities are that Wolf's body touched a wire where an electrical leak was discharging current or that he slipped and fell against the bare contact points on top of the transformer.

Water Works Superintendent O. C. Kalbfleisch said Wolf had climbed on a transformer along the side of the pumping station and was varnishing the high voltage electrical wires. The varnish is to protect the wiring from deterioration.

When his body touched the wire or contact point it caused a short circuit and an automatic switch cut off the power to the pumping station.

John Leibfritz, 41 Florence avenue, an operator at the pumping station, came outside when the power stoppage occurred and discovered Wolf's body slumped on the transformer.

There was no witness to the accident.

He was the third victim of electrical shock in the Mansfield area in four days. Calvin Franklin Stiffler and Lester Eugene Clark, employes of the Saltzgaber Drilling company, suffered fatal electrical shocks when the boom of the drilling mechanism they were operating touched a power line on Park avenue west road.

A city employe since 1946, Wolf had for many years been employed by the Mansfield Telephone company.

He was born in Mansfield on June 30, 1893, and had spent his entire life in this community.

A member of the 37th Division in World War I, he was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

He is survived by his wife, May; three sons, Robert H., Donald F., and Edward R.; two stepsons, Samuel and Roy Miles; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Willard Richey and Mrs. Howard Williams; three grandchildren, all of Mansfield; one brother, Martin Wolf, of California, and a sister, Miss Freda Wolf, of Cleveland.

Funeral arrangements are being completed at the Wappner funeral home and will be announced Monday.

PAPER CATCHES FIRE

Firemen from Central and No. 5 stations answered a call at 8:45 p. m. yesterday to the Ven Mar drug store, Marion avenue and Vennum avenue. Waste paper at the rear of the store was on fire. There was no damage.

So You Like Your Hometown? Then Use Pictures to Tell Your Friends About It

Starting today, with the picture which appears below, the Sunday News-Journal will present a series of photographs taken in and around Mansfield. In this series, known as "Hometown Scrapbook," every effort will be made to use pictures which will be of permanent value to News-Journal readers.

Photographs will include general views, parks, civic buildings and an occasional picture of historical interest.

A primary purpose of the series will be to enable local residents to collect a scrapbook of scenes which might be of use when they are describing the Mansfield area to friends residing elsewhere.

Nearly everyone likes to talk about his hometown when away on a visit or vacation. Pictures add spice to the conversation, and enable listeners to visualize the scenes which are being described.

For those desiring to make a permanent collection, the pictures will be found interesting in later years when memories of "the old days" are being recalled.

HOMETOWN SCRAPBOOK, Mansfield, Ohio Page 1

Parents Face Charge

The case of Mr. and Mrs. Loy Brown, of Shelby, accused of failing to provide a proper home for their 10 children was continued yesterday in juvenile court at their request.

They entered pleas of innocent and said they wanted to obtain the services of an attorney. The case will be heard Tuesday at 9:30 a. m.

The complaint, signed by Mayor W. R. Morris of Shelby, said they permitted their home to become rat infested and unsanitary.

Morris said charges were filed following an investigation by Miss Mercedes Fackler, public health nurse at Shelby, and Mrs. Marie Menchan, county humane officer.

Pledge of Allegiance to Flag

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Finding More Uses For Helicopters

MORE AND MORE attention is being attracted to the helicopter as a means of aerial transportation for short distances and to meet landing and take-off requirements of limited space.

Transporting mail from airfields to city post offices and suburbs is among the practical uses to which helicopters will be put, and it is announced that helicopter mail service between Chicago and 43 suburbs will start about May 1.

The helicopter has already proved valuable in rescue operations and it is said to be excellent for aerial photography, surveying and traffic control.

Other suggested uses are by business firms for delivery purposes and for commuting by suburban residents, it being claimed that these machines are so easy to fly that anyone who can drive an automobile can master a helicopter after a few hours' instruction.

An obstacle to private ownership—in the lower income brackets—is the present price of around $20,000 for one of the improved models, but this is expected to be considerably reduced under mass production methods.

So keep watching—it will be interesting to keep tab on who will become Mansfield's first helicopter owner . . . just as the late Dr. S. P. Ecki is remembered as owner of the first automobile purchased by a Mansfielder.

Summer Band Concerts Coming Up

ANNOUNCEMENT that Mansfield is again to have a series of open-air band concerts this summer is being greeted warmly. In the past two years the concerts have been highly successful. It can be expected that they will duplicate the good record this year, both from standpoint of attendance and quality of music.

As before, the City Recreation department and Local 159, American Federation of Musicians, will co-sponsor the event at Stadium field and Dr. Louis E. Pete, well-known Ashland director, will conduct.

Open-air band concerts are in the American tradition. The popularity of the series in Mansfield illustrates well why they have become traditional.

Broaden Choice of College Heads

THE LATE James R. Angell, president of Yale University from 1921 till his retirement under the age limit in 1937, was one of the first of a new type of college presidents. Before his day the rule at Yale and most other universities was to choose only alumni for the post. Angell was a graduate of the University of Michigan, and had been for 25 years on the faculty of the University of Chicago.

He warranted the hopes that the university had entertained for the new departure. He quadrupled the endowment, made over the Yale law school, which had lagged behind some other departments of the university, established the Yale Institute of Human Relations, and secured money for re-grouping the undergraduates in separate colleges, after the model of the English universities and, in the United States, of Harvard.

Spread of the custom may not have been altogether due to Angell's success at Yale. It may have been a trend of the times, but universities now are much more inclined to choose as president some eminent citizen outside the ranks of their own alumni. Examples are the University of Pennsylvania's choice of former Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, and Columbia's of General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Now There's Waste Paper Surplus

THERE is a sign of the times in the fact that the National Association of Waste Material Dealers has decided to advise its members to make a charge for collecting scrap paper.

This is the kind of paper which is salvaged from office waste cans and the like, and is less useful than old newspapers and magazines and other forms of waste paper. Even so dealers have been willing to collect it in the past, because they could sell it to mills which make the stuff over into cardboard and low-grade papers. But now, it is reported, there is too much scrap on the market.

The reason is not only that more paper is being used and tossed into waste baskets. It is also that twice as much paper scrap is being recovered now as before the war. Last year almost three-quarters of all paper produced by the mills turned up again as scrap and other forms of used paper. This is much more than can be made use of by present means of making new paper from old.

But it is significant that people have become so conscious of saving used paper that such a high proportion has been recovered. Now it is up to the paper makers to improve their re-working processes so that good use can be made of this recovered waste.

Judge Discusses Questionable Books

THE TEST of proper literature is not whether it can be freely read by 13-year-old children, unless it happens to be juvenile literature. This is the substance of a decision by Judge Curtis Bok of Philadelphia, after hearing a case brought by the police against nine current novels. Such writers as James T. Farrell, Erskine Caldwell and William Faulkner were involved, the books to which the police had objected were all produced by reputable New York publishers.

Judge Bok, after reading all nine books, decided that they were not pornographic in any sense; they aroused not passion, but "horror or pity for the degradation of mankind." He suggested that by the time daughter cares to read them she will have learned "the biologic facts of life and the words that go with them." Said he:

> "There is something seriously wrong at home if those facts have not been met and faced. It is not children so much as parents that should receive our concern."

What many objections to literature amount to is that parents sometimes try to get the help of police in training their children, instead of doing it themselves.

Again it is repeated: "The only way of avoiding mistakes is not to do anything."

A Voice From the Country

New Political Party May Be Emerging

By LOUIS BROMFIELD

IT IS just possible that out of the existing confusion in Washington there may be emerging a new political party or at least a new alignment within the ranks of the two older parties. It would probably be the best thing which has happened to this country for a long time. It would clear up the confusion of political and economic aims and ideas and permit us two parties which cannot within their own ranks ever quite make out what it is they want.

BROMFIELD

I doubt that anyone expects this to happen overnight but it has begun to happen all ready. Thus far there has been a sifting out of voters from each party who have drifted into the other and a great number of voters no longer controlled by any organization or machine, who have preferred to remain independent.

This is perhaps the largest bloc of voters today and certainly it is the most important because it is the one which wins the elections.

Daily it becomes clearer in Washington that the Democrats of Mr. Truman's own party do not consider his election as a mandate and the more conservative ones have allied themselves openly with the more conservative Republicans against the platform on which Mr. Truman chose to run. Mr. Truman, beyond all doubt, wanted desperately to be elected as a matter of vindication of hurt pride if for no other reason.

In order to achieve this end he promised everything to everybody, in a platform of promises which could never possibly have been carried out, even if he had been able to put them through Congress in the form of law.

Now as the showdown comes, the congressmen of his own party are not backing him up but are making alliances with congressmen from the opposition to hamstring or destroy the carrying out of the Fair Deal.

* * *

Population Shifts.

BACK of all this in the wider political field lies another fact of significance which has been generally overlooked. That is the shift of population westward which has been going on for generations and which has become accelerated within the past ten years.

A similar shift has begun away from the North and the Northeast into the South and the Southwest. At the same time, the once all important prestige of the larger Atlantic Coast states and of New York, in particular, has been waning.

It used to be said that a presidential candidate could not win an election without New York state and then that he had to carry New Jersey and Pennsylvania as well in order to win. Mr. Dewey carried all three and still lost the election although his opponent had already lost several normally Democratic states to the Dixiecrats.

It is probably true today that the central states or at least those included in the vast Mississippi Basin, run Congress and determine the policies of the nation.

It is, largely speaking, a great area of farms and small towns which make it conservative with areas of heavily concentrated industry which shows a radical tinge. Congressmen from those areas are bound to reflect local sentiment and political ideas, just as they are doing today in Washington.

In the whole of the country, the people are permitted to elect only one man for president but they elect many senators and scores of congressmen, each representing his own state or his own area and so a congressional election and the behavior of congressmen, once they are in Washington, reflects much more clearly than a presidential election the real sentiment of the people.

That is exactly what is happening now, perhaps to the bewilderment of Mr. Truman and some of the old line politicians.

The sentiment of the country seems to be that it wants progress in a sensible way along many lines but that it doesn't want Mr. Truman's "everything for everybody and who pays for it" platform.

At the moment it appears that we shall have some pretty good, reasonable and workable progressive laws passed. From most of them the nonsense and the political bolony will have been pretty well squeezed out.

* * *

Interest In Government.

ONE other factor of great importance also enters the picture—that never at any time in our history have so many of our citizens shown an intelligent interest in the government and policies of the nation.

On the whole, government is a great deal less "political" and shameless than it was in the fairly recent past of tight party organizations and bosses and in the more remote past of the near frontier when plenty of our citizens could not read and write and the dissemination of political knowledge was extremely limited.

I have just come home from Washington encouraged by the prospects of the immediate future and by the way democratic government in the form of a republic operates.

When the country has a strong violent congress with a mediocre president things are likely to go pretty well. A republic would do well to avoid great "leaders" save perhaps in time of war when, for reasons of emergency, a republic ceases to be a republic for the time being.

Two things have destroyed democracies throughout history—the strong leader who becomes a dictator and the vote by the majority of the people to be taken care of by "bread and circuses" when everything disintegrates, for any republic is exactly as strong as the will, dignity and independence of its individual citizens.

For my money Washington is doing all right, if for no other reason because Congress, which represents the people directly, is in control.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Johnson's First Reprimand 'Unofficial'

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Even before he officially became secretary of national defense, Louis Johnson started cracking brass-hat heads together. While Jim Forrestal still sat in the defense post and Johnson was waiting to take the oath of office, newspapers published a sensational piece of information to the effect that the U. S. Air Force had drawn up a list of 70 bombing targets inside Russia. In case of war, it was said, the Air Force already had 70 important Russian targets singled out for destruction.

PEARSON

Immediately Johnson called Secretary of Air Stuart Symington on the carpet, demanded to know how this unfortunate piece of information got out.

At that time, of course, Johnson had no official right to lecture Symington nor ask him for an explanation. Symington, however, did not resent the inquiry. He replied that he, too, greatly regretted the leak, had already asked his chief investigator, former G-man, General Joe Carroll, to find out who was responsible.

Power Lobby Nearly Wins.

AN INTERESTING, private party was thrown by Congressman Harry Sheppard of California the other day, following which he and the private power lobby came within three votes of short-circuiting the Administration's public-power program.

The legislation that Sheppard and the lobby tried so hard to defeat provides for transmission lines as an outlet for public power in West. Without these arteries, the heart of the Roosevelt-Ickes power program would be killed.

Truman had made continuation of this program his No. 1 campaign promise to the West last summer; and had blasted the Republicans and other friends of Pacific Gas and Electric who tried to ban government transmission lines to distribute power.

Yet the man who led the fight against the transmission lines was a western Democrat—Sheppard of San Bernardino, Calif.

What is even more strange, this same Sheppard also threw a lavish party for influential congressmen from each state—the week end before the power issue was scheduled to come before the appropriations committee.

The deans of all the congressional delegations were invited to Sheppard's party at the Congressional hotel, where he served a buffet luncheon of ham and roast beef, with plenty of liquor to wash it down.

Sheppard admitted this was the first time in his 12 years on Capitol Hill that he had ever sponsored such a gala affair; but he sharply denied that it was financed by the power lobby.

"I always pay my own bills," he protested. "Why, I don't even have a charge account."

He explained that, as chairman of the California delegation, he simply wanted to entertain the heads of congressional delegations from other states.

"The power companies," he snapped, "had nothing to do with that party."

Sheppard's integrity has never been challenged by those who know him. Yet, no matter who paid for the party or what purpose may have been intended, it had the effect on many congressmen of high-pressuring. All those attending the luncheon contacted by this column felt that the party had some connection with the power question.

* * *

Behind Closed Doors.

IT IS ALSO a fact that Sheppard did his best to knife the transmission lines appropriation for California's Central Valley project.

Behind the closed doors of the appropriations committee, Sheppard offered a motion to cut the appropriations for the California project, but he was defeated, by a 17-14 photo-finish. If he had been successful, it would have started a wave of amendments to close the purse strings on other transmission lines.

Sheppard's amendment was supported by all the Republicans except Washington's Congressman Walt Horan, who simply voted present. Sheppard, however, went to great pains to round up four Democratic votes—George Mahon of Texas, Robert Sikes of Florida, W. F. Norrell of Arkansas and Edward Kruse of Indiana. A fifth, Albert Thomas of Texas, remaining neutral, voted present.

Later, when word of Sheppard's party got to young Kruse, he called upon Chairman Clarence Cannon of Missouri and offered to change his vote. Kruse explained that he had supported Sheppard because he thought Sheppard was right, but that he had a deeper conviction against high-pressure lobbying.

This was the second time Kruse had changed his vote because of lobbyists. He had also intended to vote against rent control until the real-estate lobby descended upon him and tried to tell him how to vote.

Meanwhile, the private-power lobbyists are continuing to try to cut off public power at the source. Without transmission lines, public power will be bottled up and can only be distributed by private companies.

The professional lobbyists are now adopting the real-estate lobby's tactics of bringing pressure from local constituents who have influence on congressmen. Utility executives and Chamber of Commerce officials have been doing the writing and telegraphing from back home. In many cases, they have even taken trips to Washington to whisper in the ears of their congressmen.

Spring Cleaning Time

By ELSIE ROBINSON

HAVE YOU tackled your Spring Cleaning yet? If you have, I'll wager you're in the midst of just about the worst muddle that ever plagued an orderly housekeeper.

For you are an orderly housekeeper and have always been proud of it. You keep your house neat as a pin, everything picked up and in its place. No old newspapers or magazines lying around, no silly nicknacks gathering dust on the mantlepiece, no gallery or family photographs leering at you from the top of the piano or bookcase.

But what is all this stuff you've unearthed once you got started probing into odd corners? Old clothes belonging to every member of the family that should have gone to Europe or the Salvation Army a year ago.

A litter of outgrown toys in a dark corner of Jack's closet. Nicknacks and gadgets that are vague reminders of past Christmases stowed away in the bottom bureau drawer. You never used them but you simply didn't have the heart to throw them away or give them to someone else.

There are even bits of old ribbon and fancy wrapping paper carefully folded and slipped onto the top shelf of the cupboard. "Sometime they'll come in handy," you'd said to yourself—and then forgot all about them.

Clutter. Useless junk. You could throw it all in the ashcan and never miss it the rest of your born days.

* * *

But these atrocious salt-and-pepper sets, incredible table mats, lurid neckties, useless vases and horrid salad plates are not the only clutter that gets in your way.

What about the mental clutter that fogs your brain? All those old-fogey notions you lug along with you, from year to year. Cock-eyed prejudices, silly sentimentalities, ga-ga superstitions. The steady accumulation of useless, burdensome trash that litters your skull, destroying system and order, preventing peace and progress.

You think you're an orderly housekeeper until Spring Cleaning time comes and you think you have a rational, sane set of ideas until you actually take inventory.

An orderly mind—what a lovely thing it is! Like some of those charming rooms you've seen illustrated in the best magazines, quiet, distinguished rooms that radiate rest and inspiration through their deliberate simplicity.

And there's another kind of trash — human trash. Those meaningless, trivial people who crowd into your life. People without any purpose in themselves who use your time and energy, destroying all your plans and peace.

Why not do a thorough job of housecleaning this spring? Why not take inventory of all your possessions, your ideas, your acquaintances? Throw out every bit of useless trash you find stowed away in dark corners.

Shut out of your life those shallow, worthless people who use you merely as a haven for their useless lives. Organize your thoughts, discard harmful and trivial ideas that impede the orderly growth of your spirit.

Order is the sign of a civilized man, the source of profit, progress and peace. Without order you are a savage lost in a tangled jungle.

Assignment: America

How Capt. King Started

By INEZ ROBB

KING RANCH, Kingsville, Texas — The true story of the King Ranch, in technicolor, would make every other western ever filmed by Hollywood look like a plugged nickel in Cartier's. This is the horse opera with everything, including Assault in the back yard. Its ingredients run the gamut from high adventure to Mexican bandits to true romance. Its cast of characters embraces Robert E. Lee and Jesse James, with Gen. Zachary Taylor and Pancho Villa tossed in for good measure. The script should begin with Richard King, a jeweler's apprentice, running away from Orange county, New York, to go to sea more than a century ago.

INEZ ROBB

During the Mexican war, King supplied Gen. Taylor's troops by running the Rio Grande in his steam boat. Capt. King saved his money and about a half dozen years before the beginning of the war between the states, he bought 54,000 acres along Santa Gretrudis creek on the recommendation of his close friend, Robert E. Lee, then a lieutenant colonel of engineers stationed in Texas.

Those 54,000 acres are the cornerstone of a ranch that has now swelled to more than 950,000 acres. It is also the heart of the Santa Gertrudis division or main headquarters of the King Ranch.

When the Civil war engulfed the nation in 1861, the small cattle business to which Capt. King had set his hand, throve mightily. He supplied the Confederate forces with cattle and horses, the twin foundation on which the ranch still firmly rests. And he picked up still more money by running the Union blockade with his steamships ladened with the cotton so badly needed in English mills.

As the captain's fortunes grew, so did the ranch. By the time he died in 1885, King had acquired 500,000 acres. But he had also acquired a debt of $500,000. Both the land and the debt were inherited by his widow, Henrietta.

* * *

Element of Romance.

UP TO this point, the scenario has had lots of fast action but little romance. Now enters romance, in the person of Robert Justus Kleberg, a young lawyer whom Henrietta King hired to manage the ranch and her tangled affairs.

Capt. King, a good judge of men, would have approved his widow's choice, for he had first introduced Kleberg to the family after the young lawyer had won a suit against King.

The captain, a man of action, had forthwith fired his own lawyer and hired Kleberg. It was inevitable that Kleberg should marry the youngest King daughter, Alice, a few years after her father's death.

Kleberg turned out to be as brilliant a cattle man as a lawyer. He put the ranch on a firm foundation. He drilled the first artesian wells in south Texas, to water the cattle he imported from England.

Backed by his mother-in-law, a remarkable woman who lived to be 92, he built the big, $350,000 main house at Santa Gertrudis, with its great window of Tiffany glass and its thick walls designed to keep out the heat and bandits from south of the border.

In 1916, when Pancho Villa and his raiders were harassing the border, Henrietta King—then 81—called in the help and prepared for attack. The indomitable old lady handed out guns and prepared to command the battle.

However, the raiders never got as far north as the Santa Gertrudis division. They attacked, instead, the Norias division in the south, and killed one King employe.

Another employe was kidnapped by the raiders. And here the script can use a little comedy relief, based on hard fact. The bandits were addicted to peanuts, and the King cowboys had only to trace the peanut shells in order to follow the raiders and release their co-worker.

When Robert Kleberg, sr. died in 1932, his son, Robert, jr., was ready to take over the management of the huge ranch.

Little Bother

—By ANNE CAMPBELL

The little bother starts the day
By getting up too early.
He laughs his mother's yawns away;
His teeth are new and pearly.
Good humor shines from his blue eyes,
Still dewy from his rest.
The broken words, the small replies
Are from his heart expressed.

The little bother all day long
Is interrupting mother.
She sings a pretty good-night song
To him and his big brother.
He likes to play with cooking pans:
He throws the ashtrays down,
And mother views her little man's Performance with a frown.

But some day she will think with warm
Long thoughts of little bother,
And wish that she could put her arm
Around him, when another
Decade has passed. These busy years
Will seem so precious then,
That she will wish, perhaps through tears,
He'd bother her again!

It Says Here:

—By KEN WOODMAN

WELL, it's good to see some life being injected into Mansfield's primary campaign. It looked for a while as if Deweyitis had set in. But Tom Wright's friends are giving it a real "Truman tempo" now, if they'll pardon the Democratic allusion.

* * *

A lively campaign is important to more than just the candidates. It arouses interest in the city government itself and it brings more voters to the polls, which is important in a democracy.

* * *

It might be pointed out that campaigns can be vigorous without resorting to mud-slinging. And there is every indication so far that this one will be clean. There's certainly enough to discuss in the present and future of Mansfield so that no one will have to resort to talking about the weather.

Bang's Test Plan Gains In Holmes

Approval Is Given Sixth Township

MILLERSBURG — Richland township, is the sixth township in Holmes county to receive approval for a township-wide Bang's test, S. N. McIntosh, county agent, states. Petitions asking for the test were circulated by farmers of the township and filed with the state veternarian's office.

Testing of dairy herds will get under way at once. They will be made by Dr. James Walker of the state veternarian's office. Testing for Bang's disease has been completed in four townships, namely, Walnut Creek, Killbuck, Monroe and Knox.

Hardy township still is in the process of being tested however, completion of the test is expected in the near future. In the initial test in townships tested, the number of reactors amounted to five per cent of the cattle tested, officials said.

LUCAS — "Family night" will be observed when Lucas high school athletes and cheerleaders are feted at an annual banquet in the school cafeteria Friday night. Mansfielder Harry Mehock will be the speaker of the evening, John "Big Dit" Ditwiler will be the master of ceremonies and Mrs. Carl Heilman will be general chairman of the Mothers club sponsored event.

Forty-four guests of honor will be seated at prettily decorated and well stocked banquet tables in the school's dining room while others attending the affair will be served cafeteria style in the school kitchen. All members of community families interested in well filled baskets and table service for members of their family that are not to be seated at the special table.

Presentation of "letter" awards to the outstanding athletes of the season will be a feature of the evening along with the formal program and a few surprise features.

Members of the "food" committee are Mrs. William Sweezie, Mrs. Paul J. Lee, Mrs. Louis Barr, Mrs. Charles Doggett, Mrs. Chester Byerly, Mrs. Sidney Baughman, Mrs. Ruth McCammon and Mrs. Bayard Jones.

Mrs. Joseph Hawkins heads the table committee composed of Mrs. Forest Pore, Mrs. D. D. Orewiler and Mrs. John Berger.

Table decorations will be arranged by Mrs. Harvey Russell, Mrs. Fred Mowers, Mrs. Hilbert Schrack, Mrs. Paul Hawkins and Mrs. Merle Nichols.

Waitresses will be Mrs. Charles Flenner, Mrs. Donald Rummel, Mrs. Roy Niswander and Mrs. Gene McMillan.

Officers of the sponsoring organization are: Mrs. Doyle Stake, president; Mrs. Russell Kohler, vice president; Mrs. Heilman, treasurer and Mrs. Kenneth Cooke, secretary.

Bolt Hits House

PLYMOUTH — Thursday morning, about five o'clock, during the electrical storm, the newly built house of Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Miller, north of Plymouth, was struck by lightning, damaging the wiring of the house and the electrical appliances.

POST OFFICE SAYS SHAUCK—Here A. Frank Hershner, 75-year-old Johnsville native, is seen leaving the post office building on the town's square. It proclaims the village to be Shauck.

Family Rivalry Gives Town Two Names

Drawing Loser Also Wins

By BILL HERRING
News-Journal State Editor

SHAUCK — This northeastern Morrow county village is known as Johnsville to the community but mapmakers prefer the post office listing of Shauck, O. Mail handled here bears the Shauck stamp but local business enterprises are known as Johnsville stores.

Community leaders, who were brothers-in-law, get the blame for the confusion arising since the town was founded in the past century. One named Johns won the lot drawing to determine after which one the village would be named. The loser was Erin Shauck.

As there is another Johnsville in Ohio-along Route 40 near the Indiana line-authorities chose Shauck as the 'official' name for the village.

This is a staid community of 400 persons without a leading industry—although it once boasted a buggy works and the Shauck water mill still serves the community at a different location. The largest building is the Perry township consolidated school where seven school buses transport elementary and high school students to their classrooms.

The original Shauck mill was located at the edge of Clear Fork creek but Henry Shauck and his sons, Charles and Arthur, sold their interests to Reuben Harvey who operates the present mill at the east end of town. Reuben does general milling-specializing in the sale of feeds, seeds and fertilizers. What wheat is brought to the local mill is taken to Reuben's father's mill in Edison to be milled and the flour returned here for distribution.

The old buggy works was operated by Charley Parsons and Harve Shenefield with George Horn as body maker.

A. Frank Hershner, a 75-year-old native who recalls Johnsville as an 'old' city while in his youth, says the village has two churches. One is the United Brethern church and the other a United All Bright church. He explains it resulted from an Asherite split-up that found half the congregation failing to make a permanent church at Steam Corners following a tiff between rival bishops here.

The post office, on the town's square, is linked with Bellville and Mt. Gilead rural deliveries. Shauck does not have any railroad hence commercial passenger traffic is handled by bus lines.

"We get the Mansfield News-Journal delivered to our door now," Hershner proudly stated. "Before we received it through the mails-a day late on issue."

Johnsville, alias Shauck, owes its foundation and growth to the Shauck family. The family, originally Swiss and later crossed with German strains, has a proud heritage in American history.

★

It is quite likely the man who first bore the name, which means rocker in German, was a worker in wood and a manufacturer of chairs. A prominent figure in the Shauck family history is Capt. Alexis Lemmon, an Englishman by birth who fought for the colonies in the Revolutionary War and married a Shauck.

The Henry Shauck white colonial style residence stands fronting the square in the center of this town although no Shauck family member occupies it now.

At nearby Brook Hollow farm in Richland county, near Darlington, Mrs. Frank E. Peat, wife of a Cleveland consulting engineer and an artist for many children's magazines, is a Shauck descendant and has one of the few remaining Shauck family histories.

Shauck family reunions started Aug. 24, 1882 when the William H. Shauck family initiated annual family gatherings featuring picnic dinners.

This town was named after the family and the first brick business building here was built by Moses Shauck. John Shauck served on the state supreme court. The Shauck family is one of Morrow county's most distinguished and substantial families.

JOHNSVILLE TO MOTORISTS—Road signs upon entering the nearby Morrow county village proclaim it Johnsville. On the town's square the post office building window is lettered Shauck.

Bucyrus Elks Honor Dentist

BUCYRUS — Dr. Robert L. Marquart, local dentist, will be installed as exalted ruler of the Bucyrus Elks lodge at ceremonies on Thursday night, April 7.

The Bucyrus dentist was named to head the local lodge at the annual election held Thursday night. He will succeed Carl Kaplanoff.

Other newly-elected officers include William Hudson, leading knight; L. F. Kinnett, a past exalted ruler, loyal knight, and Marion Reynolds, lecturing knight. Holdover officers include: secretary, Clerk of Courts Joe M. Royer; treasurer, Foster F. Corfman; tiler, S. J. Schell and trustees, Cline Warnock and A. E. Socin.

School Contacts Shelby Parents

SHELBY — Parents of eighth grade students in the Shelby schools, both public and parochial, were busily engaged in plannning the careers of their youngsters during the past week.

Proceeded by a visit to the various eighth grades by Robert Wendland, guidance instructor at the high school, the parents received forms from the principals office setting up the schoolastic subjects of the prospective high school students for the next four years. The parents and the youngsters planned the future schoolastic careers together then forward the completed forms to the high school for review and acceptance preparation.

By this means the student knows before hand the "must" subjects required for the four years and can also plan his schedule to fit in with his future plans for college or business.

2 to Share Welfare Job In Ashland

Action Follows Secretary Quitting

ASHLAND — Named to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Ann Williams, executive secretary of the Ashland County Child Welfare board are Wayne H. Strine, superintendent of the county children's home and Mrs. Virginia Mohn.

The two will divide the work of the executive secretaryship with Strine continuing as children's home superintendent. Strine will serve as administration officer of the welfare board with Mrs. Mohn serving as case worker.

She will continue as probation officer for the county probate court, combining the two jobs into a full-time position. Increases in salary will be paid the two to compensate them for their extra work.

Mrs. Williams was the first to serve as executive secretary of the welfare board, a position created to add impetus to the program for children of the county. She is leaving to accept a welfare position in Cleveland.

Limited Stops for Retiring Railroader

Final Run Precedent-Breaker

By GAYL METZGER
N-J State Correspondent

BUCYRUS — A 42 year career as a railway mail clerk ended last week for Joseph L. Fields, 63, Bucyrus, who will remember his final run as a precedent-breaker.

Out of tribute to the retiring postal worker, the Pennsylvania railroad's crack Broadway Limited, which never makes anything but an emergency stop between Fort Wayne and Crestline, halted here to discharge one person — Fields.

The retiring mail clerk, who was born and reared in Marion county, started as a railway mail substitute clerk Nov. 26, 1906, on the Big Four mainline between Cleveland and St. Louis. The following year he was assigned to the chief clerk's office in Crestline, where he remained until 1913 when he shifted to the mail car duty.

After 22 years, he was made clerk in charge in 1935 on the crew working eastward on the Broadway Limited from Chicago to Pittsburgh and westward on the same run aboard Train No. 113.

During his 36 years of road service, Fields never has been in a serious railroad wreck. One time he and his crew were shaken up "a little" when the engine jumped the track, he recalled.

★

The Bucyrian was on duty on the Broadway Limited back in 1938 when it was converted into a streamlined train, the pacemaker of the Pennsylvania passenger fleet. Only a couple weeks ago it was further modernized with the installation of all new equipment.

JOSEPH L. FIELDS

Fields, who will receive a comfortable pension, plans on an extended trip to the west coast in a few months with his wife, the former Frances Ault of Morrow county. They have three children, Mrs. Martha Katonak of Canton, Miss Dora Jane, who graduated this month from Ohio State university, and Dr. Joseph E. Fields, a chemist at the Monsanto Research Laboratories in Dayton.

With his retirement, Fields plans to give more attention to his two hobbies — light carpentry and flower gardening. He has transformed the attic of his home into a lounge and library, building most of the bookcases and furniture himself. His large garden includes hundreds of shrubs and flowers.

Recently his crew held an informal party for their retiring chief and presented him with a movie camera. The crew is a veteran one, all of them having at least 25 years RPO service and four of them had been with Fields more than 10 years.

The crewmen included: D. H. Miller and J. B. Smith of Pittsburgh, H. C. Auman and Joseph Jones of Canton, G. R. Daniel of Doylestown, C. B. Dougherty of Orrville and W. J. Bernard of North Canton.

Among those who greeted him when the Broadway Limited halted here was his father, E. F. Fields, 87, Caledonia. Harry Fryer of Crestline was conductor and C. L. Jordan of Fort Wayne, engineer of the Broadway.

Ashland Group Now Rehearsing

ASHLAND — The stage of McDowell auditorium will be filled Sunday, May 1 with Ashland housewives, laborers, clerks, teachers and students, together with professional musicians. They comprise the personnel of the Ashland symphony orchestra which will stage its first concert since 1946.

Rehearsals have been under way since the Christmas holidays under the direction of Dr. Louis E. Pete, Ashland high school director of music. All interested musicians who could qualify were accepted for membership in the orchestra.

Route Woes In Shelby Up To Council

Debate Due Monday On Proposed Change

SHELBY — Monday's council meeting here will be featured by discussion over the proposed extension of North Broadway to Route 61. Council last month forwarded a letter of approval to the county commissioners who in turn forwarded their recommendation to the State Highway department.

Council received a petition bearing 61 signatures of merchants in the affected area stating proposal will retard business and general growth of the city. At the same time petitions are in circulation in the North Broadway section that will benefit from the proposed routing and these are expected to reach council tomorrow.

The proposed routing is intended to divert heavy truck traffic from the main streets.

Card Index File Completed By Tiro-Auburn Fire Unit

TIRO — The tedious work of completing the card index file of all property protected against fire by the Tiro-Auburn Fire department has been completed it was announced last week by Fire Chief M. C. Gooding.

Officials and members of the volunteer fire department have made a file card for each set of buildings in Auburn township rural areas and in the part of Vernon Township covered by the fire district.

The cards list the name of the owner the location, sources of water supply at the place or near by and have a map of the township on the back with the nearest route to the buildings marked. Each set of buildings has been given a number designating the property and the number is listed on both the card and the map as well as a large map at the fire department.

Another card was given to the owner or occupant of the farm for posting near the telephone giving the number of the property and the phone number of the fire department. These cards were recently distributed by Chief Gooding, L. M. Pope, president of the fire department, Fireman De Forrest Ervin and Trustee James Wiley.

The Tiro-Auburn Fired department now has a modern fire fighter, a good auxilary water truck equiped with a portable pump and ladders, the old Tiro chemical outfit, chemical masks, rubber clothing, etc. A large amount of the recently acquired equipment was paid for by money raised by the firemen including the proceeds of the firemens festival last fall.

A practice being used by a number of farm owners in the district has come to the attention of fire department officials who recommend it to all rural residents. Last years auto or truck license plates have been used by some farmers to designate the fire number of the property by painting the number in large letters on the back of the plate and then tacking them on a fence post.

Anyone passing the farm and seeing a fire would be able to report the fire by reporting the number to the fire department.

The members of the fire department attended the regular meeting Friday night to become familiar with the working of the card system.

Trustees of Sandusky township are considering an offer of fire protection for that township made by the Tiro-Auburn officials.

Grange In North Fairfield 75 Years Old On Thursday

NORTH FAIRFIELD — Organized on April 7, 1874, North Fairfield Grange will observe its 75th birthday on Thursday with a county-wide celebration planned, to be held in the North Fairfield Masonic Temple, beginning at 8:30 p. m.

J. A. Frost, State Grange master at the time, organized the Grange in the YMCA room, the scene of a number of subsequent meetings. In 1877, the Grange opened one of the few co-operative stores, which functioned successfully for several years.

The Grange was organized with 37 charter members, and today, two descendants of that original group still are functioning. Mrs. Martha Niles, is the daughter of the late Elvira Hinckley, while A. M. Woodworth, present Grange business agent, is a great nephew of James Woodworth, gatekeeper of the original grange.

Since organization, North Fairfield Grange has had it's "ups and downs", having no regular Grange home. However, three years ago, the Grange began a forward move, picked up new life and purchased its own home. Today, this Grange, in a community of 450, has a membership of 82 and still is growing.

The anniversary program will open with a Grange history, from 1874 till the present, by C. R. Hindley, talks by visiting Grange officers and an address by Gus Umbach of Sandusky, special Ohio Grange deputy, in charge of youth activities. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

North Fairfield has an active Juvenile Grange, with Myrta Kime, matron, and Elizabeth Atherton, assistant. Both Grange groups meet monthly, on the second and fourth Thursday nights under the direction of these officers: Richard Baxter, master; Clarence Hindley, overseer; Donald Phillips, lecturer, Anthony Meyers, steward; Carl Trembley, assistant steward; Blanche Vogel, chaplain; Lee Gordon, treasurer; Lenora Baxter, secretary; Leon Atherton, gatekeeper; Martha Hindley, ceres; Orlena Trembley, pomona, Ora Meyers, flora; Marie Baumyer, lady assistant steward; Charlotte Gordon, home economics chairman and pianist; R. B. Kime, legislative agent; A. M. Woodworth, business agent; Victor Ross, A. M. Woodworth, Paul Vogel, executive committee.

Yes. this is the home of the "fighting falcons." We'll attempt to give you a quick falcon's eye view of the campus and a few of the activities which take place.

When you hear the name Bowling Green. immediately it comes to your mind that the Bee Gee basketball falcons are really on the ball. The team and athletic director, Harold Anderson. are nationally known.

Something new. that has been added to the sports rivalry at Bee Gee, is the "peace pipe" between Toledo and the falcons The winner of the game is declared possessor of the trophy for one year. The huge symbol of calm between the schools now hangs in the Falcon's Nest on the Bowling Green campus.

Basketball isn't the only sport that ranks in the minds of students on this northwestern campus They have football, baseball. track. swimming, tennis. golf, wrestling and cross-county, too.

The girls also have an important part of campus life at Bowling Green. They add the glamour to every game. In the fall a whole weekend is devoted just to dances, dinner and the big football game. When the stands are bright with pennants. fur coats, blankets. and mums, the queen and her lovely court are presented.

Bowling Green hasn't the history other universities and colleges in Ohio have. In 1910 the general assembly passed an act authorizing the governor to appoint a commission to locate two new normal schools. They chose Bowling Green for the school in northwestern Ohio.

The first classes were conducted in the present administration and science buildings in September of 1915. In 1929 the name of the institution was changed to Bowling Green State college. and authorized the establishment of courses leading to the degrees of bachelor of arts and bachelor of science.

Again in 1935 the name of the school was changed. This time it was christened Bowling Green State University. and they began courses in a College of Liberal Arts and a College of Business Administration. They also could grant the degree of master of arts.

One year after the university was founded an Artists Series was started. The aim of the series is to acquaint the students with some of the notable personalities.

This season's program included the U. S. Marine Band, Eva Jessye Choir, Fritz Kreisler. John W. Vandercook. Andre Maurois. Cornelia Otis Skinner, the Pittsburgh Symphony, Max Eastman and Martha Graham and her modern dance company.

To attend these performances a student must only produce their activity card which was purchased at the beginning of the year.

Construction of new sorority houses along sorority row and fraternity houses east of Kohl hall are the pride of the members of the Greeks.

Bowling Green offers nine national sororities and two local organizations. Nine national fraternities and three local groups add to the extra activities on the already busy campus.

DOUBLE WEDDING TO BE HELD IN CRESTLINE APR. 23

Twin Daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hodle To Be Wed In First Methodist Church.

CRESTLINE—Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hodle, North Henry street, are announcing the approaching double wedding of their twin daughters, Nila Fae and Twila Rae, April 23.

Nila will marry Daryl E. Pfleiderer of Bucyrus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Pfleiderer, R. D. 1, Bucyrus. Twila's bridegroom-to-be is Daniel M. Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Snyder, North Henry street, Crestline.

The double wedding will be performed by Rev. C. L. Yoder at the First Methodist church in Crestline at 7:30 p. m. The custom of open church will be observed for the double-ring ceremonies.

Both brides-elect were graduated from Crestline high school and Tiffin university. Nila is employed as secretary to Arthur Nagin whose offices are in the Richland Trust building, Mansfield. Twila is employed by the North Electric company, Galion. Mr. Pfleiderer is a graduate of Holmes-Liberty high school and is an employe of the Zeigler Milling company in Bucyrus. Mr. Snyder is a graduate of Crestline high school and is a student at the International Business university, Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Joanne Braden Becomes Bride Of Mr. Manring

GALION—Announcement was made this week by Mr. and Mrs. Harley E. Braden of Route 2, Galion, of the marraige of their daughter, Joanne Maxine, to Robert Lohr Manring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manring of Route 3, Galion.

The couple went to Greenup, Ky., for their wedding, where Rev. B. L. Allen officiated for the single ring ceremony in First Methodist church at 2:45 o'clock, March 24.

The bride wore a dress of ice blue crepe, made with long tucked waist, tiny puffed sleeves, and the street-length skirt was pleated. She completed her outfit with a dusty rose ruffled hat and matching mitts, and wore a double strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. Rosebuds were used in her corsage.

Miss Ethel Jean Manring, sister of the bridegroom, and Howard Sulser, were the attendants. Miss Manring was attired in a gray dress with bustle back skirt and matching accessories.

The former Miss Braden was graduated from Iberia high school She will remain with her parents, southeast of Galion, while her husband is in service. He is now stationed with the U.S. Army in Texas. He attended Martel high school, and was associated with Dr M E. Epperson in the veterinarian hospital, here, before entering the armed forces.

CHAPTER MEETING

The Mansfield chapter of Hadassah will hold its regular luncheon meeting on Wednesday, April 6, at 1 p. m. at the temple on Cook road. A musical program will be given with Mrs. Joseph Koval, a well known artist from Cleveland, presenting an interpretive illustration of Jewish music on the piano. Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Sol Doppelt, Mrs. Lester Zavelson and Mrs. Martin Goodman. The following meeting will be the election of officers, May 4.

Miss Zwehlan To Be Wed To Harold Blum

CRESTLINE—Mr. and Mrs. John Zwehlan of Park road are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Shirlee, to Harold R. Blum, son of A. J. and the late Mrs. Blum of Vernon township.

The wedding will take place May 29 at 4:30 p. m. at the Evangelical Lutheran church. Rev. W. L. Margard will perform the double ring ceremony. The custom of open church will be observed with a reception following in the church parlors.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Crestline high school and is an employe of the North Electric company in Galion Mr. Blum is a graduate of Crestline high school and attended the Commercial Trade institute, in Chicago. He is an employe of the Pennsylvania railroad.

MRS. ROBERT RICE

Robert Rice Takes Cleveland Girl as Bride On March 26

ANNOUNCEMENT is being made of the marriage of Miss Shirley Jean Boettner, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Boettner, 4360 East Boulevard, S. E. Cleveland to Robert Rice, son of Mrs. Kay Rice, 136½ Wood street, Mansfield. Nuptial vows were exchanged March 26 at 7:30 p. m. in a formal ceremony at the Miles Avenue Church of Christ, Cleveland.

Rev. Ray M. Wolford officiated in the presence of many relatives and friends. Background for the service was of smilax, cymbodium ferns and vases of white flowers. Tall seven branch candelabra illuminated the pretty scene.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory satin gown, fashioned with fitted bodice, buttoned down the front, and made with a Peter Pan collar. The collar and sleeves were edged with seed pearls in a leaf design. Her fingertip illusion veil was held in place with clusters of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white violets, camelias and fresia.

Mrs. Gwynne Myers of Cleveland served as matron of honor, wearing an apple green taffeta frock, made with boat neckline, fitted bodice, trimmed with bands of deeper green velvet which circled the waist and with velvet bows at the shoulder.

Bridesmaids were Miss Janet Boettner and Miss Nancy Boettner, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. William Kranstuber of Cleveland, a close friend. Their gowns were made like the matron of honor's. They carried bouquets of purple violets and ivy and wore ivy coronets on the head.

Maurice B. Rice jr. of Mansfield served as best man and ushers were Robert Boettner, brother of the bride, and Martin Bricker of Mansfield, and William Kranstuber of Cleveland.

Following the service a reception was held at Wade Park Manor. After a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. the couple will reside at Kiski School, Saltsburg, Pa.

The bride was graduated from Wooster College and the groom from Denison university.

Weddings of Bucyrus Couples Highlight Social Season

BUCYRUS—At an open church ceremony Sunday afternoon at Grace Evangelical United Brethren church here Miss Jeanette Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Shaw, Bucyrus, became the bride of Army Recruit Richard Weirick, formerly of Martel.

The double ring service was read by Rev. J. Paul Jones. A sister of the bride, Mrs. Donald Schnabel, was matron of honor and Mrs. Robert Williams and Mrs. Elizabeth Loverich were bridesmaids. Harold Neff of Marion was best man and ushers were Howard Fulton of Crestline, Harold Parr of Bucyrus, Raymond Pangborn and James Downs of Martel.

The bride was gowned in white satin, fashioned with a slight train and sleeveless. A fingertip nylon veil was attached to a string of pearls, worn around the head.

The new Mrs. Weirick will remain with her parents here when her husband reports for traing at Fort Bliss, Texas. She attended Bucyrus high school and has been employed at the General Electric Company here. Mr. Weirick attended Martel school.

* * *

BUCYRUS — Announcement was made here of the marriage of Miss Maxine LeMaster and Samuel Sniff, which was solemnized Friday in Portsmouth at the home of Rev. Robert McAlister, Baptist minister, who performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hasten LeMaster of Lucasville. She has been employed for several months at the New Method Laundry here.

Mr. Sniff, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sniff, Bucyrus, is employed at the Swan Rubber Co. here. They will live in Bucyrus.

BANQUET PLANNED

BUCYRUS — A mother-daughter banquet will be sponsored again this year by the St. Paul's Lutheran Brotherhood, E. A. Myers, brotherhood president, reported today. The affair will be held at the church on Tuesday night, May 10. President Myers announced that committees to make arrangements for the banquet will be named in the near future.

Three Guest Speakers Tell of Lenten Observances to DAR

"Easter in Many Lands" was the topic of the program given Friday for members of Jared Mansfield chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Their session was held in undercroft of the Grace Episcopal church with the regent, Mrs. John T. Shook, presiding.

Mrs. Kenneth A. Buhr, program chairman, introduced the guest speakers.

Miss Anastasia, who told of Easter customs in Sicily, spoke of the Lenten season and how it is observed by the dominating religion, Catholic. John Proicou told the members of the traditions connected with this time of year in Macedonia.

"Lent is observed in Macedonia by all people attending church services regularly and keeping the Lenten rules," Mr. Proicou said.

The country of Puerto Rico was the subject of Mrs. Al Preyer's talk. She told of her home country's observance of the 40 days of Lent. During Holy Week no schools are in session and the stores are closed.

Mrs. Shook reported on the jubilee conference held in Cleveland, March 14. She said that Jared Mansfield chapter received three honorable mentions for their work during the past year.

Other reports of the conference were given by Mrs. Howard E. McClure, Miss Lola Swineford and Mrs. Fred Aeberli.

Refreshments were served following the meeting by the committee, Mrs. Paul M. Eliot, chairman, Mrs. R. F. Miller, Mrs. Mae Moore, Mrs. Earl Paxton, Mrs. Charles Pence, Mrs. Elmer Post, Mrs. Donald E. Price, Mrs. Grover Swoyer, Mrs. C. W. Keckler and Mrs. Mary Metzger.

The next session will be held May 6, at which time there will be a report of the Continental Congress. Mrs. L. E. Burnelle, state chairman of approved schools, will be the guest speaker.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Brinkerhoff Spear. Miss Mollie A. Rhodes, Miss Gayle C. Rife, Mrs. Paul Ruckman, Mrs. W. E. Shane, Mrs. Frances Scattergood, Mrs. Charles A. Seaman, Mrs. W. L. Seemuth, Mrs. G. F. Sellers and Mrs. H. L. Princehorn.

Dolly Madison Club members will meet Tuesday, April 5, for a covered dish dinner at 6:30 p. m. at Johns park. Mrs. George Bell will serve as hostess chairman.

MEET MONDAY

Members or the Ritual committee, Women of the Moose, will meet Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Wayne McFarland, 158 Lexington avenue, with Mrs. Clifford Crosby as associate hostess.

Plastic Items Become Popular In All Forms and Shapes

By JEAN SCHWEITZ

Remember back in the days when the only things you had in your house that were made of plastic were your tooth brush handle and your soap dish? It's hard to believe that now every room in your house utilizes plastic in some way and to very good advantage.

Today you can have everything from a high ball glass to a lamp shade in plastic and the product is improving all the time. One of the fastest selling plastic items is a decorative plaque that can be placed over your wall switch (they come in colors to match almost any wall) to eliminate smudgy finger prints and enchance the beauty of your walls. A lever on the plaque turns the light off and on.

Another fascinating new plastic product is the ice bucket with the transparent cover so that you can see how much ice is left without lifting the cover and thus losing the thermos-like quality of the ordinary ice bucket. This plastic ice container retains its freezing properties for twelve hours and can also be used to retain heat. It holds three quarts and sells for $6.95 which is an improvement in price over the more conventional buckets in another material.

Those high ball glasses we mentioned are not in an ordinary plastic. It's called poly-T and is a soft plastic that has the elastic feel of rubber. They come in the softest, most beautiful shades that you see in very fine dress fabrics and would enhance any bar. They are of course, break-proof.

One item that really amazed us was a shaker that containes both salt and pepper with no visible means of separation. But by turning a lever marked S, out pours salt and the P lever releases the pepper. Instructions come with it to tell you which side to put the salt in.

You've probably seen the plastic telephone covers. What amazed us was that they come in almost any color to blend in with any room your telephone is placed. Some of the colors are dark brown, gold, white, green, grey, red, pink, blue and yellow. They fit right over your telephone and receiver with no trouble on your part at all.

Of course you've seen all the plastic doll furniture for children that's been a sell-out all over the country. Now there's a new wrinkle in toys for your little girl. It's a plastic refreshment set, with a tiny pitcher and different sized glasses, that looks for all the world like fine crystal but when you feel the material it's an indestructable transparent plastic.

House numbers in a luminous plastic will help your guests find your house in record time and may eliminate all that spotlighting from their car which is liable to bring the whole neighborhood to their windows to see what's up. These numbers will glow through fog and darkness and can be bought for a very nominal price.

A boon to the housewife is a tomato ketchup pump in a bright cheery red that fits right over your ketchup bottle and acts as both a cap and a pump. This, of course, eliminates the sloppy drippings of the ketchup all over your clean table cloth and also assures an even flow of the seasoning so that the exact amount required can be measured out. We guarantee that your ketchup bottle will last much longer with this new pump.

We about gave up the other day when we walked into a store and asked for an ordinary biscuit cutter. We didn't notice any tin ones and were ready for a disappointment, when out the clerk marched with a gay little red plastic biscuit cutter with a plunger on the top to release the biscuit. We made our purchase and wondered just when plastic overcoats would be an ordinary sight on passersby.

Thrifty Needlers Meet At McMillens

The Thrifty Needlers met Thursday evening for a covered dish dinner at the home of Mrs. Eugene McMillen, Balliet road, Lucas. Birthday gifts were presented to Mrs. John Jordan of Ashland, Mrs. Sam Thatcher, and little Judy Jordan, of Ashland.

After the meeting contests were played with prizes awarded to Mrs. Glenn McMillen, and Mrs. Earl Fox. A display of homemade Easter bonnets will be featured at the next meeting, April 14 at the home of Mrs. John George, 317 Park avenue west.

Presbyterian Circles To Meet Thursday

Circles of the First Presbyterian church will convene Thursday for their respective sessions.

Circle One will meet at the home of Mrs. E. B. Davis, 557 Park avenue west for a 1:30 dessert luncheon. Mrs. Carl B. Gibson and Mrs. Charles Weaver will assist the hostesses.

Mrs. George W. Fox, 79 Sherman avenue, will be hostess for Circle Two's dessert luncheon at 1:30 o'clock. Mrs. Henry Smith and Mrs. G. W. Fox jr., are the associate hostesses. Mrs. C. A. McClure, Mrs. Duane Sheller and Mrs. E. D. Flinn will serve as the assistant hostesses for Mrs. Milo W. Hieber, 1900 Springmill road, when she is hostess to members of Circle Three. Miss Henrietta Frank will review the book, "New England Churches."

A dessert luncheon at 1:15 will be held by Circle Four at the home of Mrs. R. Nelson Neff, 619 Harter avenue. Assisting Mrs. Neff will be Mrs. J. H. Sanford and Mrs. H. D. Klee. Mrs. C. W. Chew will have the devotions and a guest speaker will talk on "The Christian Home." The business women of Circle Four will meet with Mrs. A. C. Kell, 598 Brae Burn road, at 8 p. m.

Three Guilds To Convene This Week

Several guilds of the Grace Episcopal church will meet during the next week.

The Altar Guild will hold their spring all-day work session on Wednesday, beginning at 10:30 a. m. Mrs. Harry R. Rhonehouse, directress of the Guild, will be in charge of the meeting in the church.

Immediately following the noon-day service of Holy Communion Thursday, St. Margaret's Guild will have their monthly luncheon meeting at 1 o'clock. Hostesses for the luncheon will be Mrs. M. E. Geipel. Mrs. Robert R. Black, Mrs. Ralph E. Race and Mrs. Mary K. Metzger. Mrs. Stanley A. Richardson will present the program, and Mrs. Harry E. Cave, president, will preside at the business session.

Mrs. A. L. McConnell, president of St. Agnes Guild, will meet on Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the undercroft of the church. Refreshments will be served by the hostesses, Mrs. Eva Buchanan, Miss Louise Elliott and Mrs. M. A. LeBarre.

Evening Guild Convenes

The Evening branch of the Women's Guild of St. John's church met Friday in the church. Five guests were in attendance. They were Mrs. Clara Ritter, Miss Rose Schuff, Mrs. Thelbert Nickolaus, Mrs. W. H. Schaus and the guest speaker, Miss Bertha Ruess.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Owen Fighter, using as her topic "One in the Bond of Peace —In Worship." Mrs. Louis Letizia was appointed as delegate, with Mrs. Dwight Ashbaugh as alternate, to the Guild Regional meeting to be held in Marion, April 20.

Miss Ruess reviewed the aims of the Guild, to unite all the women of the church in Christian fellowship, to develop an understanding of the work of the entire church, to deepen spiritual life, to stimulate sacrificial giving and to promote Christian service in the home, church, community, nation and the world. She said the home is the basis for Christian training, and that we must give our time and talents, as well as money.

Refreshments were served from a table appointed in green and yellow ducks, carrying baskets of eggs as favors. Hostesses were Mrs. Edna Erdenberger and Mrs. Joseph Laibach.

NEW MEMBERS WELCOMED

Four new members were admitted to the White Star club at the session held at the home of Mrs. Harold Stull, R. D. 30 east. Miss Barbara Funston demonstrated how to pull a thread to straighten a piece of material. Refreshments were served at a late hour. Miss Funston will be the hostess on April 12.

MEET MONDAY

"Socialized Medicine" will be the topic of the round table discussion to be held by members of the Women's Auxiliary to the Richland County Medical Society Monday at the Women's Club. Hostesses for the luncheon meeting at 1 o'clock will be Mrs. Charles F. Curtis and Mrs. Wendell Bell.

A new handy scalloper made of plastic will be a help to the home sewer. It does not curl, remains flat and also serves as a ruler and a button spacer.

WED MARCH 19—Miss Mary Elaine Maxwell and Eugene Luedy exchanged nuptial vows March 19 before the altar of the First English Lutheran church with Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell officiating for the candlelight double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Maxwell, 343 Bartley street. Mr. Luedy is the son of Mrs. John Schmidt, 304 Remy avenue. Mrs. Max R. Spayde, a friend of the bride, was the matron of honor. The bridegroom's brother, John Luedy, served as best man. A reception for 100 guests followed the ceremony, at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Miss Ruth Dunham Becomes Bride of Bruce Whiting

IN A PRETTY CANDLELIGHT service at the Bay Village Methodist church, Bay Village, O., Miss Ruth Dunham, 107 Sherman avenue, and Bruce I. Whiting, 259 Park avenue west, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The nuptial vows were exchanged in the presence of many relatives and friends, including 30 guests from Mansfield.

The custom of open church was observed when Rev. Ralph Alton, pastor of the First Methodist church in Massillon, read the double ring ceremony. He was assisted by Rev. Allen Kreke of the Bay Village church. Mr. Foster Hotchkiss of Baldwin-Wallace college played the program of organ music preceding the service and Mrs. Hector Hughes of Bay Village was the soloist.

Palms, two seven branch candelabra and altar baskets of pink and white glads formed a colorful background for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother, Donald J. Dunham of Bay Village, the bride wore a gray sheer street length dress, made with a long peplum. The trim of the frock was Venetian cutwork at the neckline and around the peplum and blouse. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She wore a pink and gray felt hat and black accessories. Her bouquet was composed of pink and white glads and snapdragons with an orchid center, which was later used as her going-away corsage.

Miss Esther Dunham of Athens, Ohio, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a turquoise sheer frock with black accessories and her bouquet was of pink and orchid in a darker shade than those carried by the bride.

Mrs. Donald J. Dunham of Bay Village, sister-in-law of the bride, was attired in a white print dress with chartreuse and golden brown design. Her corsage was of Johanna Hill roses.

Richard Whiting of Chicago served his father as best man. Ushering the guests to their pews were Howard and Robert Dunham of Kalamazoo, Mich., nephews of the bride. Robert Johnson of Bay Village and Frank Elias of Mansfield.

Following the wedding service a reception for 100 guests was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Dunham. The serving table was dainty with pink and white flowers and lighted tapers and centered with a tiered wedding cake. Preceding were the Misses Betty and Jacqueline Dunham of Bay Village, nieces of the bride.

After a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Whiting will return to Mansfield to reside at 107 Sherman avenue.

Both the bride and groom attended Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., where they received their master's degrees.

Mrs. Whiting was graduated from Cleveland Law school and admitted to the Ohio Bar. She is national secretary of Theta Upsilon and affiliated with Phi Delta Theta. Mr. Whiting is a member of Delta Tau Delta and Sigma Xi, national honorary fraternity in science.

Mrs. Whiting is an instructor of Latin at Mansfield Senior high school and Mr. Whiting is employed as an engineer at Barnes Manufacturing company.

On Friday evening a rehearsal party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, Bay Village. Associate hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Keenan. Twenty-one guests were in attendance for the informal party honoring the bridal party.

Guests at the wedding and reception were from Mansfield. Athens, Kalamazoo, Mich., Port Huron, Massillon, Oak Park, Ill., Evanston, Ill., Keokuk, Iowa, and Grand Rapids, Mich.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

GALION — On her 90th birthday anniversary, Wednesday, Mrs. L. J. Derrow spent the time in transplanting her window garden plants. She makes her home with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Derrow, 308 Orange street. Last Sunday, Mrs. Derrow was guest of honor at a family dinner, here. Grandchildren and great grandchildren were present. Two years ago, Mrs. Derrow came to Galion from Shelby.

GOOD WILL CLUB

Mrs. Robert McLaughlin, 43 Penn avenue, entertained members of the Good Will club at her home, Thursday afternoon. Luncheon was served after which five hundred was the diversion. Mrs. H. C. McLaughlin won the high score prize. The next meeting will be a dinner party on April 28.

Mansfield Man Solves Low-Interest Dilemma

"Ten years ago I thought I was all set for the future and knew where I was coming out. But as things are now, I find myself all confused."

These were the "curbstone" comments of a Mansfield man, close to 50, who has always tried to plan ahead. But now he finds his plans upset by high taxes and low interest rates.

His difficulty was that he was still thinking in terms of interest yields instead of INCOME RETURNS. Admittedly, interest rates are disappointing today, as hundreds can testify. And yet, there is a convenient, practical way to get a life income which involves none of the risks and worries of most investments. By putting money into a Phoenix Mutual Retirement Income Plan, this man found that he could enjoy a much larger income . . . because "income returns" include both principal and interest.

Perhaps you, too, have been wondering how to get a guaranteed life income beginning at age 55, 60 or 65. Then send for our Retirement Income catalog. It's free—and will be sent by mail.

Blue Star Mothers Plan For Tag Days

Blue Star Mothers of Mansfield are busily engaged in preparing for Tag Days which are to be observed on Wednesday, April 6, and Saturday, April 9. The tag which will be sold on Mansfield streets on these two days is a blue painted daisy, which is being made by hospitalized veterans, who are being paid for making the same.

Blue Star Mothers have been actively engaged in doing what they can to make days brighter for service men in veterans' hospitals.

In 1948 they sent 200 cards with stamps to the Chillicothe hospital for the boys to mail out to their relatives or friends; $25, to buy them hard candy at Christmas; and two monogrammed card tables with two decks of cards for each table and two cartons of cigarets. At Chillicothe an amphitheater is being built for the boys and the local chapter donated $1,050, for that purpose.

Another donation was $100, to a Richland county veteran and his family, the husband being hospitalized. A Navy man and his family, who were in need, were given $25. At Christmas time 179 cards were sent to Richland county boys, still in service.

Mrs. Mabel L. Harrington is serving as general chairman of this worthwhile drive.

New York State has 62 counties, several of which outrank some states in population.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul N. Smith, 1958 Springmill road, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ruth Jeanette, to Robert Floyd Catlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Catlett, Concord avenue. The ceremony will be an event of May 6 at St. Matthews Lutheran church. Rev. Charles F. Sheriff will officiate for the open church ceremony at 7 p. m. Both the bride-elect and the bridegroom are graduates of Mansfield Senior High school.

TO KEEP HOUSES LOOKING WHITER LONGER!

USE PITTSBURGH'S NEW SUN-PROOF HOUSE PAINT

IT'S FUME PROOF

BETTER IN 6 VITAL WAYS!

1 GOOD BRUSHABILITY — for economical and efficient two-coat painting.

2 POSITIVE DRYING—minimizes damage from changing weather conditions.

3 SMOOTHER FINISH—no brush marks to detract from appearance and cause speedier film failure.

4 HIGH-HIDING — this important feature of Sun-Proof Paints is consistently maintained.

5 SUPERIOR APPEARANCE—it's self-cleaning and cannot be affected by atmospheric fumes.

6 GREATER DURABILITY—chalking is controlled. Checking and cracking of paint film are resisted more effectively.

Most important paint advancement in 25 years

- New fume-proof Sun-Proof produces a film of unusual whiteness. It will not discolor or darken from coal smoke or industrial gases.

Years of extensive exposure tests under many types of climate conditions, from strong sunlight and salt air to heavy industrial fume areas, have proved the superiority of this new formula over conventional paint.

Covering the Younger Set

Just Ask Ann

This week the class play brings news, news, and more news. The performance was a big success with the auditorium filled and some standing, yours truly included for awhile. . . .

* * *

It seems that Betty Erickson had a hard time remembering her own dressing room. Several times she accidentally walked in on Charles Brown while he was dressing. My, Betty, what a red face! . . . Fortunately for Dave Stanton, Aunt Katie, Jean A. Robinson, missed her cue; thus leaving Dave and Audrey McCoy a prolonged love scene. . . .

* * *

Speaking of Audrey, she was quite a little vamp in the love scene with Dave. . . . Tina Taylor's home was the spot chosen for the cast party. Everyone agrees Tina's a perfect hostess. . . . Emily Stevens was missing from school Friday. I guess being chairman of the ticket committee left her with a slight headache. You need a pat on the back, Emily. It seems the play was a sell-out. . . .

* * *

Charles Brown's practical jokes didn't go over too well at the party. It seems he was filled with them just before refreshments. . . . Unless my eyes deceived me, I saw Al Leitenberger at the play with with Kay Donelson. They were also accompanied by Harry McCune's steady from Ontario. All through his big scenes, Harry was cheered on by his cute miss. . . . Say, will someone tell me if I saw Johnny Corcoran leave the play with Barbara Bowles? . . .

* * *

The seniors are exchanging name cards now. The height of meanness is to laugh at a person when he drops about 100 of the cards. My deepest apologies to Dick Disanze and Martha Shiplet. . . . Harry McCune has a nice bottle of cologne. "Allure women or money is gladly refunded," is the trade saying put out by the company. . . . Pinkie Ferguson and Lou Gregorio saved money by making their own name cards. . . . Marty Shiplet, Jean Salsbury and Betsy Clark are all sporting new short bobs. . . . They look real cute, too. . . .

* * *

Say, fellows, Easter is only two Sundays away. Have you though about the corsage needed by the girls to complete their ensembles? (You can tell whose side I'm on.) . . . Well, all jokes aside, they sure do add that extra little something.

Galion Social Events Varied For Week

GALION — Mrs. William Gifford who is now serving her sixth year as president of the Women's Guild of the Church of Christ, was completely surprised, Wednesday night, with a party given by the members. The affair was held at the home of Mrs. Martin Brown. The honored guest was presented with a gift. During the evening, music was enjoyed, and an old fashioned spell-down was held. Mrs. Clyde Kunkel was the winner. A birthday cake, and pink and green appointments, featured the refreshment hour. There were 20 present.

* * *

Social events at the Galion Country club, was highlighted with an April Fool's Day party, Saturday evening. At that time, table tennis trophies were awarded, and a buffet lunch served. Robert Coleman was chairman of the special activities committee. A duplicate bridge tournament is now underway. Games in the series are held each Wednesday evening, and start promptly at 8 o'clock.

* * *

Four members of the Arts and Crafts club, Mrs. L. A. Cline, Mrs. Roy Arter, Mrs. E. L. Middleton and Mrs. Ralpn Spaid, have returned from Toledo where they saw the fifty million dollar display of European master art pieces. The display was held at the Toledo Museum of Art.

* * *

A contest held recently by members of the Senior circle, Child Conservation league, closed this week with a supper at First Presbyterian church. Mrs. W. R. Eckstein and Mrs. Charles B. Monroe were hostesses. Mrs. Albert Ritzhaupt and Mrs. Clarence Myers were on the evening's program.

Pleasant Valley Garden Club Opens Season

The first session of summer meetings for the Pleasant Valley Garden club was held Friday afternoon at the Cky club with 15 in attendance.

Bridge was the diversion of the social afternoon. When scores were tallied, prizes were awarded to Mrs. Robert Kuhn, Mrs. Richard Shaw and Mrs. Howard Ripper.

Lunch was served following the business session. The long table was centered with a lovely floral arrangement of spring flowers. Mrs. Richard Sturges and Mrs. R. T. Brown were the associate hostesses.

Miss Grace Wolcott will give her "Story Behind the Seed Packet" at the next meeting, April 29. The sesion will be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Hanno, 543 Crescent road.

Eleven Initiated By Sorority

Beta Kappa Tau sorority met in regular session Friday evening at Johns Park pavilion with 11 pledges initiated. Those who are being received into membership wore nursery rhyme character costumes and sang songs or told stories in keeping with what they wore.

Those initiated were Mrs. Ralph Rogers, Mrs. Paul Rist, Mrs. Leon Kleshinski, Miss Elizabeth Denig, Mrs. Cedric Mathias, Mrs. Henry Hiles, Mrs. Sterling Culp, Mrs. Clarence Pollock, Mrs. Charles Saprano, Mrs. Gilbert Weigand and Mrs. Paul Massa. They will be formally received Thursday evening, April 7, at a dinner party at the Mansfield Leland hotel.

Games and dancing were the diversions of the latter part of the evening. The committee in charge of arrangements was composed of Mrs. Raymond Knarr, Mrs. Richard Wirick, Mrs. Frank Remlong, Mrs. John Converse, Mrs. Robert Ernst, Mrs. Paul Matthes and Mrs. Mary Dunn.

Horoscope

For Monday, April 4

Monday's astrological forecast is for the sensational climax to some sort of strange adventure, experience or contact, at once stirring, thrilling, dynamic and gratifying. While the entire venture may have behind-the-scenes incitements, involving queer and inexplicable procedures, operations or aspirations, yet the grand denouement may be revealed in plain matter-of-fact realism.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may have little to complain of in the way of the static, routine, lackaday and unromantic, since all drives, potencies, forces and faculties, tangible, imaginative, fanciful and visionary may be subtly brought to a strange climax, in which personal, business, social, cultural and romantic revelations and accomplishments may eclipse all prior experience with the mysterious, the glamorous, the intriguing and inexplicable.

A child born on this day may be richly endowed with gifts of high creative quality, perhaps in some unique or exceptional vocation, cultural or inspirational.

Greatest Grasshopper Plague In Years Predicted In West

Task Force Plans War On Insects

Two New Poisons Will Be Used

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The agriculture department says one of the greatest grasshopper outbreaks in recent years is threatened in 26 western and midwestern states this summer.

But already the department's "task force zero-zero" is getting set with two new poisons—and an old C-47 transport plane, six smaller planes and some old army "weapon carrier" trucks—to nip the voracious insects in their nursery grounds.

The task force is a group of bug experts of the department's bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, headed by Will Popham, chief of insect control. It will attempt to annihilate the 'hoppers in their 1,500,000 acre "nursery" in Montana and Wyoming before heavy damage occurs.

Last year 60,000 cattle had to be moved from this area because grasshoppers ate all of the pasture grass.

If task force zero-zero fails to kill the 'hoppers in the nursery area this year they and their children will eat their way eastward several hundred miles then bed down for the winter and resume their advance next year. Such an invasion would damage the crops of Iowa and other midwestern states.

Grasshopper hordes cause millions of dollars worth of damage. In the U. S. serious plagues have occurred about every 10 years.

This will be the first time that a mass-scale air attack has been made on a grasshopper breeding ground.

The two new poisons—chlordane and toxaphane—can be spread easily by plane, mixed with bran. Until a couple of years ago when chlordane and toxaphane became available, it would have been impossible to kill all of the 'hoppers in the breeding area.

The old poisons were so bulky it would have taken 350 trucks and 700 men working for 50 days to spread the poison "baits." Even then all of the area couldn't have been covered because some of it is too rugged to reach by truck.

Now department experts believe they can cover the entire nursery grounds within the 45-day hatching period in June and July with their planes and trucks. The small planes and the weapons carriers will cover ground the two-motored transport plane misses.

Government entomologists located the present nursery grounds in Montana and Wyoming by counting grasshoppers last fall and eggs this winter. The eggs are laid in the ground.

From 20 to 35 live grasshoppers were counted in each square yard of soil in some areas last year. When the count is above 10 grasshoppers the bug experts consider a nursery area a danger spot. In the worst areas of the nursery from 30 to 50 grasshoppers covered every square foot of soil.

If the 'hoppers aren't annihilated in the nursery area they are expected to spread over 30,000,000 acres in states adjoining Wyoming this summer.

These 'hoppers leave hardly one green plant standing. Flying in hordes, they sometimes darken the sun. A corn field looks like a cyclone struck it after the hordes cross it.

The government is appropriating about $1,000,000 for the nursery attack this summer. Montana and Wyoming farm departments are contributing about $240,000 more.

NOISY HAT—Looks like something out of a fantasy, but the radio hat demonstrated in New York by Jo Nalbach will be available generally through department stores, says the maker. Antenna is an adjustable hoop. Two tubes are at front of hat, with a tuning knob between. Other parts are concealed inside the crown. (International)

Senior High Track Team Blasts Columbus East

Indians Give Pirates Two Runs In 11th

Bengals Roll Up 13 Wins

Mansfield's spring sports program was ushered in with a bang yesterday as the Senior high track team overpowered Columbus East, 92 to 26, at Stadium field.

Flashing mid-season form the sophomore-junior laden Tyger team swept to 13 first places, losing only in the 880-yard run. Just how far the Bengals thinclads dominated the meet is indicated by seven of 12 second places and six of 12 thirds.

Once again it was Little Tommy Tucker who blossomed as the top performer. Now a junior, Tucker took up where he left off in 1948 by winning the 100, 220, broad jump and anchoring the winning half-mile relay quartet.

He wasn't pressed in any of the events, pulling down 16¼ points. A. C. Jenkins, junior, was the only other double winner as he "took" both hurdle events. Paul Hammond, one of the five seniors on the Tyger squad, was first in the mile and second in the 880.

FOWLER IS TOPS

However, it remained for another junior—Willie Fowler—to turn in the best performance of the meet. Fowler cleared six-foot in the high jump, the highest he has ever gone. All of which makes Willie a threat to Jim Jarvis of Cleveland Central in the Mansfield Relays high jump. Jarvis, who won in 1948 with 6-1, will be back to defend his crown. A leap of 5-11¾ won the Class A state title last year.

Tucker was 2 seconds off his all-time 220-yard record of 21.7 but the 880-yard relay time of 1:35.5 was better than the Tygers did in regular season competition last year. The Bengals won the district in 1:34.4 while a mark of 1:33.6 copped the Relays.

Lanky Johnny Johnson poured on the coal in the home stretch to pass Hammond and take the half-mile in the time of 2 minutes, 8.8 seconds.

Paul "Pinky" Ferguson, who stands only 5-7½ in shoes, high-jumped 5-10 for a third and tied Jim Meister for first in the pole vault with 10-9.

Other Tygers individual firsts went to Harry Osbun in the shot put, Howie Tipper in the discus, Soph Ophinel Davis in the 440 and the mile relay team which featured three sophomores. Three sophs also joined Tucker in the half-mile relay.

NINE SOPHS SCORE

All told, nine of Coach Harry Mehock's sophomores figured in the scoring and eight juniors picked up points.

Senior high meets Akron Garfield at 4 p. m. Tuesday on the Stadium field cinders.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Jenkins (M); 2, Sowards (C), 3, Washington (M). Time—16.1 secs.

Five Mansfield Battlers 'Take' Amateur Fights

LORAIN — Mansfield Friendly House fighters won "five of five" bouts on an amateur fight show here last night at the Antler hotel.

Don Esbenshade, the bell weiher of the F-H stable, won a split decision over Lorain's Rocky Bodgan in the middleweight feature of the card. Their action filled battle was easily the best on the card. Esbenshade has now won 10 and lost three.

The only knockout recorded by the Mansfield contingent was chalked up by Howard Carney. He put Jack Terry, Lorain, away in 1:26 of the first round.

Lofton Fuqua, Mansfield, was awarded a decision over Marvin Long, Cleveland, on a foul in the second round.

In other bouts, Bruce Heinberger, Mansfield, decisioned Spider Brown, Cleveland, and Bill Eberhardt, Mansfield, won over Ray Reynolds, Cleveland. Eberhardt has now won 18 of 23 amateur fights.

Stuffer Gets Idea To Aid Basketball; Plus Odds 'n' Ends

By Fred Tharp
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

IT SEEMS that every time we glimpse a sport page someone has a fine idea to hamper the so-called "goons" of the basketball world. . . . Sure the big guys have made it tough for a player under six-foot to make good on the hardcourt. . . . But one of the main troubles with basketball, and football as well, is that the law-makers are continually tampering with the playing codes. . . . If a person stays away from cage or grid games for a season, he won't recognize either sport when he goes back. . . . That's one of the reasons baseball rates at the top of our sport heap. . . . The diamond rules remain constant and have done so down through the years. . . . And baseball is a tougher sport than football or basketball for athletes to reach the point of perfection. . . . But back to the basketball "goons", the fellows who reach far into the stratosphere in the height department. . . . We've heard of everything from enlarging the pivot lane to keep the big boys out of the way, to putting the basket two feet further up from the court, to zoning the court with each section to count a different number of points. . . . Personally we've heard no idea which wouldn't put an additional strain on already over-burdened whistle tooters. . . . Here's our idea of the thing. . . . 150-pound football has met with success in the Big Nine and one game at Ohio State drew 15,000 fans so the game has appeal. . . . So why not form 5-10 basketball teams in all schools. . . . None of the players to go over that mark. . . . Of course, a little fellow who is good enough could still play with the big guys. . . . But we would hazard a sou or two that the 5-10 game would be faster, have better ballhandling and might take the fan interest away from the present-day game.

CHINK FOSTER, former Senior high athlete, is one of nine lettermen trying for spots on the Heidelberg college baseball team . . . Playing second for the Student Princes last year, Foster rapped the apple at a .352 tune . . . Kenny Funk, who played shortstop with the Mansfield Grays last summer, is one of the 13 infield candidates for the Ashland college diamond squad . . . Mansfielder Ed Woodberry is seeking an outfield berth . . . Two Shelby stars—Herb Hart and Jake Gates—are also Ashland candidates . . . Canton's Junior Chamber of Commerce is taking an active role in a drive to provide the city with a lighted baseball field and seats . . . The drive has already netted $2,500 . . . E. A. Hauenstein, former Lima Central coach and faculty manager of athletics, died this week of a heart ailment . . . Pete Perini, Ohio State football-baseball star, has won 18 and lost five as a Buckeye pitcher . . . 20,000 persons are expected to take part in the "Wildcat Appreciation Day" for the Kentucky basketball team Monday at Lexington, Ky.

FIRST AREA baseball prediction to hit the sport desk from a reader comes from Clay Biddinger, Nova high school athlete. . . . Clay says Cleveland will win the American league flag, followed by Philadelphia, Boston and New York in that order. . . . He didn't hazard a guess about the second division. . . . The Cleveland Indians have received applications for 46,000 tickets for the home baseball opener with the Detroit Tigers April 22 at Cleveland stadium. . . . Season appearances of the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox have also gotten heavy backing. . . . The May 11, June 12, July 17 and Aug. 28 dates have drawn a lot of requests. . . . Under the new stadium setup there are 12,822 box seats and 43,156 other reserved spots. . . . That makes a total of 56,978 which can go for opening day. . . . But Barnum Bill Veeck says, "Don't scare people into believing they can't obtain tickets this summer—that isn't true at all. We never turn anyone away. If necessary we can get 90,000 people into the stadium." . . . Bill is also discouraging orders for additional season tickets because 'we want to save some space for the fellows who just attend games occasionally."

McLane Gives New Haven Swim Win Over Ohio State

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. —(AP)— Jimmy McLane, 18-year-old prep school senior, upset Olympic champion Bill Smith of Ohio State to win the 440-yard free-style swim in record time yesterday.

His victory meant the National AAU Indoor men's championship for his New Haven (Conn) swim club.

The New Haven medley relay team of backstroker Allen Stack, breast stroker Paul Girdes and free-styler Ray Reid won that event as expected.

Ohio State picked up 10 points in the three meter diving event—Bruce Harlan taking first — and was second with team points for the three day meet.

New Haven had 40 points, 24 of them coming in the relays. Ohio State, defending champion, scored 34 points in all, 22 in the two diving competitions.

McLane swam the 440-yard free-style in 4 minutes, 41.5 seconds. Smith's old record was 4 minutes, 42.1 seconds set in the indoor meet of 1944. Smith finished fourth, losing his second title of the meet. Bob Gibe of Detroit took the 220-yard free-style crown from Smith Friday.

Bill Huesner of Northwestern university was second to McLane and Jim Thomas of the University of North Carolina was third.

Harlan had a close call in defending his three-meter diving crown. David (Skippy) Browning jr., 17, Dallas, Texas, was only .06 point behind the champion. Harlan picked up 138.05 points, scoring well all the way. Browning had 137.9.

New Haven's winning medley relay team barely nosed out the University of Iowa threesome. Wally Ris, Iowa anchor man, made a determined bid to overtake Reid in the final 25-yard and just missed.

Nate Wallack Takes Job With Indian Club

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians announced yesterday the appointment of Nate Wallack as promotional director.

Wallack held a similar position with the Cleveland Browns of the All-America football conference until last week, when he resigned.

Hot Stove Membership Drive to Open; Funds Go for Junior Baseball Program

A drive for 3,000 members of the Mansfield chapter of the Hot Stove league will open Monday.

All funds derived in the membership drive will go towards outfitting and equipping Mansfield junior baseball players, 18 years of age and younger. The Hot Stove league will furnish bats, balls, bases, backstops for the summertime program while supervision will be furnished by the Mansfield recreation department.

Last year approximately $1,500 was spent in equipping the 25 teams competing in the three junior leagues. With another league and at least five more teams scheduled for operation this year, expenses of the program will run well over $2,000, according to Hot Stove officials.

Any extra funds raised in the campaign will be used to help develop Mansfield diamond facilities.

CAMPAIGN SLOGAN

The Hot Stovers have adopted the slogan, "Be a Stockholder in Some Boy's Future." for their 1949 membership campaign. Membership in the organization costs only one dollar and the only person who will profit from the financial returns are the youngsters who will be playing junior baseball. The Hot Stove league is a non-profit club.

Some 1,400 Mansfielders were members of the Hot Stove group last year, making it Mansfield's largest booster organization which does not have a school affiliation.

Membership cards can be secured from individual Hot Stove members and from the City News, Ideal Billiards, Penn Auto-Sporting Goods, Ohio Sport Center and Yuncker Sporting Goods. Harry Dailey will be in charge of the plant-wide Westinghouse drive while campaigns in other industrial plants will be set up early this week.

Committee in charge of the drive includes: Stan Kamen, Fred Rizzo, Aid Geiger, Dewey Durant and Fritz Vogel.

To give more youngsters a chance to participate in the national pastime this year four league groups are planned. Lads 12 and under will play in the Elementary circuit, 13-14 in the Junior league, 15-16 in the Minor league and 17-18 in the Major loop. The older group will probably combine with county teams for a fast amateur wheel.

Teams will be organized from each of the city wards and meeting of the outfits will be scheduled in May. The ten-week league season is scheduled to open early in June. In 1948, 364 youngsters competed in the program and played a total of 193 league games.

Mansfield organizations and businesses will sponsor teams in the leagues. Sponsorship will consist of purchase of uniforms only as no entry fee is charged.

17 Mansfield Teams 'Sign' For Softball League Play

Seventeen teams have "signed" for Mansfield's recreation department softball league competition for the 1949 season.

One league will be dropped from the program this year and another added as sponsors hope for an increase over the 33 teams which competed in five leagues last year. Sponsors can enter teams by calling Stan Kamen, recreation director, phone 3391-1.

The Park league will be dropped but in its place will go a recreational league for teams playing "for fun." Teams in the latter league need not have uniforms but will play a league schedule. Already entered in the recreation circuit are: News-Journal, The Bankers and Phi Sigma Chi fraternity.

The younger fellows, who would normally be playing in the Park loop, will be banded together in one of the playground leagues. The senior playground clubs will have a 16-year age limit.

Other teams entered are: First Lutheran, First Presbyterian, United Brethren, First Methodist, Sons of Herman, Amvets, Farm Tools, Ideal Electric, Tappan Stove, Mansfield Tire, Office Cafe, 164th Fighter Squadron, Salesmen and Westinghouse.

This year all teams will be required to post a forfeit fee of $10. The fee will be returned to the sponsor after the team has completed the league season without a forfeit. Official scorers will be furnished for every game.

SET FOR MAY

League competition is tentatively scheduled to begin the third week in May.

Three new members have been added to the softball committee of the Mansfield Athletic commission. They are: John Fike, Fritz Vogel and Jim LeMunyon. Other committee members are Joe Lesch, Mick Roberts, Fred Tharp, Conrad Neidhammer and Fred LaRue.

Cincy Redlegs Reel Off Four Double Plays

TAMPA, Fla. —(AP)— The Cincinnati Reds reeled off four double plays yesterday as they defeated the Boston Braves, 8-6, in a free-hitting game before 1,000 fans.

Each team collected 12 hits but the Redlegs' twin-killings enabled them to snuff out four separate Boston rallies.

Cincinnati belted Johnny Antonelli freely in the first four rounds and held a 6-1 advantage at the end of the sixth.

Kent Peterson, who followed starter Howard Fox to the mound in the sixth, got by the National league champs for one inning. However, they loaded the bases on two singles and a walk in the seventh, setting the stage for Connie Ryan's grand-slam homer.

The Reds extended their lead with two markers in their half of the seventh and the Braves rounded out the scoring with one run in the eighth.

65 to Attend N-J Golf Fete

Some 65 of Mansfield's top golfers will attend the organizational banquet of the News-Journal A league set for 5:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Blue Goose Tavern.

Ten teams will compete in the league this year. Adoption of an opening date and league rules will be made at the meeting, according to league President Bernie Mathias and Secretary Red Dillon.

An eighteen-week scheduled with a new point system will be played.

Syracuse university will honor 265 athletes at the Annual Block S. Dinner here April 7.

Cleveland Is Loser Of 5-to-3 Decision

TUCSON, Ariz. —(AP)— Given two gift runs on balks by Cleveland pitchers and also two unearned runs, the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Tribe 5 to 3 in eleven innings yesterday.

Satchell Paige and Rookie Mike Garcia were guilty of balking. Paige committed his in the sixth when the Pirates scored three runs to go ahead 3 to 2. Garcia balked to give the Pirates the winning run in the eleventh.

TRIBE CUTS FIVE

The Indians cut their squad to 32, optioning five players to farm clubs.

Pitcher Dick Rozek and Outfielder Milt Nielsen were sent to the Oklahoma City Indians in the Texas league and Pitcher George Anderman was returned to the same club.

Roy Welmaker, Negro southpaw with the Tribe on a trial basis, was signed to a contract and sent to Wilkes-Barre in the Eastern league. Jose Santiago was returned to Dayton in the Central league.

4 Take Leads In Big Head Pin Blasting

Four new bowlers took over division leaderships in the second annual News-Journal head pin kegling tournament as 66 pinsmiths fired on the Colony alleys yesterday.

Bob Bieri swept into first place in the men's "A" division with a fine 330 as 13 bowlers posted scores of "300" or better. Bieri had games of 111, 110 and 109 to knock Jake Hoff off the top perch. Hoff had taken over the lead in the afternoon firing with 109-113-102—324.

The "B" division leadership went to Richard Snavely with 110-102-107—319, while Dale DeWeese plopped into the "C" leadership with 104-102-94—300.

Martha Dye shot way out in front of the women's division with a 107-101-100—308 in the "A" section. Mary Dintamin came close in women's "A" with 85-110-107—302.

Others hitting 300 were: Hank Heiser "B," 316, Nick Komjenovich "B," 308; Emmett McIntire "A," 308; William Mabee "B," 306; Buck Forman "A," 305; Aston "A," 304, and Jack Hanrahan "A," 301.

Miami Baseball Team Wins 4th

HARROGATE, Tenn. — (AP) — Miami university of Oxford, O., made it four baseball wins in a row over East Tennessee opponents by trimming Lincoln Memorial university, 6-3, here yesterday.

Miami batsmen rapped Doss, who went the distance for LMU, for nine hits. Smith hit twice in four trips to the plate and Schweaman two in five to pace the Ohioans.

Ohio Boxing Champ Signs For 'Tenner'

Willie Russell, Ohio lightweight boxing champion, will headline the Veterans of Foreign Wars professional fight show at the Madison theater on April 21, Matchmaker Rex Reese, announced last night.

Russell, the 136-pound Columbus puncher, regained the Ohio title by winning a 10-round decision over Joe Discepoli March 25 in Columbus. Russell has held the Ohio championship on and off for the past two years.

Reese matched Russell against Everett "Sparky" Reynolds, Indianapolis, in an overweight match. Reynolds is a welterweight and has been hitting the scales around 144 pounds. They will meet over the ten-round route.

The 29-year-old Russell started fighting as a pro in 1944 and chalked up 33 knockouts in his first 54 fights. He lost only eight of the 54, three of the losses were to Gene Burton, one of the ranking welters.

In 1947, Russell lost a ten round decision to Ike Williams, world's lightweight champion. Russell had been beaten in ten by Discepoli in a Cincinnati headliner in January.

Reynolds began the pro phase of the ring sport in 1945. He won seven of 16 fights in 1946 by knockouts.

ROUND OUT CARD

Two six and a pair of four rounders will round out the card which is being sponsored by the Mohican Post 9943 of the VFW. Proceeds will go into the athletic fund of the VFW's 10th district.

The semi-final go will pit Tommy Woodward, Delaware against Jack-Pot Davis, Fort Wayne. They are heavyweights. Jack Petty, Cincinnati, 135-pounder, will mix with Billy Todd, Columbus, in the other six-round go.

Tickets for the show will go on sale April 9. They will be scaled from $3 down.

Hall Hurt In Losing To Whittler

Whitey Whittler won his fourth straight Mansfield wrestling match last night, but only after a wild finish which caused the city wrestling commission to order his purse withheld.

The bout probably ended the wrestling career of Columbus City Detective Stacy Hall. Whittler twisted Hall's left hip out of place and the veteran had to be carried from the ring and treated by a physician.

The wild finish came after Hall took the first fall in 16:55 with an arm stretch and Whittler bulldozed his way to the second in 5:15.

LOSES TEMPER

After about five minutes of the third fall, Stacy tired of the big Dutchman's rough stuff and slugged it out with him in a corner. Whittler fell out of the corner with his face smeared with blood, then lost his temper and wrapped Stacy in the ropes.

Referee Jack Smithers awarded the bout to Whittler but Promoter Clete Kauffman said he would await a decision by the wrestling commission.

Karol Krauser won the semi-final in straight falls over Wild Bill Zimovich. Zimovich was disqualified after a hair-pulling session with the referee in the first fall and then Krauser took the second with a series of body slams, a full nelson and a body slam.

Frankie Talaber and Ronnie Etchison fought to a draw in the fine 30-minute opener. The bout was clean all the way as both broke clean.

Kauffman announced that junior heavyweight champion Johnny Demchuk will defend his title here in next week's card. He has not lined up an opponent but plans to get someone who has a chance of dethroning the king.

A tag team match will be the semi-final.

Big League Clubs Head for Home -- Big Stories Are Still Untold

By JACK HAND

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(AP)—The big stories of baseball's spring training season—Joe DiMaggio, Ewell Blackwell and Whitey Kurowski—remain untold as the clubs head for home.

In two weeks the season opens, yet nobody can answer these questions without guessing:

1. Can DiMaggio play every day for the New York Yankees?
2. When will Blackwell pitch for Cincinnati?
3. How much will Kurowski help the St. Louis Cards?

The DiMaggio story took a turn for the better Wednesday when the Yankee clipper played six innings against Cincinnati—the first test of his tender right heel.

After his first exhibition start, the Yankee clipper was optimistic but the results were not conclusive. He didn't have to run hard.

It appears fairly certain DiMaggio will open the season in center field for New York. Not long ago he thought he might have to quit because of the pain in his heel. But Joe now says he expects to play every inning.

Blackwell's situation is much more uncertain. So far he has pitched batting practice once or twice. Nothing more. Manager Bucky Walters will not guess when he might start "the whip" in a game. It seems certain he will not appear in any of the exhibitions.

The thin man reported 20 pounds under his normal weight after a serious operation. He is applying pressure slowly as he gains strength. The big test is still to come.

Kurowski has been in and out of the Cardinal lineup. His arm still is not right after the operation last fall for removal of 18 bone chips from his right elbow. Manager Eddie Dyer has no assurance that Kurowski's bat, normally good for 25 to 30 home runs, will be in there swinging for the Cards every day.

It appears that Tex Hughson's comeback for the Boston Red Sox is authentic. Joe McCarthy still is wrestling with one major decision. He must make up his mind whether first baseman Walt Dropo can hit big league pitching.

Johnny Groth, Detroit's highly-publicized rookie, looks like everything the press clippings say about him. It's a good thing, too, for Red Rolfe and the Tiger camp needed a lift after the serious injury to Pitcher Art Houtteman in an auto crash.

Pete Reiser, acquired by Boston from Brooklyn during the off season, probably will be a big help to the National league champions. Despite his reputation as a brittle athlete, Pete has been playing both outfield and third base for Manager Billy Southworth.

Connie Mack has the same club at Philadelphia. The A's figure to get even better pitching than last year.

Washington has added power with the return of Outfielder Buddy Lewis after a year's retirement. The pitching of Sid Hudson and Lewis' hitting have been the talk of the Nats' camp at Orlando, Fla.

Brooklyn's baseball factory at Vero Beach appears to have produced another top flight club.

Howie Pollet's impressive pitching has made Dyer forget some of his headaches. He's still

Only Four Tyger Baseball Jobs Set

Competition Is Keen For Other Spots

By CHARLEY STINE

With the opening game of the season a little over a week off, Senior high baseball Coach Mike Byelene has only four positions definitely set for his opening lineup.

Pitcher Lou (Double No-Hit) Gregorio, Catcher Joe Miller, Third-baseman Mike Gruber and Shortstop Sparkle Watts have their positions nailed down. They are all seniors, lettermen and have at least two years of American Legion experience.

IN BIG FIGHT

Two other regulars from last year—Charles Marchant and Corky Perrine—will find themselves in regular spots only if they fight off some enterprising opposition.

Perrine, last year's regular centerfielder, will get that position back if he can hit consistently. Lead-off man last season, he was fleet of foot and a good fielder, but got only two hits all year. A broken leg in the last game of the season prevented his picking up needed experience with the Legion Juniors or a Hot Stove team.

Marchant is pretty sure of a starting berth, but not of where it will be. Regular rightfielder last year, he is now working in left but may be brought into the wild second-base scramble.

Graduation of Shelly Swank left Tommy Tucker, last year's infield utility man, in the lead. However, he is being challenged by sophomore Jim Reiner. Several others, including Marchant, have a chance at the spot. Letterman Outfielder Cy Elsass has had a little infield experience and Buck McKeever may join the fun if he is ousted from first base.

NOT MUCH HIT

McKeever, last year's American Legion first sacker, is currently fighting a hot battle with Sophomore Ken McCally. McCally caught for the Legion but that position is well taken care of on the Tyger squad. McKeever has the edge in fielding experience at first but harder hitting may turn the tide to the sophomore.

Besides Marchant, Perrine and Elsass, Byelene has good outfield prospects in Jim "Wimpy" Miller, Reiner and Bob Hartnett. Hartnett was last year's second-string catcher while Miller, the big football guard, is a Hot Stove league product.

Last but not least is the pitching. Behind Gregoria, who incidentally is attempting to work a hitch out of his motion, Byelene has Shortstop Sparkle Watts, Walt Maurer, John Stranski, Dave Hardy and Dick Heeppner.

Watts will probably be the second-stringer because of his experience, with Stranski or Marchant taking over at short when he is on the mound. Stranski, a hard-hitting, polished sophomore, might also be injected in the second base fight.

CLOUD OF DUST—Boston Red Sox Infielder Johnny Pesky is out at the plate trying to score from second on Bill Goodman's single in fifth inning of Yankees-Red Sox exhibition at St. Petersburg, Fla. Pesky is being tagged by Yankee Catcher Charlie Silvera who took throw from Shortstop Phil Rizzuto. Umpire Art Passarella watches play. (AP Wirephoto)

Leahy Says Notre Dame Will Lose Seven Contests

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — (AP) — Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame, never one to mistake spring showers for violets, has hit a new low in his annual misgivings about Irish football prospects.

"We'll have the worst team Notre Dame ever had," Leahy groans. "We'll lose seven games."

Notre Dame didn't lose any in its last three campaigns, although a 1946 tie with Army intervened and Southern California knotted the Irish last fall.

Leahy has a sounder basis for his current pessimism than for his usual spring training blues. Graduation peeled off a couple of layers of linemen between the ends, along with Quarterback Frank Tripucara.

Leahy has had to move co-captain Jim Martin from end to tackle—indicating partly that he's low on tackles and partly that he's loaded with ends. Co-Captain Leon Hart is still at the right flank. Bill Flynn's at left end and they are backed up by veterans Doug Waybright and Bill Wightkin.

But, says the Irish coach:

"Fellows like Marty Wendell, Bill Fischer and Bill Walsh were fine blockers. We are missing them very much. Jerry Groom and Wall Grothaus are both letter men at center but they played on defense last year. Walsh did the blocking.

"We have no experienced offensive centers. Bob Lally is a fine boy at guard but he is light. So is Frank Johnson."

Leahy feels that Bob Williams is his only quarterback ready to go against competition as tough as the Irish schedule. The No. 2 man at present is Gerry Begley of Yonkers, N. Y.

Spring Sport Slate Is Heavy This Week

Spring is set to come in with a bang on the Mansfield sports slate this week as two baseball games and two track meets are scheduled and the state champion Penn Auto nine begins practice.

Penn Auto, which won last year's Ohio National baseball Congress tournament under the banner of the Mansfield Grays, will begin drills at 2 p. m. today at Blue Goose park.

The team is considering entering a proposed league of eight cities in this area.

Monday golf comes into the picture as Senior high's potential champions meet for the first time with Coach V. H. Oberlander.

Madison's delayed baseball opener will be played at 4 p. m. Tuesday at Blue Goose park with Lexington furnishing the opposition. The Rams play again Friday at Lucas.

Senior high has its second track meet scheduled Tuesday afternoon against Akron Garfield and will go to Canton McKinley at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Along with these events for the spectator are three very important meetings—two of them set for Tuesday.

TWO MEETINGS

The News-Journal A golf league is to be organized at a dinner at Blue Goose tavern at 5:30 p. m. and drawings for the high school sectional baseball tournament will be held at 8 p. m. at the YMCA. Jim Lymper is to be tournament manager, for the meet which will be held the first week in May.

The Mansfield Athletic commission, organized to control amateur sports in the city, will hold its second meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the city building.

Several new members have been added since the last meeting and plans are expected to be more thoroughly organized at the session.

Clint Hartung May Be Ready As Ball Star

PHOENIX, Ariz. — (AP) — It probably sounds like a joke, but honestly, this may be the year for big Clint Hartung.

Clint is the Texas wonder who was converted by the New York Giants from outfielder to pitcher for his own safety.

One of the most ballyhooed ballplayers to come out of the army, Hartung never has found his place in the Major leagues. He was supposed to be a phenomenal hitter so the Giants tried him in the outfield. They gave that up when catching flies proved to be an unsolvable mystery to him.

As a pitcher he had a tremendous fast ball. Nothing else.

Now, the Giants claim, Clint has developed a curve. A year ago nobody thought he'd ever learn. A month ago they were sure of it.

But Hartung worked seven innings against Pittsburgh the other day and he threw some balls that didn't stay on a straight line.

"If you don't think he was throwing a curve," said Catcher Walker Cooper, "you forgot what you saw last year. He threw a couple of beauties."

Clint, himself, thinks he has it.

Quits Kent State For High School

KENT — (AP) — Mickey Mittiga, former Kent State backfield ace, will be head football coach at Ravenna township high school next fall, superintendent James Whittaker announced yesterday.

Whittaker had been coaching football, basketball and track, with Mittiga as assistant.

Richland Driving Range Set to Open

The Richland Driving range will open for the summer season this afternoon, manager Nick Linster announced last night.

The range, one of the two built in the city last year, is located on U. S. Route 30-N just past Arlin field. Night hours will be observed starting next week.

Mansfield Hosts District Lions Meet at Richland

The Mansfield Lions club will be host to the Lions International District 13-E bowling tournament today at the Richland Recreation center.

Kenneth Abbott, Lion tournament manager, said the balls will start rolling at 1:30 p. m.

Dale Cleckner heads the Mansfield five-man team No. 1 which is composed of James Miller, president of the Mansfield Lions, John Waldman, George Condos, and Abbott.

Anchor man for team No. 2 is Myron Cairns who hopes to have the rest of the pins scattered by Harold Keller, Corlis Keller, Roy Vaughn, and Clarence Bemiller.

18 TEAMS ROLL

Competing in the tournament are 18 teams from 12 Ohio cities, headed by Marion with four groups of keglers entered.

Mansfield, Sandusky, and Sycamore each have two teams bowling, and Lion clubs each having one team are Lorain, Bucyrus, Mt. Vernon, Mt. Gilead, Green Springs, Old Fort, Sunbury, and Norwalk.

Top two teams of the tournament will go to Columbus the end of the month for the Ohio Lions club bowling tournament.

Church Loop Playoff Set For Tuesday

The second half Junior church league championship playoff game between First. Christian and St. John's has been set for 8:30 p. m. Tuesday, Athletic Director Johnny Fike of the YMCA announced yesterday.

First Christian and St. John's finished the second half race in a deadlock with seven victories and one defeat. St. John's also won the first half race and can annex a clear decision to the title by winning Tuesday. However, a First Christian win will necessitate another playoff game later in the week.

Grace Gospel and Central Methodist will meet in the preliminary game at 7:30 Tuesday.

Night Racing Dates Wanted

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Night harness racing will be introduced at Cranwood, half-mile track near Cleveland, in October, if an application for dates filed with the State Racing Commission yesterday is approved.

The North Randall Trotting Club asked for 19 nights of racing at Cranwood, Oct. 10 through Oct. 31. O. C. Belt, chairman of the State Racing Commission, said.

Belt said Thistledown, which will conduct its running races at Randall, had asked for Sept. 12 through Oct. 8 for a fall season. If the commission approves both applications, the Cleveland area would have racing daily, except Sundays, from May 7 through Oct. 31.

Jim Harris Gets Dayton Line Job

DAYTON — (AP) — James M. Harris, 39, of Bellaire, O., yesterday was appointed football line coach at the University of Dayton.

For the past year Harris has been out of the game after serving as assistant football coach at West Virginia university under Coach Bill Kern. He played guard position at Notre Dame in the early 30c. He was assistant to Dr. Eddie Anderson at University of Iowa.

The Calder Trophy, awarded annually to the outstanding National Hockey League rookie, never has been won by a defenseman.

'Barren' Mare Foals a Filly After Running

LEXINGTON, Ky. — (AP) — The racing life of Hashcamp has ended.

The six-year-old mare in training unexpectedly foaled a filly a few hours after a fast workout at Keeneland last week. Now she is retired from training to become a broodmare.

The mare and foal, property of Mrs. H. J. Andrews of Cincinnati, were taken to the farm of Phil Chinn near Versailles.

Hashcamp had been working at the track since Feb. 1. After the foal arrived an investigation showed she had been taken by mistake to the court of the imported stallion, Zorwar, at Clearwater farm near Lagrange, Ky.

John H. Clark, track publicity director, said the mistake was discovered later but Hashcamp remained in training because it was believed she was barren.

WESTERVILLE — (AP) — The Fairfield Grange basketball team of Butler county last night won the boys' division championship in the second annual Ohio State Grange basketball tournament by defeating Maple Grange of Hardin county, 69 to 56.

Willard Youths Guests of Tribe

WILLARD — Boys and girls from Willard and the surrounding community will be guests this summer at a Cleveland Indains baseball game.

R. R. Jenkins, secretary of the local YMCA, has received a letter from Arthur V. Roth, captain in the Cleveland police department, extending the invitation from President Bill Veeck.

Last year, there were 661 who made the trip, which is sponsored by the Eagles, Elks, Moose and American Legion.

Two Ohio Staters Enter Race Horse

COLUMBUS — (AP) — A horse owned by two Ohio State university students will race at nearby Beulah park when the spring meeting opens May 7.

The students are Robert Copelan, of Cincinnati, and Robert Meyers, of Columbus.

The horse's name? Cheer Leader. (Copelan is a former Ohio State cheer leader. Their racing silks are scarlet and gray, Ohio State's colors.

FIRST BASS—First in the long line of good-sized bass to come from local waters (we hope) was reported this past week by Herman Graska, 258 Jefferson avenue, who turned in this catch The bass weighed in at about four and one-half pounds and made his fatal error in gulping down a live minnow.

What a hectic life an outdoors writer leads! Just in case a few readers still adhere to the idea that it's the easiest life to be found, let me plead my case in a few brief words, viz . . . what happened to me this past week.

1. I covered a coon chase All well and good with but one or two minor exceptions. For one thing, my better half tagged along and it cost me a pair of nylons. (Got 'em snagged). Rode the truck down to photograph the dogs being turned loose—and got left! (Sneaked a ride back.) Stooped down to pet a nifty little black and tan dog and got a wet kiss right square in the mug (Couldn't even compare it to one of my wife's, too dangerous.)

That started the week off on a firm footing The next trip afield called for a boat (someone told me fish were biting) so I got a boat The fish weren't biting and the oars raised blister on hands which have known little but the touch of a typewriter all winter. So THAT was a howling success.

2- Same cuss came around telling me fish were biting so once more I bravely set forth No blistered hands this time, just windburn and sunburn on the face. Also wore my arm out pulling the starter rope on a blankety-blank outboard motor Caught a few puny little crappies, sneaked 'em home under the cover of darkness so the neighbors wouldn't see 'em, and then caught heck from the better half for bringing my BAIT home! Spent two days trying to figure out how to write the column in such a manner that my reputation wouldn't take a beating Couldn't even do that

3- Had a letter that was supposed to have been printed in last week's paper concerning what great guys the foxes are and what a stinker I am. Looked around for three days before I found it again So help me, it'll run today if this column ends right here!

4- Went on a buying spree, ended up with more tackle than an average-sized sporting goods store, and caught a few fish Took 'em home (out in the open this time where the neighbors could see them and turn green with envy) and then discovered my wife had just bought some frozen fish at the market. No confidence in me!

Now, in view of what happened this past week (and that's only three days of it) do you still think this is an easy racket?

Dont change your mind a darned bit, it's a WONDERFUL job!

Now that the first chapter of the Trials and Tribulations of an Aspiring Young Outdoors Writer has been covered. let's look to the more truthful side of the outdoors world.

To begin with, the past two weeks of warm weather have started the crappies to hitting in most local waters Fishermen have been reporting extremely good catches from Charles Mill dam. The crappies, although plentiful, are running fairly small, Kenny Wassem reports from the boat house

Somebody, we'd give a plugged nickel to know who, reportedly caught a six and three-quarter pound bass from Pleasant Hill sometime during the week The only large bass we have a record of is that caught by Herman Graska and a picture of it is carried on this page The bass fell for the wiggling of a live minnow From a casual glance at the picture I'd say it was a smallmouth and not a bad one at that! The crappies are also part of Graska's catch from Charles Mill

If the winds which prevailed earlier in the week are still buffeting around today, (this is written a couple of days ahead of time) best fishing at Charles Mill will be in old Mifflin lake where ost stringers have been filled this past week.

Deer, which always make themselves scarce during hunting season, are making their spring debuts now Latest to be sighted was a doe on the Vernon township farm of Mr and Mrs Charles Warner

Conservation Studied By Legislature

Unification Bill Moves Forward

The state legislature was kept busy this past week on matters pertaining to outdoor work, a general roundup showed

Top matter on the agenda was the unification bill which was stamped 'OK' by the House conservation committee This measure had already passed the Senate despite strenuous objections by the League of Ohio Sportsmen

As the bill stands, the wildlife chief would be named by the unified group director, a job which would be filled by someone appointed by the governor. However hunting and fishing license fees would be used only for the fish and game activities as in the past.

In answer to the committee's approval, Frank Atwood, president of the League of Ohio Sportsmen, threatened to place petitions in every hardware store in the state demanding a referendum vote on the unification problem.

"With a million and a half license buyers in the state," he declared, 'we won't have much trouble in getting enough signatures to call for a referendum vote"

The Metzenbaum amandment which touched off the battle provides that the wildlife section would be under the same jurisdiction as the other six divisions and would have little power other than to fix fish and game seasons and bag limits.

Recommended by the Senate conservation committee for passage was a bill repealing the present requirement which makes it necessary to wear fishing licenses visibly.

Tighter controls on strip mining were also considered during the week Chief of the points brought out was that at the closing of a seam, the miners shall build a dam which will enable a lake or pond to form there In addition, it was recommended that mine operators be required to plant new seedlings of a type approved by the state on all mine areas once the mine is closed

The proposed bill also would make it mandatory for the miners to cover each vein with at least four feet of earth once operations had halted on the seam

With more deer being reported right along, it looks as though the open areas for Ohio deer hunting may number several more this year than last. Thirteen counties were open during the last season

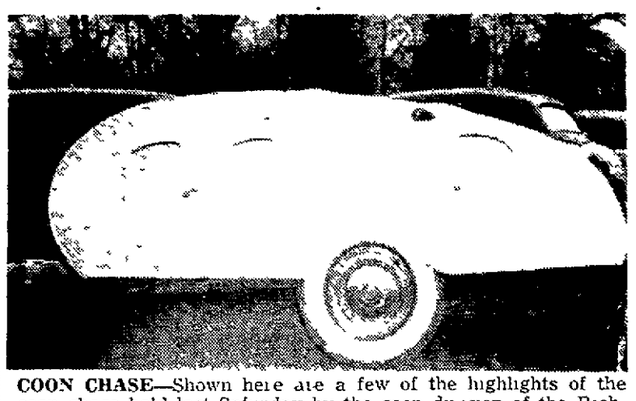
Just as a word of caution, don't anyone go out and drown themselves this week We're running a feature on water safety from the boating angle next week and want a full roster of readers!

Hounds Make Music



COON CHASE—Shown here are a few of the highlights of the coon chase held last Saturday by the coon division of the Richland county Fish and Game Protective association Top winners were Lucky Strike, owned by Ray West of Lucas, who copped first prize as tree dog and Hi Jack, owned by John Cox of Shelby, first place line dog Second tree dog was Twenty Grand, owned by Clyde Moore of Mansfield, and second line dog was Buckeye Joe, owned by J Saxton of Prospect Large photo at the top shows the dogs snarling and fighting in their anxiety to tear off after the hot coon trail previously laid Under the large picture is one showing a trailer in which coon dogs are hauled to various chases all over this section of the country Once the trail has reached its end and the dogs locate the tree in which the 'coon' has taken refuge, they go frantic in their efforts to get up the tree as the side pictures show. A man dragging a coon in a burlap sack lays the trail which leads through the woods and to the 'den' tree This tree has been liberally plastered with coon scent. Meanwhile, dogs and handlers pile into a truck, called by one enthusiast the "Bedlam Buggy", and race to the starting point. Here the dogs are released to set out on the chase The truck derives its odd nickname from the fact that when ten or eleven dogs and even more men are in one small space—well—there's bedlam First dog to pass between two flags placed near the finish of the chase is called the line dog while the first to bark at the base of the den tree becomes tree dog, each winning a prize Heat winners for Sunday's meet, held at GBU park, were as follows, tree dog first, line dog second, and owners in parentheses 1—Buckeye Boss (Sid Caimens, Delaware), White Foot (Ray West, Lucas) 2—no tree winner, Joe (Clyde Moore, Mansfield), 3—Jeff (E Stone), Buckeye Joe (J Saxton. Prospect, 4—Red Ace (Lehman, Ashland) copped both, 5—no tree or line dogs, 6—Blue Boy (Bowen Tiffin), Buster (Jury, Wyandot); 7—Twenty Grand (Clyde Moore, Mansfield), Hi Jack (John Cox, Shelby) 8—Southern Melody (P Chandler, Ashland) copped both; and 9—Lucky Strike (Ray West, Lucas), Buckeye Buck, (C. Bowen, Tiffin), and 10—Black Bird (Clyde Moore, Mansfield), Linda (Hissong, Greenwich). Ninety-five dogs were entered in the trials

Membership Given Free

In an effort to acquaint the youth of this area with proper methods of conservation, officials of the Richland county Fish and Game Protective association announced this week a series of free memberships to boys.

Jim Burkhart, president, said free memberships will be given all boy scouts between the ages of 12 and 15 who successfully pass the conservation merit badge test.

The move was the second to follow a plea by the N-J outdoors staff for an expanded youth program. Kenny Wassem of the Charles Mill lake boathouse previously announced he would offer free casting instructions to any organized youth group which cared to contact him

Letter Forum

Dear Sir:

I see you are one of the 'Doubting Thomases'. I am enclosing a little pamphlet that should enlighten you a lot on this subject of pest control.

You failed to publish my letter like I sent it in. You left out some of the most important If the public had more of the real facts and not so much propoganda I'm sure this picture would change Read this pamphlet and publish some of these facts.

I know that the fox is a predator, but he is not a pest. He lives off pests and pests are the things that the farmer wants to get rid of, such as mice, rats, and rodents

I am sending you a little drawing also I would appreciate very much seeing this in next Sunday's edition of the News-Journal

Don't be afraid, publish both sides of this thing.

Yours truly,
Dorsey Hart
Lexington

EDITOR'S COMMENT: Once again we slash Mr. Hart's letter, deleting part of it. We have just so much space each Sunday and if everything sent in got into print, there'd be no comics or anything else but letters from our readers

Pamphlets, booklets, drawings—I've got 'em from all over, one saying the fox is a dirty so and so and the next praising him to the skies As for being fair and printing both sides, I think you'll find I've printed at least two letters FOR the fox for every letter AGAINST him.

Plymouth has done it!

Millions have already seen the great New Plymouth. They know now how new car beauty can help make a better new car. Here's an automobile with a contour modern as this minute. And this styling is for sound engineering reasons. For Plymouth has done it—designed new car beauty for a purpose . . . to bring you—feature for feature, dollar for dollar—the most car value your money can buy!

There's a handsome, newly designed instrument panel. The purpose is convenience. Everything is in clear view—where you want it There's no starter button to push, no choke to pull You turn the ignition key with a flick of a finger—and the powerful engine starts!

There's new interior styling The purpose is comfort. Chair-height seats are wider, deeper from front to back There's no sacrifice of head room Diagonally mounted rear shock absorbers resist sideway. The famous Air Pillow Ride is now smoother than ever!

There's more glass area. The purpose is safety. Larger windshield and rear window combine with the new design of the car to give a clear view of the road in all directions. Frame and body are 23% more rigid There's a lower center of gravity.

Its flowing streamlines are beautiful The purpose is practical. Because of less overhang, the New Plymouth is easy to drive, easy to park, easy to put in the garage. Fenders flow into the body but they're separate and detachable for economical repair.

There's a new cylinder head in the engine and higher compression ratio. The purpose is performance. You save on oil and get longer engine life with new oil control piston rings and the new chrome compression ring This is the greatest of all Plymouths!

N-J Soap Box Derby Registration Set

Charley Stine:

N-J Loop Changes Scoring

With one Mansfield golf course already open and the News-Journal A league set to be organized Tuesday, the city's pitch-and-putt season appears to be off to a flying start.

Coolridge opened its links yesterday and Westbrook and Possum Run are expected to be ready by the last of this week.

The A league promises tougher competition than ever with two more teams added and a half-dozen topnotchers heretofore left out set to play. A new scoring system devised by President Bernie Mathias will be put into effect.

Play will be on a point system—one for medal and one for match, Bernie says In other words when a golfer steps on the course he will be competing against all nine other men in the league who play in his particular position in the lineup.

SIME

Say, for instance, Bernie himself playing in No. 1 position shoots 355 444 435—37 If two No. 1 men got less than 37 medal score, then Bernie won seven points (nine minus two) for medal play. He then matches cards hole by hole with all other No 1 men. If he ended up on the long end of five of the men in match play he adds five to seven and gets 12 points for that night. Each man gets a point for anyone he beats in medal and another for anyone he beats in match.

Although the system is quite complicated and may take some time to get accustomed to, it should prove a positive indication of each golfer's true ability

While we're on the golfing situation, here's some reports concerning major tournaments

Qualifying rounds for the National Open will be held at 28 sectional centers May 31. Washington, D C, will have a qualifier June 1 and Honolulu May 24.

Local golfers interested must have entries in before May 16 Nearest qualifier is at Fairlawn Country club, Akron, where two 18-hole rounds must be played The National Open itself is June 9-11 at Medinah Country club, Chicago.

The Ohio Women's championship will be July 11-15 at Sylvania Country club in Toledo, scene of last year's Ohio Open Peggy Kirk of Findlay, won last year's state title

Then there are a few notes found on the back on an old envelope T and E Tavern will field a baseball team again this year if a manager can be found It seems the sponsor is willing and the boys want to play but Joe Siwek is hesitant about taking charge again and no one else can be persuaded to run the team

One net trick pulled by the Hamilton Public boosters at last week's state tournament finals missed all accounts of the game we saw When the Big Blue had the contest on ice with about three minutes to go a Hamilton fan went through the stands giving away pictures of the team with "1949 State Champions" already printed across the bottom Wonder where these would have gone had the team lost A record 2 600 teams will roll for $83 000 in prizes at the Women's International bowling congress tournament set to open April 21 on the 30 alleys of Columbus Riverview Recreation Several Mansfield teams will compete

On the top of a release turned in by News Journal A league Secretary Red Dillon was the following ditty

Pill pushing betting and putts
This game drives all who play it nuts
But here it's spring indeed
Come on fellas join the News-Journal's A Golf league

4 Centers Slated to Aid Signing

Four registration centers will open Tuesday for the eighth annual News-Journal Soap Box Derby.

Youngsters, 11 to 15, may sign up for the 1949 running of the "greatest amateur racing event in the world" at Chevrolet dealers in Mansfield, Crestline, Shelby and Galion. The Mansfield registration center is at Brandenburg's, co-sponsor of the Mansfield Derby with The News-Journal The Mansfield center will be open from 8 30 a. m. until 10 p m Other centers are Galion Motor Sales, Crawford Motor Sales, Crestline, and Gump Motor Sales, of Shelby.

Prospective contestants are cautioned to bring their parents when signing for the competition. Each coaster-pilot must have parental approval to race in the Derby. Rule books and construction pamphlets will be issued to each driver as he signs up.

Age limit for the coaster race is 15 years of age until Aug 14, 1949 and 11 years before that date The national finals in Akron are listed for Aug 14 while the Mansfield race will be staged in July

Don Cram and Bob Moore will act as co-directors of the 1949 Derby while Fred Tharp will serve as chairman of the contest board.

Forty-two cars raced in the 1948 Mansfield Derby which was won by Dick Jordan, 15-year-old News-Journal carrier boy

Moore yesterday requested any Mansfield business or club wishing to sponsor cars in the eighth Derby to contact him at Brandenburg's. However, he said that all youngsters should try to get their own sponsors, if possible.

Young designers should remember that no power tools will be permitted in construction of the 1949 racers All coasters must be made by hand and by the driver himself Price limitation on each car is $6 This does not include wheel and steering sets

Winner of the Mansfield Derby will compete with champions from 150 other cities for the '49 national crown Some 40,000 youngsters participated in the various races throughout the world last year.

Only Two People Watch Each ABC Bowler Compete

ATLANTIC CITY, N J —(AP)— For every man that rolls in the American bowling congress tournament, there are less than two people watching

That's the amazing contestant-spectator ratio of this world series of the pin toppling trade The ratio is the smallest of any major pasttime—by far

Phil Thompson manager of convention hall where the 46th annual championships are nearing their end said the total fan turnout for the event is expected to reach around 57 000

The tournament, which started Feb 12, will end April 9 That makes 57 straight days of bowling

The crowds, Thompson said have averaged around 1 000 a day Thus The 57,000 overall figure

The tournament attracted around 30,000 bowlers

Elyria Soph Moves To Fullback Spot

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Ohio State's gridders move outdoors Monday for the second week of spring football practice.

Six workouts each week will be staged until the spring clinic contest May 14 when the boys will put on a full-dress prevue of things to come in the fall.

For a week the Bucks have been working indoors, looking at movies of last year's games, absorbing chalk-talk lore from the coaches, and going through some early training chores.

TWO AT TIME

"So we've come to the conclusion we should leave Krall at left half where he's at home, so to speak," Fesler said The new move solves the problem of getting the two-game wrecking runners into the game at the same time

Janowicz, at 185, will not be the bruising type of fullback, but Fesler said he was certain the Elyria flash would do a good job there

One contributing factor of the Janowicz move was the announcement that Dick Corless, 205-pounder from Akron, who came to the Bucks via Michigan State had left school Corless had been counted on heavily for the fullback spot

Pete Perini, a veteran, probably will see a lot of fullback duty. Just now he's playing baseball and will miss the spring grid drills, and according to Fesler "missing spring drills is a terrific handicap."

Corless was not the only top-flighter eliminated by low grades. Two all-Ohio high school linemen, tackle Howard Schuster and guard Ed Forkner, are ineligible because of failure to hurdle scholastic barriers.

Walter Klevay of Independence, an end, has been shifted to right halfback where he'll battle with Ray Hamilton of Canton and Park Blubaugh of Lima.

Major League Clubs Heading To Home Plots

not sure about first base and one outfield job Also he still regrets the sale of Pitcher Murry Dickson to Pittsburgh without his approval

Cincinnati is trying a "new faces" policy with Lloyd Merriman, the ex-Stanford football player in center field They've been using a kid from Tulsa, Johnny Lane, at second base while Jimmy Bloodworth has been sidelined

The Phillies look like the most improved team in Florida with Third Baseman "Puddin' Head" Jones a standout Ed Waitkus Bill Nicholson, Russ Meyer, Hank Borowy and rookie Catcher Stan Lopata definitely should help Eddie Sawyer

Eight of the 16 big league clubs already have left their training bases The California contingent—Chicago Cubs and White Sox St Louis Browns and Pittsburgh Pirates have worked their way east as far as Texas

Cleveland's world champs and the New York Giants pull out of Arizona tomorrow to start their long series of one-day stands across the nation Cincinnati leaves Tampa tomorrow and the Boston Braves desert Bradenton

350,000 Will Gather For Easter Pageant

By DAYTON BLAIR

LAWTON, Okla. —(AP)— Easter morning, weather permitting, some 350,000 persons will gather in the Wichita mountains near here to watch a portrayal of the life of Christ.

It will be 23rd annual Wichita mountain Easter sunrise pageant, an event that started in 1926 with a cast of five persons and 200 witnesses. This year there will be 3,000 Oklahomans and Texans participating.

This year, too, the pageant will have the distinction of having had its story retold in a motion picture, "The Lawton Story," which was premiered here Friday, April 1. Top seats at the premiere sold for $1,000 with proceeds going to the pageant treasury.

The late Rev. Anthony Mark Wallock, pastor of the Lawton Congregational church, established the pageant and watched it grow each year. This will be the first time Wallock won't be on hand to direct the event—he died the day after Christmas.

Rev. Wallock was born in Schildberg, Austria, in 1890, only 250 miles from the site of the Oberammergau Passion play. With his family he came to the United States in 1892 and settled in Lawton in 1918.

The frail minister—doctors had said he would not live past 30—had become an institution in southwestern Oklahoma before his death at the age of 57. Lawton citizens, grateful for the production of the pageant, built him a home overlooking the area which has become known as "the Holy City of the Wichitas."

The minister never took a part in the portrayal.

MANY PARTICIPATE

But nearly every other family in Lawton did, including, often as not, persons who did not attend church regularly. The results of reaching beyond church groups for actors was more than gratifying.

The pageant is strictly non-sectarian. The prologue embodies prayers of 11 faiths with the benediction spoken in unison.

Beginning at the first rays of dawn, the pageant climaxes just at sunrise with the resurrection scene. The end of the pageant is signaled by a skywriting plane spelling out the words. "He is risen" high above the throng.

There is no admission charge. The only sales allowed are coffee and sandwiches to accommodate the thousands who spend the preceding night in the huge natural bowl in which the pageant is produced. Annual visitors have learned the only way to get seats up front is to arrive early Saturday evening and wait all night.

"Holy City" is located on 640 acres contributed by the National Forest Reserve to be used solely as a place of worship. The miniature Jerusalem is constructed entirely of native stone.

It includes the walls and gateway of the city, Calvary's mount, the temple court, Pilate's judgment hall, the inn and the stable, the rock of ages, Jacob's ladder, the boat in the sea of Galilee, and the Lord's supper building.

Lawton residents feel the pageant is almost divinely protected. Only one presentation, in 1931, has been handicapped by weather. During the night before Easter a storm whipped down every setting. But it cleared as the dawn came, leaving undamaged a wooden cross at the tip of the mountain.

Home gardeners keep hearing more and more about hybrid varieties of vegetables, the result of mating of unlike though related plants.

Many gardeners are finding that hybrid tomatoes are strong vigorous growers and out-yield regular varieties

They should be planted in good soil. Because hybrid tomatoes have the ability to produce larger plants and higher yield they must be fed more than standard tomatoes.

Among the hybrid varieties are some that are extra early. One variety, Burpeeana, matures in 58 days.

Its fruits are of an attractive, deep globular shape, medium size, a rich scarlet in color and are borne profusely in clusters of 5 to 8, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

Some extra-early tomato varieties, however, are unsatisfactory for one or more reasons.

The worst fault has been a tendency to disease easily. Sunscalding of the fruit because of sparse foliage sometimes is a drawback

One variety, a 78-day type known as Big Boy, has heavy dark green foliage which protects the fruit from sun-scald The plants are very large, extremely vigorous and semi-upright to spreading in habit. The fruits of this new giant hybrid tomato weigh nearly a pound.

Because hybrid tomatoes require a lot of food for growth, it is desirable to make an application of fertilizer at the time of planting.

Mysterious Ailment Called Cave Sickness

By ALTON L. BLACKESLEE
(AP Science Reporter)

NEW YORK — (AP) — There's a strange new disease, called "cave sickness"

It gets that name because its victims become sick while working in a cave It is a lung infection, with fever, headaches chills, nervous irritability, chest pain and other complaints.

A report of the illness in the American Journal of Public Health covers 21 men and boys who became sick while digging for treasure in an abandoned chalk mine in southwestern Arkansas. It is made by Dr. A. M. Washburn of the Arkansas state board of health, Dr. John H. Tuohy of the U. S. Public Health service, Little Rock, and Dr Elmer L. Davis of Foreman, ark.

They said they couldn't find the cause of the peculiar disease. But they found that people who had been in a cave in Oklahoma in 1943, and another in Mexico, had came down with the same kind of mysterious ailment.

The disease is either a new one, or one not before described adequately, Drs. Washburn, Tuohy and Davis said. The sickness differed from pneumonia, tuberculosi, fever, malaria and other diseases caused by bacteria, viruses, bugs or fungi, they added.

Tests did not show any gases in the cave air, or anything unusual about the cave rock that could have caused infection from dusts.

X-rays showed peculiar spots or lesions in the lungs that later disappeared.

The disease usually lasted about a week, and then the victims recovered spontaneously, they said. Drugs like penicillin and sulfamerizine didn't show noticeable effects. For long periods afterward, the men and boys often complained of general weakness

Six of the 21 had severe attacks of the sickness, 11 moderate attacks and four only mild cases. They became ill after four to 13 days of digging in the cave. Two guinea pigs left in the cave for a long time stayed well

Failing to find the cause, the physicians do not comment on what kind of caves might be hazardous.

Scouts Entertain Their Mothers

Members of Girl Scout Troop 43 entertained their mothers at a tea held at Beer school, Wooster road, Friday evening.

Members of the food committee included Claudia. Malott, Darla Winkler, DeLilalace Marshall, and Betty Keil.

Beverly Daugherty, Nancy Stevens, Patty Poff, and Shirley Kennedy served on the decorations committee, and Carol Daugherty, Elaine Hess, Carol Beach, Mary Barr, and Doris Sowash planned the entertainment

Mrs. Edward Welch gave the devotions.

1,057,000 Homes Built During 1948

Half of Houses In $7,500 Class

More than a million homes were constructed in the U. S. last year, and over half of them sold for $7500. or less, H. R. Northup, executive vice president, National Retail Lumber Dealers Association, Washington, D. C., stated Saturday.

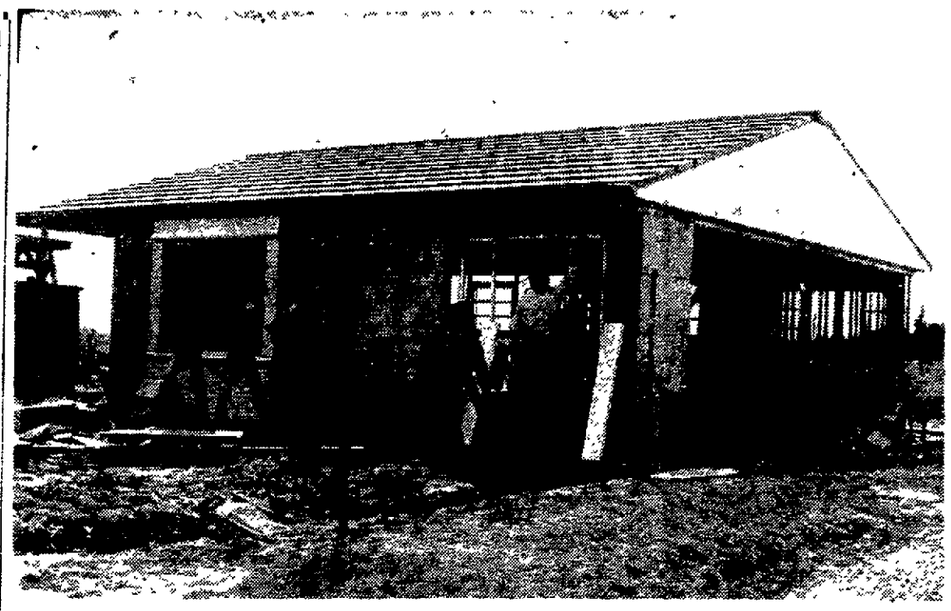
"Projected results of a nationwide survey of lumber and building material dealers indicates that approximately 1,057,000 houses were built in this country last year," Northup pointed out.

This report appears unusually accurate for independent government surveys coincide closely with these figures, he said. Although combined government agency reports have not been published in conjunction, government estimates combining urban and farm homebuilding activities for last year total about 1,080,000 houses. The Bureau of Labor Statistics sets urban homebuilding for last year at 928,000. Department of Agriculture reports that in 1947 farm building reached 160,000; spotlighted or given publicity, and there is no reason to believe that 1948 farm building fell below this figure. Farm building construction averages approximately 110,000 a year.

"Largest returns from all sections of the country has provided the National Association with the most accurately based information it has ever received, Northup stated. Reports clearly indicate that the heaviest percentage of homes built fell within the lower cost brackets, frequently well below the average community income level."

For example, 56 per cent of the houses reported sold for $7500. and under, with a further breakdown of 20 per cent selling for less than $5000. Home costs were reported as low as under $3000, he said.

In the hundreds of replies received, a definite pattern was established between the cost of the house and the size of the house, he said. On the average, houses falling under $5000 had 1½ bedrooms; those in the $5000 - $7500 bracket had 2 bedrooms; and those above $7500 had. on the average, 2½ - 3 bedrooms.



IN FINAL STAGE—This picture shows a new Lustron house on Sunset boulevard nearing completion as workmen install the enameled steel plates which form the walls. The photo is used as a follow-up to one which appeared last Sunday, showing the building's framework. The steel house represents a departure from ordinary construction methods. and is represented by its makers as the first mass production house.

New Methods Developed to Halt Plumbing Corrosion

Among the most significant "dollar stretchers "developed by the plumbing industry in recent years are methods for the checking and preventing of corrosion, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

Four types of corrosion-preventives have been developed, the Bureau points out. These are deactivation, deaeration, self-healing films, and sacrificial metals. The two latter methods are of particular interest to homeowners.

The use of a so-called sacrificial metal is based on the electro-chemical theory of corrosion. It has been found that if a rod of magnesium alloy is inserted in a hot water storage tank, the life of the tank will be substantially lengthened. This is due to the fact that the magnesium alloy in the rod will be dissolved in the water and precipitated on the walls of the tank.

Thus the magnesium alloy protects the galvanizing of the storage tank, the iron of the the storage tank, and the brass fittings in the tank. Rods of magnesium alloy are available commercially from plumbing and heating contractors and are recommended for use in automatic storage water heaters, range boilers, and hot water storage tanks. The rods are made in various sizes and equipped with fittings for ease in installation

The life of the rod, which may be installed in either old or new tanks, is estimated at 7 to 10 years in soft water areas and 3 to 5 years in hard water areas, depending on the corrosive qualities of the water.

Another method for the prevention of corrosion which has been developed recently is the use of self-healing films. These films are chemical compounds which cling to the side of the water storage tanks and water piping and thus inhibit corrosion.

The special chemicals are added to the water by plumbing dealers who place a specially designed feeder in the cold water line entering the water heater. The feeder, of course, must be periodically refilled.

Neither the rod of magnesium alloy nor the chemical which is fed into the water affects the taste or odor of the water in any way. The materials are not detrimental to health. Both methods of corrosion prevention also eliminate the rusty water caused by corrosion of storage tanks.

KEEP OLD ROOF ON

Old roofing rarely needs to be removed before new roofing is applied. Asphalt shingles, for example, can be laid on top of any weatherworn roofing except slate or tile. The old roof gives added protection and reduces cost.

Colors Seem To Change Room Shape

Properly chosen colors for walls and ceilings can change the apparent shape of a room.

Many old houses have ceilings which are too high in proportion to other dimensions of the rooms. This is especially true when a room is furnished with low, modern furniture with simple lines.

One way to make a high ceiling appear lower is to paint the ceiling and walls of the room the same color. In some cases, it is advisable to use a darker shade for the ceiling.

For an exceptionally high ceiling, use a dark color and paint not only the ceiling but about a foot down each wall. Place. molding or narrow wallpaper over the line where this dark color meets the lighter color below it.

For a ceiling that is too low, make the ceiling lighter than the walls. Another decorator's trick to make a ceiling seem higher is to use vertical-striped wallpaper or a floral design which reaches from the baseboard to the ceiling.

Modern Row Housing Classed As Aid to Shortage Problem

TOLEDO — City planners and architects have come to recognize that row housing has many merits and are visualizing the way it fits into the building pattern of America's best planned cities, in the opinion of Frank Sohn, president of the Toledo Regional Planning association.

Sohn believes the row house, or terrace apartment as it is referred to by some builders, is a feasible approach to the nation's critical housing shortage.

What the architect has done to today's row house, Sohn contemplates, has been to create a structure with jutting sidewalls and staggered roof lines to define each unit as a separate dwelling, with spacious rooms open to sunlight through expansive glass areas, with cheerful color treatment inside and out, and having abundant play areas, generous landscaping, and even individual vegetable gardens.

Flexible interior arrangement makes them adaptable to the tenant's individual requirements and living habits.

Predict Hike In Nation's Living Level

Advisers Expect Gradual Climb

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The President's council of economic advisers thinks the average American's level of living should rise about 27 per cent by 1958.

The council believes he should be able to buy more and better goods and services, to save more money and have more leisure time — all making him about 27 percent better off.

The council doesn't think this will come by 1958 if there is a depression before then — there would have to be a gradual, steady increase in production with no serious set-backs.

But it can be achieved, the council says, if government and business continually make a variety of delicate and complex economic adjustments and don't miss any guesses on what adjustments to make.

This is all part of the theory of a dynamic, ever-growing economy that became part of the law of the land in the employment act of 1946. This theory holds that the causes of depressions can be detected and eliminated so that as fast as the labor force grows more jobs can be provided. Production and purchasing power would increase proportionately. There would be no more booms and busts.

The idea was talked of in the 1920s. It was definitely formulated in the 1930s. The late English economist, John Maynard Keynes, made some contributions to it.

The employment act of 1946 provided that the economic council be created and directed to advise the President and Congress as to what economic measures are necessary to maintain a full employment economy.

The council has gone further than any other group in crystalizing the new economic concepts. Its opinions are highly influential since its three members are by virtue of their position the most conspicuous economists in the nation.

The theory starts with these basic conditions: (1) the number of persons able and willing to work is increasing each year and (2) every year American farms, factories and workers produce more goods in the same amount of time and with the same manpower through technological and other advances.

The fundamental problem is to maintain full employment, for depressions result when consumers can't buy available goods and services.

Wholesale Food Men to Convene

The Ohio Associated Wholesale Food Distributors association will hold its annual convention in Columbus April 26 and 27 at the Deshler-Wallick hotel. Robert C. Walter, purchasing agent of Tracy and Avery, is president of the organization.

It is expected that upwards of 500 food wholesalers will gather at the yearly meeting, including many out-of-state distributors. Herbert Schrader, of Massillon, president of the Ohio Retail Food Dealers, will address the wholesalers.

'Little Inch' Gas Pipeline Explodes

JONESBORO, Ark. — (AP) — A section of the "Little Inch" pipeline, which carries natural gas from Texas to the east, exploded yesterday.

No one was reported injured. The explosion was heard and flames seen miles away.

TRANSPLANTING—George Reeves, Ashland R. D. 3, left, and Erv Roshon, 712 Buena Vista, Ashland, carefully dig up a 15-year-old hybrid rhododendron (top photo). Then D. D. Quinn, Reeves and Roshon wrap the dirt-encased roots in burlap. Rhododrendrons, usually regarded as difficult to grow out of their native habitat in mountain areas, require an acid soil, and should be planted where sheltered from the north wind. Quinn prepares the soil by using acid peat moss. Hybrids bloom better in partial sunlight, he stated. Hybrids are grafted on the roots of native plants because of their more luxuriant blooms.

HEED OWN ADVICE—By practicing what they preach — landscaping — Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Quinn have converted their home on Ashland road into a beauty spot. Picture shows the attractive house, plants and shrubbery. Standing in the foreground are the Quinns.

Summer Here, Winter In Florida

Pick Right Business—That's the Trick

Summer in Ohio, winter in Florida that's a pleasant pattern for living, but a difficult one to arrange except for those who have little to do beyond clipping bond interest coupons.

But D. D. Quinn, operator of the Willo'dell nursery on the Ashland road has achieved the pattern by following an occupation which enable him him to shift between the two areas with the seasons.

Quinn, who started in landscape work in Galion at the age of 16 as a helper, opened his own business there in 1929. Disturbed by the seasonal nature of his business, Quinn declared, he began studying the possibility of full-time operation.

"There's a big difference in southern plants and the methods of handling them, as compared to Ohio," stated Quinn. "I decided practical experience would be the best teacher, so I took jobs at nurseries in New Orleans and Texas in the winter of 1929. Then in 1930 I started winter operations in Florida."

Quinn now has a growing winter landscape business centered in Tampa, Fla., doing work also in St. Petersburg, St Petersburg Beach, Clearwater and Bradenton. One of his jobs was the landscaping at the Bayshore drive home of Doyle Carlton, former governor of Florida, whose estate is one of Tampa's showplaces.

In making the winter shift to Florida, Quinn takes his Ohio crew along.

After a few years as a landscape contractor, Quinn decided that the work called for skill as a stone mason. He learned the occupation, and then taught the tricks of the trade to some members of his crew.

"I almost battered my left hand to a pulp before I learned to hit a chisel every time while shaping stones," laughed Quinn.

Quinn moved from Galion to his present location on the Ashland road in 1945 and by landscaping and the planting of thousands of evergreens and shrubs needed in his business has turned the location into a beauty spot which few highway travelers fail to notice.

Landscaping is a hobby as well as a business for Quinn. In his spare time he visits nurseries and showplace estates whereever he happens to be.

The past winter Quinn and his attractive wife, Maxcine, took a vacation from their Florida work to tour southern states and Mexico. As might be guessed, they returned with information, and motion pictures, of Mexican plants, gardens and landscaping.

Mr. and Mrs. Quinn have one daughter, Carolyn Joyce, aged 10. This young member of the family prefers the company of her school chums to winter treks to Florida, so remains with her grandmother in Columbus during the school year.

Quinn, though an expert at growing plants, makes no claim to a "green thumb." It's proper care, correct fertilizer and know-how that counts, he contends. And although the nursery business has its trade secrets, there is no magic method to grow plants, Quinn admits.

LOST 62 LBS. TOLEDO LADY WELL PLEASED

Mrs. L. Barnes, 2433 Cherry St. gets desired results with Rennel

"I have lost 62 pounds while taking Rennel Concentrate and am feeling fine," writes Mrs. L. Barnes. "I am 60 years old, have a rooming house and now again do all my own work. I have recommended Rennel to several of my friends who are taking it with fine results. I cannot praise Rennel enough."

Imagine, eat plenty and lose weight with this simple yet effective amazing home recipe. After purchasing a bottle of Rennel from your druggist pour the contents into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Don't be switched to another product, insist on genuine Rennel.

Ruggles Farmer Succumbs At 71

NEWLONDON — Forrest Coates, 71, lifelong Ruggles township farmer in Ashland county, died in his home Saturday after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Coates was a member of the Federated church in Ruggles.

Surviving are his widow, Mae; a daughter, Mrs. Helen Smith of Ruggles township, and two grandchildren. Services will be at 2:30 p. m. Monday from the church with Rev. I. D. Reiss, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. W. H. Mitchell, Methodist pastor from here. Burial will be in Ruggles cemetery in charge of the Fink funeral home of New London.

Crash Victim Improving

James Marvin Goodman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin R. Goodman, 633 Woodhill road, was reported in "good" condition at Ashland Samaritan hospital yesterday.

Goodman, an 18-year-old student at Miami university, was seriously injured in a three-car crash north of Ashland Thursday.

Hospital attendants said X-rays showed Goodman had suffered fractures of the ribs and chest as well as a broken neck.

He has been cited by state patrolmen on a charge of passing without having an assured clear distance.

Fall Proves Fatal

FREMONT — (AP) — Phillip Kadlubowski, 69, a foundry worker, died yesterday from injuries suffered when he fell down basement stairs in his home.

Survey Places State Jobless at 200,000

GARDEN FEVER—There's nothing like balmy spring weather to make a fellow want to get out in his garden. But on April Fool's day, the weatherman had his little joke by ordering a cold spell. That didn't stop Robert Constance of South Diamond street road. He donned winter garb and went to work. It's evident there's something balmy in the picture, even though the breezes are cold.

Bike Law Violators Face Court

Police to Cite Youthful Offenders

Bicycle riders will have to know and obey their traffic regulations Monday if they want to keep out of court.

Traffic Commissioner Frend Boals said yesterday that, starting tomorrow, officers will issue citations against violators of bicycle riding regulations.

Boals said the police department, in cooperation with the YMCA bicycle court which opens April 9, is starting the program to protect "boys and girls from injury and death in traffic accidents." He asks full cooperation of parents in making the project work.

Youngsters violating traffic regulations will be given summonses to appear in the junior court on Saturday mornings when their cases will be heard by HI-Y boys.

"This is one way to deal with the problem fairly," Boals said. He explained that formerly if youngsters were issued tickets for violations they would have to appear in juvenile court and consequently would have police records. Under this system, those cooperating will be under the jurisdiction of the "Y" court only.

Boals pointed out this type of program has worked in other cities and will work in Mansfield if given a chance. He emphasized the program's educational as well as safety value.

Army Chooses New Marching Song for GI's

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Army wants a song it can call its own and conducted a world-wide contest to find it yesterday. It picked out five to try on the public.

The Navy has "Anchors Aweigh," the Air Force "The Wild Blue Yonder" and the Marines "From the Halls of Montezuma."

The Army wants something similar.

Sheep Unit To Elect 10

Ten men—five from Richland and five from Huron county—will be elected directors of the Richland-Huron Sheep and Lamb Improvement committee at the group's annual banquet Thursday at 7 p. m. in the Greenwich high school.

County Agent C. N. McGrew said nine men have been nominated for the five Richland county posts and that one more is to be nominated.

The nine, nominated according to areas in the county were for the Lucas area, C. R. Mengert, and Richard McFarland; Shiloh area, Paul Kranz and Wayne Hunter; Weller-Franklin townships area, Hugh Clingan and H. H. Wolfe; Shelby area. Laurence Faulkner and Roy Imhoff; and Plymouth area. Roscoe Hutchinson and another to be nominated.

This Thursday will also see the last lamb pool at the Greenwich yards for this season, McGrew said. They will be started up again in September.

Mansfield's New Citizens

U. S. Becomes Home to English Family

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Mrs. Grace Southall, 185½ West Fifth street, is going back to England in June—but only for a visit. This trip, which will take her back to see her aging father and five brothers, will have no resemblance to the homesick journey she made in 1929.

With her will go her husband, Enoch H. Southall, who remembers England as the country of block-long tenement houses and community backyards where housewives pulled down their washings from the alley when the coal man came. He's anxious to see what changes have been made since he last saw the country in 1923.

But Mrs. Annie Southall, mother of Southall, is staying put. In the first place she is "perfectly satisfied" to stay here because she hopes to get her citizenship papers in May. Secondly, she still vividly remembers the harrowing experiences she had during World War II when she was unable to leave England because of the war.

Both Mrs. Southalls have had their shares of war. Grace, who adopted the U. S. as her native land three years ago, remembers the 16-hour "double turns" she put in during World War I as combination fireman and brakeman on the English railroad. One of her brothers has a similar job now.

Grace remembers her "drafted" status during the war with a rich sense of humor.

"I got the job because I could run the fastest," she laughed. "You see, I had come home on vacation from the silk mills. Some of my girl friends had heard the government was hiring women for war jobs. I had no idea what the jobs were, but the girls dared me to race for the job.

"Well, I took the dare and I won the race. The next thing I knew I was being shown how to fire a boiler in a railroad engine."

BLAST FURNACE JOB

She was 17 at the time, she said, adding casually that she also worked as a loader on a blast furnace in her home town of Middlesborough during the seige.

In 1923, just after she and Southall were married, her husband, his parents, and another son, came to America. Grace followed later that year. She stuck it out until 1929 when an acute case of homesickness actually periled her health. She had even filed for citizenship papers at the time, but gave up the idea and headed back to England.

"Three months was all I needed," she remarked with a smile. "I was ready to come back. Of course, I'll be glad to go back this June. My father is in his 70's and it may be the last time I'll see him."

There are also five brothers still living in Middlesborough, one of them captured during the historic battle of Dunkirk and held prisoner by the Germans for three years. Grace produced a contrasting pictures of the brother, the one taken before the war; the other when he returned home. It seemed as if the one picture was taken of a youth, about 21; the other of a man in his late 40's.

There's also a double silver wedding anniversary the Southalls will celebrate when they reach England—their own and one for Grace's brother and his wife.

Daughter-in-law and mother-in-law have a great many things to remember in Middlesborough, English iron ore and ship building center.

They recall how they would drop the large English pennies into meters on the gas stove when they needed more fuel to do the family cooking. They remember how much of the cooking, especially in English country homes, was still done in the large stone fireplaces at the time they left their homeland.

LIKES CONVENIENCES

"You have everything here," Mrs. Annie Southall, the mother-in-law exclaimed, "and it's so convenient." You switch on an electric light and you get light. In England there's very little electricity in use. Most every home uses gas lights."

Annie, as she will be called to avoid confusion with her daughter-in-law, is quite ready to make the U. S. her home. Her experiences with nightly bombing in England are still a little too vivid for her to make another trip to the country.

She returned to England for a visit in 1938 only a few months before war with Germany broke out. As a result her visit lengthened into a stay of two years and nine months before the U. S. embassy arranged her passage home on a boat carrying children from England to America.

"The Jerries came over Middlesborough every night from May to September in 1941," she recalled. "Fortunately, no one was killed but I saw six houses demolished by a single bomb.

"We had bomb shelters along the streets where people could go when the raids came. Some of the people got so used to the raids every night that they'd take chairs to the shelter and some musical instruments.

"Sometimes I think they actually looked forward to the raids because they'd have parties in the shelters while the raids were on. They'd sing and have a good time. I guess it drowned out the noise of the bombing and made everyone feel better."

RECALLS SHIP DANGER

Annie was given no small share of the heroic pluck of the English people. Four days out on the Atlantic she remembers how the all alert call came on the boat immediately following a blast which rocked the craft.

"It was just as if we had been hit," she said. "We were all told to get on our life belts and line up in the hallways on the ship. We didn't know what had happened and no one would tell us a thing.

"We stood there five hours until the all-clear came and then we went back to our cabins. I still didn't know what had happened until I saw a New York paper on the train coming home.

"The paper explained that the ship was being followed by a German submarine and that one of the convoy had spotted it and fired a depth charge. The charge striking the submarine was what we had heard."

Southall and his wife, Grace, hope they'll have lots of new things to tell Mrs. Annie Southall when they return to the U. S this summer.

38 Alaska Dogs Head For South

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)—Thirty-eight Alaska husky dogs rolled eastward on a Baltimore and Ohio railroad train en route to Philadelphia and the Argentine today.

The animals, each about 80 pounds of canine fury, are due here at 9 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, Monday. In a special car, they are well crated to keep them from wrecking their quarters.

The South American country's army will train the dogs for mountain duty with troops in the Andes.

Co-Op Club Plans Ball

The Mansfield Co-Operative club's ninth annual Inaugural ball and banquet will be held Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the ballroom of the Mansfield-Leland hotel, T. A. Coleman, president of the club, announced yesterday.

John J. Kindel, first president of the Mansfield club and a past lieutenant governor of this Co-Operative club district, will be master of ceremonies for the evening's program.

James D. Herrman, a Dayton Co-Operator well-known for his humorous speeches, has been scheduled as the main speaker for the dinner.

Herrman, an attorney and the federal referee in bankruptcy cases in the southern Ohio district, will speak on the subject, "Is It Just Veneer?"

Accompanying Herrman to Mansfield will be Herbert S. Nonneman, also of Dayton, who is a past president of the international Co-Operative club.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Duncan, of Lima, and P. C. Regan, of Covington, Ky., also will attend the annual affair.

Regan is an international director of the club and Duncan is the Co-Operative governor for this district.

White House Inspected By Congressmen

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House Public Works committee—20 strong—tramped through the decrepit White House on an inspection tour yesterday.

After the legislators had looked over the building from cellar to roof, Chairman Whittington (D.-Miss.) predicted Congress will move promptly to foot a $5,400,000 bill to put the home of presidents in first class shape.

After Prfesident Truman and his family moved to nearby Blair House, the interior walls of the White House were stripped down to show the extent of the wear and tear damage of decades. The building was ruled unsafe for the presidential family.

Exchange Worker Sails for Home

NEW YORK —(AP)— Ada Fishburn, the 24-year-old British factory worker who changed jobs for a month with a New Jersey girl, headed homeward yesterday with —among other things—nine new pairs of shoes.

As she boarded the liner Queen Mary, Miss Fishburn remarked that she "likes all Americans" and hopes to return for another visit.

"I won't be happy unless I do," she added.

Unskilled Workers Hit Hardest

Mid-April Seen 'Answer' Period

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The unemployed of Ohio today numbers an estimated 200,000, an Associated Press survey discloses.

This figure represents fairly slow, but extremely steady, decline in available jobs since the peak employments between March and September, 1948. Why?

There are two principal factors —lack of orders and seasonal declines. There seems little doubt that lack of orders is the dominant cause of growing unemployment. The big question mark, at the moment, is: "How much are seasonal layoffs affecting the general situation?"

Ohioans soon will know the answer. Normally seasonal layoffs are in process of being cleaned up by mid-April. Will another two weeks drastically cut Ohio unemployment?

Labor and business experts, by and large, admit only guesses are in order at the moment. Your guess is as good as the next one.

But, the best guessers say business definitely has leveled off, that the return of the competitive market has been made.

Thumbnail sketches of the unemployment situation in principal Ohio cities:

Columbus — Unemployment 7,800. The state capital has been hit less hard than many cities.

Cleveland — Unemployed estimated at 39,000. In September, 1948, the number was 10,000 less. Unskilled and semi-skilled workers hit the hardest.

Cincinnati — Unemployed 13,000. Does not include domestics, farm workers and others not covered by unemployment insurance.

Dayton — Unemployed 12,000. Trend sharply apparent after Jan. 1, 1949.

Toledo—Unemployed, 12,560.

3 Rapists Sentenced

MILLERSBURG — Holmes Common Pleas Judge Elmo M. Estill Saturday sentenced three men, charged with raping a 32-year-old mother of three children at her farm home on Oct. 15, to indeterminate sentences of three to 20 years each in the Ohio penitentiary. The trio was adjudged sane after a 45-day observation period at the Lima State hospital.

Those sentenced were Gene Walker, 21, of Wooster; John Duncan, 18, and Mahlon Hostetler, 32, both of Fredericksburg. The fourth member of the gang, Harry Ober jr., 17, of Fredericksburg, previously had been sentenced to the Ohio State Reformatory in Mansfield.

Judge Estill reminded the trio they were being justly punished and they should not be revengeful against the state. He advised them not to brag while in prison, as many hardened criminals show greater respect for womanhood.

Authorities claim the four lured the woman's husband away from their home in the northeastern section of Holmes county by stating there was a breakdown in the nearby independent coal mine where he was employed. The invaders took turns in assaulting the mother as the children were sleeping in an upstairs room.

Civic Music Drive Opens

Campaign headquarters of the Mansfield Civic Music association will be opened at 9 a. m., Monday in the basement of the Gas company building at Park avenue west and Mulberry street.

Association officials said yesterday that about 700 members had returned their reservation orders. Others who have failed to renew and applicants for new memberships may call at the headquarters tomorrow, officials said.

Fensch to Talk To YW Mothers

Dr. Edwin Fensch, director of research in Mansfield public schools, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the YWCA Mothers club at the YW at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Dr Fensch will discuss normal teen-agers and their actions. The meeting is open to the mothers of all Y-teen members.

Cancer Society to Open Fund Campaign April 18

The Mansfield unit of the American Cancer society has set a goal of $18,000 in a fund-raising campaign to be held April 18 to April 30.

It was pointed out that records of the Mansfield-Richland county health department show 114 of the 769 deaths in this area in 1948 were due to cancer.

The funds contributed in the drive will be used for three purposes.

They will be used to carry on the cancer detection clinic which is held each Tuesday night at General hospital. In its first year of operation more than 1 000 persons were examined at the clinic.

Part of the funds will go for an educational program which will be carried on locally and nationally to educate people to early danger signals and use of facilities at hand for detection and treatment of cancer.

Funds also will be sent to the national organization for medical research.

Contributions should be mailed to Paul M. Eliot, treasurer of the Mansfield unit of the American Cancer society, Farmers Bank building.

Youth Wins Scholarship

Richard Van Voorhis, a member of the June graduating class at Senior High school, has been awarded a four-year scholarship at Heidelburg college, Tiffin.

Known as the Charles E. Miller scholarship, it was awarded on the basis of high school grades. "Dick," as he is known to his friends, has been an honor student at high school.

In a letter announcing the award, Terry Wickham, president of the college, said it was one of two such scholarships awarded each year.

Young Van Voorhis has been active in high school affairs and is president of the Richland County Youth Fellowship group. He is the son of Mrs. Jane Shearer, 422 Springmill street.

He plans to enter college in the fall.

Fears Peaches Hit By Frost

EAST LIVERPOOL—(AP)—A below-freezing temperature of 22 degrees that left a heavy frost over the countryside yesterday "didn't do eastern Ohio orchards any good," L. H. Copeland, weather observer, said.

The veteran U. S. weather observer at Millport said last week's weather was too warm and the freeze caught peach orchards ready to bud.

He said apples and early cherries are not very far and would escape damage.

30-Day Jail Term Suspended

Gene Maynard, 25, of 741½ Bowman street, was sentenced to 30 days in jail and ordered to pay costs in municipal court yesterday for assault and battery against his wife, Pearl. The jail sentence was suspended pending Maynard's good behavior.

Irma Jackson, 752 Louis avenue, was fined $25 and costs for malicious destruction of property. She was charged with breaking a door owned by Sylvesta Jacobs, 295 North Main street. The fine was suspended on condition that Miss Jackson pay for the damage.

Tschantz Named to District Air Post

A. Clayton Tschantz, manager of Richland Aviation, Inc., was named a director of the 17th district of the Ohio Aviation Trade association Friday.

The appointment was made at a state meeting of the air group in Columbus.

Attending the meeting with Tschantz were his wife and Mrs. Dean Mitchell.

'Grandma' Gloria Swanson Still Glamorous At Fifty

By GENE HANDSAKER

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) —Gloria Swanson is gonna hate me I told her her age probably would go well down in the story Now I find, through a little research, that tomorrow is her 50th birthday.

That fact belongs right up here at the start because, despite it, the movies' first glamor queen is still pretty glamorous.

She's a grandmother, but as alert as Olga San Juan Her legs —at least as much as I could take sedate journalistic note of as she curled up in an easy chair — are in a class with Grable's.

Nope, Grandma Gloria Swanson isn't on any shelf. She's back here from New York City, where she lives and has her own television show, to do a movie. "Sunset Boulevard" will be about an early day film siren (like Gloria herself) now living in seclusion (not like Gloria.)

I wondered out loud, as we settled down over coffee in her hotel suite, how a woman at the half century mark retains a considerable hunk of glamor

The nose turns up, a little The chin is firm The eyes are blue, the teeth and smile beautiful Her lips and nails are neatly reddened Her bob is graying and wavy—the latest thing from Paris

Gloria has parted from five husbands Will she marry again? She shrugged "If I say 'no,' it's bound to happen I am definitely superstitious"

Her return to Hollywood in 1926 was far noisier than her present one She had made a picture in Paris Adolph Zukor gave a banquet for 750 in her honor in New York Her special train stopped at small towns where schools were dismissed for the occasion Over fan-jammed Los Angeles traffic floated banners, "welcome home, Gloria" At the premiere she took bows but couldn't speak for emotion

Curtain Call

Bob Mitchum Says He Will Settle Down

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Well, Robert Mitchum's had free board and lodging for the last 50 days and enough inches in newsprint to make a real top flight artist green with envy.

The tall boy who thinks he slays 'em with that droopy-eyed, langorous look, says he'll stay home with the wife and kids now

After a workout on the honor ranch for conspiring to posess marijuana, Mitchum vows he's ready to go back to work and be a good boy At the same time Lila Leeds, arrested with Mitchum said about the same thing upon her release

If they mean it, they can both have a good effect on the teenagers who are apt to idolize moviedom's big names Sometimes a lesson is a little painful, but it's better to have it early than too late Too much of Hollywood's fine talent has been wasted and in some cases obliterated by intemperance

It will take a long time for Mitchum to live down the incident and those fools who flock to the movies to see "what a dope fiend looks like" don't help

PLAN SALE WEDNESDAY

TIRO — The Whetstone Evangelical and Reformed church of Whetstone township will hold a community public sale Wednesday at the Whetstone school grounds starting at noon The sale will be for the benefit of the church building fund and the money will be used for the construction of a new basement

GRAND MARSHAL — If those six guns mean that film starlet Patricia Hall is going gunning for someone, it's unlikely she'll have trouble catching her quarry Pat will be grand marshal of the first annual rodeo at Twenty-nine Palms, Cal., April 9 and 10 (International)

Happenings In Hollywood

Actor, Wife Design Home Themselves

By HOWARD C. HEYN

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Don Defore and his family have just moved into a new home in Mandeville canyon. But they feel as if they had lived there for five years

The actor and his wife started designing the house in 1944 They planned every detail themselves, even the type of hand-wrought early American hinges on the kitchen cupboards

It's a red farmhouse with white trim Crowning touch is a bale of hay suspended from the crane arm in the upper window of the red barn

Don, born in Cedar Rapids, is an Iowa farm boy at heart. For added realism he has planted a tiny patch of corn behind the house.

He and Mrs Defore went to a quarry and selected every stone for the fireplaces From wrecking yards they bought huge timbers and had them hand-adzed to size for exposed ceiling beams

Don and his brother built 350 feet of high board fence themselves, in their spare time This took a year

Meanwhile, the Defores were evicted three times from rented quarters

Don helped install the intercommunicating system and laid a little of the linoleum As a student he had worked for a Pasadena linoleum firm after school It was fun, he said, to give the linoleum job to the company which once employed him

All the decorating was done by Mrs Defore or her mother, who made all the, lampshades Instead of a general contractor, Defore hired day laborers and a superintendent. He gave the superintendent an extra 5 per cent to discourage side deals Usually it's a field day for materials suppliers and craftsmen when they see a film star (and his check book) coming.

Good nails, scarce in Los Angeles, were a major problem. Don needed 19 kegs. The supply executive at a studio told the actor he could get them for him at $65 a keg. Don got mad.

He wrote to friends in the middle west, and they shipped him all he needed Top price, $8 a keg Cheapest kegs, $5 each

Even the superintendent was impressed When the house was finished Don had seven kegs left over. The superintendent bought them himself—but not for $65 a keg Not for $5, either

Process Cuts Time

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Processing time says Roy Del Ruth, has been reduced nearly 50 per cent by the use of the new magnetic sound recording film on Del Ruth's present picture, "Red Light."

Developed by Sound Service laboratories in Hollywood, the new film is coated with an iron oxide formula instead of the conventional silver salt This means it can be exposed to daylight, thus shortening the handling time, said Del Ruth.

Non-Support Charge

Roger Pence, 29, of 21 East Arch street, was held in county jail Saturday for a juvenile court hearing on charges of failing to keep up support payments for his two children. He was ordered to pay $10 a week for their support last May 13
